

Society and Clubs

Study Group Hears Talks by 2 Women

Standards of Speech, Girl Leadership Discussed

Should children be allowed to speak baby talk? What shall a mother do when her child begins to imitate the lingo of Walter Winchell and Jack Dempsey? How can correct speech be cultivated in children? These questions were discussed yesterday by Helene Blattner of the speech department before 58 members of the Child Study club. Her talk, on the subject "Principles of speech training for children," followed a luncheon at 12:15 p.m. on the sun porch of Iowa Union.

Broadcasting Influences

Standards of speech and pronunciation being set by the National Broadcasting company will undoubtedly have a great influence on the speech development of the coming generation, Miss Blattner prophesied. In the early days of broadcasting, letters poured in the NBC offices from all parts of the country, objecting to the pronunciation and inflection of announcers who had been trained especially for radio work. Today the letters criticize not adversely, but favorably, indicating that sounds once unpleasant to ears unfamiliar with them, are now being accepted as correct.

Movie Dialog

"The talkies probably play a part in directing a child's speech development," said Miss Blattner. Movie dialog is not always of the best quality, but there, at least, attempts have been made to improve speaking. Motivation is of fundamental importance in teaching the child to speak properly, she believes. If the play element can be incorporated into speech training, speaking will become a game instead of a task. Children who lead thoroughly contented, untroubled lives are apt to lack motivation for developing their speech powers.

Verse Speaking

"Verse speaking" was suggested as a way to stimulate interest in speech cultivation. Promoters of this method base their views on the assumption that American speech lacks rhythm. To be balanced and graceful it must acquire a rhythmic swing such as that found in nursery rhymes and jingles. The child is taught to speak rhythmically by repeating verses like "Hot Cross Buns," or "Ride a Cock Horse." Skipping and marching while speaking these rhymes will heighten the effect. This plan is being used extensively in both England and Germany. It applies not only to children, but to adults, as well. It is peculiarly effective in being adapted to individual needs, cultivating staidness and precision in fast speakers, and careful enunciation in careless speakers.

Association of Objects

Association of objects with words as they are pronounced, and the possibility of more rapid progress by teaching words through use of them in phrases rather than singly, were other suggested devices. "Not too much emphasis can be placed on the importance of releasing tension while speaking," Miss Blattner said. "Undue tension is the cause of many speech difficulties." Baby talk also tends to create difficulties, she stated, although the temptation to use tender phrases with them is doubtless great. As for the "hard boiled" stage of speaking—the wisest thing to do is let the child outgrow it.

Miss Brown Talks

A discussion followed her talk. Ida Mae Born, national Girl Scout instructor, who is giving a two weeks' course in "Girl Scout leadership" in the physical education department also made a brief talk. The Girl Scout organization, she said, can give something really worthwhile to

Strolling Through Fashion Lane

By CELIA GOLDBERG
Society Editor The Daily Iowan

The new and enchanting idea for early evening hours... velled but revealing... bright touches on a bodice, subdued by a subtle over-drapery of chiffon... shoulders covered, but seen... moulded lines, glimpsed through sheer flowing folds.

Were you "frilled" to death last spring? Did all the fur-belows and fussiness of last season bore you to tears? Well, put away your hanky right now. This spring the crisp tailored line is back for morning and early afternoon wear. Fabrics are striped, checked, roughish in texture—clothes are young, clean-cut, without any nonsense, and with great smartness and distinction.

Fashion's "fine feathers" strike a new style note with the "Maple" dress. It is a simple black crepe dress finished with a low cut vest of white peau d'ange (angel's skin) which wraps closely about the figure and snaps in the back.

The Parisienne mam'selle has added the tip purse as the newest wrinkle to her handbag. New pouch and envelope bags of black, brown and green leathers have tiny little matching purses suspended on the outside by a fine gold chain. They hold the small change for tips, and eliminate the hurried search in the bag itself.

If you are the piquant type who can wear a tiny piece of straw or fabric perched at a perilous angle over one ear, then by all means choose one of the new bolero hats.

As their name indicates, they were inspired by the rakish hats of a Spanish dancer. They have little round crowns—a saucer brim and often two large flowers fastened just over the ear to suggest the pompon on a dancer's hat.

Right now that new material which is seen in a few exclusive sport suits, silk jersey, is the smart material for street turbans. It drapes and tucks beautifully, and the latest turban models have tucked bands twined around the edge.

Slatz Randall at Mecca Ball

Engineers to Present Queen at Party, March 18

Slatz Randall and his recording and radio band will play at the Mecca Ball, to be held March 18 at Iowa Union, it was announced yesterday by Robert K. Vierck, E4 of Avoca, chairman of the committee in charge.

The orchestra comes direct from a season at the Hotel Radisson in Minneapolis, where it broadcasted regularly over station KSTP. The orchestra has played in many American hotels, including the Hotel Muehlebach in Kansas City, and also at the Piccadilly hotel in London. Randall and his band played for the Prince of Wales on the S.S. Berengaria when he made a trip to America.

Presentation of the Mecca Queen will take place at the party. The queen will be picked from five candidates, deadlocked in a previous election, next Wednesday by a vote of all engineering students. After her presentation she will reign as the sovereign over the remaining events of Mecca week. The committee in charge is: Robert K. Vierck, E4 of Avoca, chairman; Walter L. Schump, E3 of Iowa City; Carrol F. Phelps, E3 of Iowa City; Ernest G. Nelson, E4 of Red Oak; and Edwin S. Joehn, E3 of Iowa City.

Gamma Theta Phi Holds Initiation

Gamma Theta Phi sorority announces the initiation, yesterday, of Rebecca Kirshenbaum, A1 of Omaha, Neb.; Belle Markovitz, A1 of Iowa City; and Sylvia Koff, A1 of Marshalltown.

The initiation ceremony was followed by a formal dinner at Hotel Jefferson. A bowl of tea roses and tall yellow and green tapers formed the table decorations.

Eastlawn Notes

Eastlawn residents who are spending the week end at their homes are: Hazel Willis, A2 of Galvin, Ill.; Roberta Whittlesey, A2 of Davenport; Elizabeth Rouse, A4 of Rock Island, Ill.; Bernice Macken, A4 of Davenport; and Frances Laughlin, G of Hopkinton.

Louise Phillips, A4 of Charleston, is spending the week end in Victor.

Make This Model at Home

The Daily Iowan's Daily Pattern

Chic Three-Piece Model

Pattern 2298

STEP-BY-STEP INSTRUCTION DIAGRAMS GIVEN WITH THIS PATTERN

By ANNE ADAMS

Colorful and compellingly smart in printed silk or cotton, with contrasting blouse and tie, this model including bolero, skirt and blouse. You will find it exceptionally easy to make... the blouse is sleeveless, the bolero and sleeves are cut in one and there are no intricate seamings. We fashioned the original of beige shantung printed with brown, green and yellow geometric designs. The blouse was beige lawn.

Pattern 2298 may be ordered only in sizes 14 to 20 and 32 to 40. Size 16 requires 2 7-8 yards of 39 inch fabric, 1 1-2 yards contrasting.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred), for each pattern. Write plainly your name, address and style number. BE SURE TO STATE SIZE WANTED. SEND FOR THE SPRING FASHION CATALOG. This beautiful, colorful book offers 32 pages of chic, authentic Anne Adams styles for adults and children. The newest frocks for afternoon, evening and sports wear, exquisite lingerie, attractive house dresses and adorable kiddie models are featured—all personally chosen by Anne Adams and all fashionable, practical and easy and inexpensive to make. PRICE OF CATALOG, FIFTEEN CENTS. CATALOG AND PATTERN TOGETHER, TWENTY-FIVE CENTS. Address all mail and orders to The Daily Iowan Pattern Department, 243 West 17th Street, New York City.

Fraternity to Fete Twelve Initiates at Informal Banquet

Sigma Chi will honor 12 initiates at an informal initiation banquet to be held at 1 o'clock this afternoon at Iowa Union. The new members are: Fred Armstrong, A1 of Des Moines; Robert Bartholomew, A1 of Keokuk; Otto Bjornstad, Jr., P1 of Spencer; Ernest Cassill, A3 of Lenox; Frank Hessel, A3 of Ft. Dodge; Lawrence Ludens, A1 of Morrison, Ill.

Willard Minkel, C3 of Ft. Dodge; Lawrence Parsons, C3 of Ft. Dodge; Lee Stover, A1 of Watertown, S. D.; Robert Stewart, A1 of Des Moines; William Walker, E1 of Keokuk; Randall Whinnery, A3 of Ft. Dodge.

Rufus H. Fitzgerald, director of Iowa Union and the school of fine arts, will preside over a toast program at the banquet. Speakers and subjects will be: Byron O. Meyers, A3 of Clarion, "A word from Alpha Eta"; Mr. Whinnery, "Alpha Eta's pledges"; Prof. Sidney G. Winter of the college of commerce, "The fraternity." Fraternity songs will complete the program.

Woman's Club to Meet Tuesday

The literary department of the Iowa City Woman's club will meet at the home of Mrs. J. F. Kelly, 307 Beldon avenue, Tuesday at 3 p.m.

Mrs. Maude Smith will review Galsworthy's "Maid in Waiting." New officers will be elected at the meeting.

Phi Rho Sigma

Phi Rho Sigma announces the pledging of Vernon W. Peterson, M3 of Manning.

If You Are A Beta - Delt D.U. - Sig Chi or in fact a member of any fraternity or sorority you will be interested to know we have a complete selection of pins—of better quality at lower prices.

Hands and Son

Your Jeweler—Your Friend

W.R.C. Will Hold Meeting Tuesday

Members of the Woman's Relief corps will meet Tuesday at 2 p.m. at the American Legion community building. Mrs. Cassie Johnson will preside at the business meeting. In the absence of President Lola Harmon. Following the business meeting there will be a social hour.

Members of the refreshment committee are: Mrs. Elizabeth Enlow, Mrs. Mary Ellis, Mrs. Clara Fackler, Mrs. Minnie Fairall, Mrs. Margaret Pink, Mrs. Hattie Fackler, Mrs. Alma Foote, Mrs. Bertha Fuiks, Mrs. Leona Fromm, Mrs. Emma Flig, Mrs. Mabel Fitzgerald, Mrs. Nellie Gibson, and Mrs. Carolyn Fryauf.

Pi Kappa Alpha

James Pirie of Ames is a week end guest at the Pi Kappa Alpha house. Allice Fink of Ringsted, and Ouida Parks of Mitchell, S. Dak., will be dinner guests today.

Ensign Will Speak at P.T.A. Meeting

"Keeping up with our children," is the subject to be discussed by Prof. F. C. Ensign of the education and history departments at a meeting of the Iowa City high school Parent-Teacher association Tuesday. The meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

Musical selections will be sung by Mrs. E. P. Kuhl. Refreshments will be served at the close of the evening by a committee consisting of: Mrs. George Marech, chairman, Mrs. W. P. Lemon, Mrs. G. O. Wright, Mrs. L. W. Yetter, and Mrs. R. S. Kirkpatrick.

Mrs. Loveland to Entertain Club

Mrs. T. O. Loveland, 135 Melrose avenue, will entertain members of the Monday club at her home tomorrow.

Currier Notes

Currier residents who are spending the week end at their homes are: Margery Snakenberg, A1 of Sigourney; Amelia Pavlovsky, A4 of Cedar Rapids; Ethel Esterman, A3 of Waterloo.

Helen Kline, A2 of Vinton; Mary Elizabeth Appel, A3 of Muscatine; Imogene Conley, A2 of Muscatine; Ruth Gubser, A1 of Davenport; Carl Hyndman, A1 of Freeport, Ill.; Freda Levens, A1 of Clarence; and Adelaide Swartzendruber, A4 of Kalona.

Eleanor Jackson, G of Waukesha, is spending the week end in Chicago. Irene Kline, A2 of Montezuma, is visiting in Cedar Rapids.

presenting...

Lansdowne

Truly the smart thing is entertaining in one's home! No finer compliment can be given one's guest. We have sterling patterns to match any period of design and a complete service for eight, 76 pieces, in this rich Lansdowne pattern costs only $174.00

Geo. P. Hauser
Jeweler

P.E.O. Groups Elect Officers

Two Chapters Name Delegates to State Convention

Delegates to the state convention, to be held in Council Bluffs May 10 to 12, and officers for the year were elected Friday at two meetings of the P.E.O. sisterhood.

Chapter E met at the home of Mrs. I. W. Leighton, 947 Iowa avenue. The following officers were elected: Mrs. E. K. Mapes, president; Mrs. Carl E. Seashore, vice president; Mrs. Avery B. Lambert, recording secretary; Mrs. Vernon L. Sharp, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Zina Griffin, treasurer; Mrs. Mildred M. Zipp, chaplain, and Mrs. Louis C. Zopf, guard.

Mrs. Mapes was chosen delegate to the convention, and Mrs. Seashore was chosen as alternate.

Chapter HI met at the home of Mrs. Frank L. Mott in Coralville Heights for a 1 o'clock luncheon before the meeting. Mrs. A. D. Ingram assisted Mrs. Mott as hostess.

Officers elected by the chapter were: Beulah Crawford, president; Mrs. L. G. Lawyer, vice president; Mrs. George S. Easton, recording secretary; Mrs. Edward F. Mason, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Simon L. Updegraff, treasurer; Mrs. Wendell S. Dyingner, chaplain, and Mrs. George H. Scanlon, guard.

Miss Crawford was chosen delegate to the convention, and Mrs. Lawyer alternate.

Women's Benefit Group Will Meet

Members of the Woman's Benefit association will have a covered dish supper Tuesday at 6 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Robert Hunter, 316 Myrtle avenue. Margaret Wallen is assistant hostess. Those planning to attend are asked to bring their own table service.

SMART Coiffures

Pay Big DIVIDENDS in APPEARANCES

NESTLE PERMANENTS $5 - $7.50 - $10

COED BEAUTY SHOP

Phone 808 for appointment
128 1/2 East Washington St.

Typewriters For Rent

Every Make Large or Portable Bargains For Sale

ROYAL TYPEWRITER SHOP

122 Iowa Avenue (Next to Daily Iowan)

ENJOY YOUR EVENINGS BY LISTENING TO THE RADIO

Nothing more enjoyable, comfortable, least expensive than evenings spent at home with the new

PHILCO AND MAJESTIC MIDGETS

5-Tube Philco Midget	$39.50
7-Tube Philco Midget	$49.95
9-Tube Philco Midget	$69.50
8-Tube Majestic Midget	$59.50

Spencer's Harmony Hall

Philco and Majestic Radios
15 South Dubuque Street Phone 367

The University Theatre

presents

AS HUSBANDS GO

A New Comedy
by Rachel Crothers

March 8, 9, 10

Natural Science Auditorium

Curtain 8:00 P.M.

Admission: Reserved Seats $1.00
Seats not reserved 50c

Reservations can be made at any time during office hours in Room 10, Hall of Liberal Arts.

All University DINNER DANCE

(Informal)
Friday, March 11th
Iowa Union - Dancing starts at 7 p.m.

Orchestra will be announced at a later date.

$1.80 per couple

Table reservations may be made for any number. Ticket includes dancing and dinner. Limited to 250 couples—Tickets go on sale Tuesday at 8 a. m. at Union.

House Drafts New Bill to Aid Revenue

Treasury O. K.'s Move of Ways, Means Committee

WASHINGTON, March 5 (AP)—The arduous task of drafting a new bill was completed today by a weary house ways and means committee and was followed immediately by treasury approval of the measure.

After two months of searching for sources of revenue, the committee late today added final clauses to legislation calculated to yield $1,096,000,000. The comment of Secretary Mills was "the budget of the fiscal year, 1933, can now be balanced in the sense that there will be no further increase in the public debt after June 30, next."

Before House Tomorrow

The new tax bill probably will be submitted to the house on Monday, consideration is expected to begin Thursday.

The committee went into new fields for the foundation of its revenue raising legislation in determining upon a 2.25 per cent manufacturers sales tax. This provision is expected to affect 140,000 manufacturers and bring $595,000,000 in revenue.

In his statement on the bill, Secretary Mills said the indicated deficit in the fiscal year, 1933, exclusive of statutory debt retirement, was approximately $1,240,000,000. He added the committee proposed to cover this by $1,130,000,000 in new revenue and by reducing expenditures $125,000,000.

Warning From Mills

The successor to Andrew Mellon warned that the balanced budget was still dependent on successful resistance to all increases in expenditures in addition to the actual reduction of $125,000,000.

Acting Chairman Crisp of the committee said the prospective deficit was $1,241,000,000. He explained that congress expected to save $125,000,000 referred to by Secretary Mills and an additional $25,000,000 through legislation planned for the post office department, with the $1,096,000,000 expected from the bill this, he said would leave a $5,000,000 surplus.

Raise Income Tax

The committee raised the income tax and lowered the exemptions to raise an additional $112,000,000. Several hundred thousand who have not been contributing directly to the treasury will dig into their pockets when March 15, 1933 comes around. None of the taxes are retroactive.

The exemptions for single men were reduced from $1,500 to $1,000 and for married men from $3,500 to $2,500.

Individual income tax rates were increased from 1-1/2 to 2 per cent for the first $4,000; from 3 to 4 per cent for the second $4,000, and from 5 to 6 per cent for the next $6,000.

Surplus Rates

The surtax rate is on incomes in excess of $10,000 with one per cent up to $12,000. It then is graduated up to 40 per cent for $100,000.

The corporate income tax was boosted from 12 to 13 per cent and $21,000,000 is expected from the one per cent increase.

A super-tax was placed on estates which will go direct to the treasury along with the levy provided in the new gift tax. They are expected to return a total of $35,000,000.

Estate Tax

The maximum estate tax was increased from 20 to 40 per cent but the maximum gift tax was placed at 30 per cent, a $100,000 exemption being allowed on the latter. The appraisal is to take place 19 months after death.

Places of amusement with admissions of 25 cents and above were assessed a flat 10 per cent designed to produce $90,000,000.

The tax of stock transfers was increased from two to four per cent and is expected to produce $23,000,000. This also will apply to loans of stock used for short selling. No tax was fixed on bond transfers.

WSUI PROGRAM

For Today

6 p.m.—Dinner hour program—
8 p.m.—Vespers, "Our contemporary God," the Rev. Leslie Glenn.
9-9:30 p.m.—Resume of the week's news and late bulletins, The Daily Iowan.

For Tomorrow

9 a.m.—News, markets, weather, music, and daily smile.
11 a.m.—Within the classroom, England and the British empire, Prof. Harry G. Plum.
12 a.m.—Luncheon hour program, Craig Elyson.
2 p.m.—Within the classroom, music of the romantic period, Prof. Philip G. Clapp.
3 p.m.—The book rack, university library.
3:30 p.m.—Illustrated musical chats, Addison Alspach, music department.
3:40 p.m.—Sidelights on astronomy, Prof. Charles C. Wylie.
6 p.m.—Dinner hour program.
7 p.m.—Late news flashes, The Daily Iowan.
8 p.m.—Understanding your child, Iowa child welfare research station.
8:20 p.m.—Musical program, Beatrice Denton.
9 p.m.—Late news flashes, The Daily Iowan.
9:10 p.m.—Speech department.

PERSONALS

Josephine Hui, ex-wife of Wm. H. Hui, is spending the week end in Iowa City with friends.

Mary Louise Felt, C4 of Mason City, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jay H. Kent in Lone Tree this week end.

Prof. Clarence M. Updegraff of the college of law, and Robert E. Neff, administrator of University hospital, returned from Des Moines late Friday evening.

Lena Gatto of Cedar Rapids is visiting for a few days with Rosina Rinella, 7 S. Dubuque street.

Dorothy Kinney, a student at Drake university, is spending the week end with Barbara Lou Pickering, 815 N. Dodge street.

Agnes O'Brien of Windham, was a business caller in Iowa City yesterday.

W. J. Ellis and C. W. Rossman both of Cedar Rapids, spent yesterday in Iowa City.

Lloyd Evans of near Frendale was a business caller in Iowa City yesterday.

Mrs. Everett Curl of Wellman is spending the week end in the city.

Jack Hook left yesterday to spend the week end in Oskaloosa.

Tom Hogan, formerly of Detroit, Mich., and Paul Craven, formerly of Mason City, have moved to Iowa City.

Mrs. M. D. Gardner and Mrs. T. Dell Kelley spent Friday visiting friends in Swisher.

Mrs. Emil Benesh of Cedar Rapids, spent Friday in Iowa City. Her son, Richard, who accompanied her, remained for the week end.

Wilma Harrington, C4 of Downey, is spending the week end at her home.

Mary C. Hogan is spending the week end with her sister in Chicago.

Paul J. Kelleher is spending the week end in Davenport attending the basketball tournament.

Louis Fautsch, L1 of Dubuque, is spending the week end at his home.

Harold Reynolds, L1 of Dubuque, is spending the week end at his home.

William and Richard Hall left yesterday for Denver, Colo. They have been in Iowa City visiting their sister, Lillian Hall, A4 of Denver.

John Lane, J4 of Onawa, is visiting at his home this week end.

Thomas Evans, A2 of Burlington, is spending the week end at the home of his parents.

Mrs. Bernard Weed and son, Edward, of Charter Oak left for their home yesterday after visiting several days at the home of Mrs. Tillie Wilsief, 511 E. Washington street.

Stella Jones of Strawberry Point, was in Iowa City yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Sampson of Omaha, Neb., are visiting at the home of Mrs. Sam Williamson, 513 S. Clinton street.

Coach David MacMillan of the University of Minnesota was a luncheon guest of Prof. and Mrs. Edward F. Mason yesterday at their home, 407 S. Dodge street.

Robert Smith of Chicago left yesterday after visiting friends here.

Mrs. L. A. Kenfrow of Grinnell returned home yesterday after visiting her daughter, Mrs. Allyn Lemme, 20 1-2 S. Clinton street.

Emma and Bessie Stover, 336 S. Clinton street, left yesterday for Des Moines.

Roy Allen, A3 of Jesup, will visit friends in Tipton today.

Myrtle Button, A2 of Waterloo, accompanied Mary Betty Furnish, A3 of Tipton, home for the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. King of Des Moines are week end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Gibbs, 529 S. Lucas street.

Elsa E. Schilling, instructor in modern languages at Central college, Pella, returned home yesterday after attending the modern language teachers' conference here.

Nelle Phelps, a former student at the university, returned to her home in Beaver, Okla., yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Handley and son Bobby all of Hills stopped in Iowa City yesterday on their way to Des Moines.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Gardner of Alton visited their daughter at the University hospital yesterday.

Maureen Bannion, 314 E. Burlington street, spent Friday and Saturday in Davenport attending the parochial schools basketball tournament.

M. F. Neuell of Rock Island joined his wife in Iowa City yesterday for a visit at the William G. Sommerhauser home, 611 E. Market street.

Bess Hayes of Los Angeles, Cal., returned home yesterday after a visit with the O. J. McCollister family, 1813 B street.

Mrs. Donald Slaughter, 225 Iowa avenue, left yesterday for a visit with relatives in Des Moines.

Helen Ness of Davenport arrived in Iowa City yesterday for a visit with Helen and Ruth Jones, 1021 Sheridan avenue.

Jack Graham of Hiteham returned home yesterday after spending two days in Iowa City.

Deane Montgomery, G of Weaver, Minn., spent yesterday in Des Moines.

E. H. Clayton of Villisca left for

SKIPPY—Taxing His Powers of Persuasion

University of Minnesota was a luncheon guest of Prof. and Mrs. Edward F. Mason yesterday at their home, 407 S. Dodge street.

Robert Smith of Chicago left yesterday after visiting friends here.

Mrs. L. A. Kenfrow of Grinnell returned home yesterday after visiting her daughter, Mrs. Allyn Lemme, 20 1-2 S. Clinton street.

Emma and Bessie Stover, 336 S. Clinton street, left yesterday for Des Moines.

Roy Allen, A3 of Jesup, will visit friends in Tipton today.

Myrtle Button, A2 of Waterloo, accompanied Mary Betty Furnish, A3 of Tipton, home for the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. King of Des Moines are week end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Gibbs, 529 S. Lucas street.

Elsa E. Schilling, instructor in modern languages at Central college, Pella, returned home yesterday after attending the modern language teachers' conference here.

Nelle Phelps, a former student at the university, returned to her home in Beaver, Okla., yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Handley and son Bobby all of Hills stopped in Iowa City yesterday on their way to Des Moines.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Gardner of Alton visited their daughter at the University hospital yesterday.

Maureen Bannion, 314 E. Burlington street, spent Friday and Saturday in Davenport attending the parochial schools basketball tournament.

M. F. Neuell of Rock Island joined his wife in Iowa City yesterday for a visit at the William G. Sommerhauser home, 611 E. Market street.

Bess Hayes of Los Angeles, Cal., returned home yesterday after a visit with the O. J. McCollister family, 1813 B street.

Mrs. Donald Slaughter, 225 Iowa avenue, left yesterday for a visit with relatives in Des Moines.

Helen Ness of Davenport arrived in Iowa City yesterday for a visit with Helen and Ruth Jones, 1021 Sheridan avenue.

Jack Graham of Hiteham returned home yesterday after spending two days in Iowa City.

Deane Montgomery, G of Weaver, Minn., spent yesterday in Des Moines.

E. H. Clayton of Villisca left for his home yesterday after receiving treatment at the University hospital.

Robert Smith of Chicago left yesterday after visiting friends here.

Mrs. L. A. Kenfrow of Grinnell returned home yesterday after visiting her daughter, Mrs. Allyn Lemme, 20 1-2 S. Clinton street.

Emma and Bessie Stover, 336 S. Clinton street, left yesterday for Des Moines.

Roy Allen, A3 of Jesup, will visit friends in Tipton today.

Myrtle Button, A2 of Waterloo, accompanied Mary Betty Furnish, A3 of Tipton, home for the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. King of Des Moines are week end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Gibbs, 529 S. Lucas street.

Elsa E. Schilling, instructor in modern languages at Central college, Pella, returned home yesterday after attending the modern language teachers' conference here.

Nelle Phelps, a former student at the university, returned to her home in Beaver, Okla., yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Handley and son Bobby all of Hills stopped in Iowa City yesterday on their way to Des Moines.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Gardner of Alton visited their daughter at the University hospital yesterday.

Maureen Bannion, 314 E. Burlington street, spent Friday and Saturday in Davenport attending the parochial schools basketball tournament.

M. F. Neuell of Rock Island joined his wife in Iowa City yesterday for a visit at the William G. Sommerhauser home, 611 E. Market street.

Bess Hayes of Los Angeles, Cal., returned home yesterday after a visit with the O. J. McCollister family, 1813 B street.

Mrs. Donald Slaughter, 225 Iowa avenue, left yesterday for a visit with relatives in Des Moines.

Helen Ness of Davenport arrived in Iowa City yesterday for a visit with Helen and Ruth Jones, 1021 Sheridan avenue.

Jack Graham of Hiteham returned home yesterday after spending two days in Iowa City.

Deane Montgomery, G of Weaver, Minn., spent yesterday in Des Moines.

E. H. Clayton of Villisca left for

District Court Exonerates 15 of Conspiracy Gives Failure to Locate Principal Witnesses as Reason

FAIRFIELD, March 5 (AP)—Judge E. K. Daugherty of Ottumwa, presiding today in the Jefferson county district court, dismissed conspiracy charges against 15 men involved in seven cases growing out of allegedly misrepresented sales of cattle.

Inability to locate principal witnesses was given as the reason for the dismissal.

Defendants in Cases

Defendants in the cases were John Stever, Harry I. Ball, Tony Ruggles, Charles F. Ball, A. M. Tracey, Abe Wells, Joe Shelton, A. L. Neuhardt, all of Fairfield; Van Baldwin of Eldon, Frank Rhyman of Ottumwa, Purl Armstrong of Libertyville, H. C. Baker and John Carrow of Ottumwa, F. F. Johnson of Stockport, and C. C. Peterson.

The men were charged with conspiracy to defraud by false pretenses. The accusations arose in connection with some cattle dealings, in which it was charged they sold as prime animals culls from western stock yards.

Tried Last Year

John Stever was tried here last year and was adjudged not guilty. A. L. Neuhardt was tried in the Appanoose county court early this year and was acquitted.

Other trials growing out of the Jefferson county dealings today were sent to the Appanoose county district court by Judge Daugherty on a change of venue.

Today's move was taken with the consent of County Attorney Otto J. Eckey.

Twenty-six Jefferson county men originally were charged with conspiracy in connection with the transactions.

Iowa Union Bridge Tournery Scores

With one more round of matches to be played in the inter-Greek bridge tournery, leaders of the six leagues are as follows:

Alpha league, Sigma Pi, 2,372; Kappa Sigma, 1,851; Delta Sigma Pi, 1,831.

Beta league, Psi Omega, 1,972; Phi Beta Delta, 1,699; Chi Kappa Pi, 1,560.

Epsilon league Alpha Sigma Phi, 1,968; Phi Delta Theta, 1,951; Phi Gamma Delta, 1,846.

Zeta league, Sigma Chi, 2,549; Beta Theta Pi, 2,356; Phi Rho Sigma, 2,067.

Gamma league, Gamma Eta Gamma, 2,419; Phi Epsilon Pi, 2,089; Delta Chi, 2,088.

Delta league, Nu Sigma Nu, 2,649; Sigma Phi Epsilon, 2,387; Kappa Kappa Gamma, 2,115.

Teams which have not played six games as scheduled to date, are not considered in the summary.

TODAY'S AVERAGES

Zeta League

Sigma Chi, 2,543.
Beta Theta Pi, 2,356.
Phi Rho Sigma, 2,067.
Delta Upsilon, 1,911.
Phi Kappa Beta, 1,355.
Alpha Xi Delta, 1,150.

Epsilon League

Alpha Sigma Phi, 1,968.
Phi Delta Theta, 1,951.
Delta Gamma, 1,720.
Acacia, 1,584.

Tomorrow's Matches

Alpha League

Sigma Pi vs. Kappa Delta.
Kappa Sigma vs. Phi Beta Pi.
Alpha Chi Omega vs. Delta Sigma Pi.

Beta League

Phi Kappa vs. Sigma Kappa.
Chi Kappa Pi vs. Phi Beta Delta.
Theta Xi vs. Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Teams which are behind in their schedule, and must play off the matches by Wednesday, are: Theta Phi Alpha, Phi Delta Theta, Sigma Kappa, Phi Beta Pi, Zeta Tau Alpha, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Phi Kappa Sigma, Phi Omega Pi, Alpha Kappa Alpha, Delta Delta Delta, Triangle, Alpha Tau Omega, Alpha Kappa Psi.

INDIVIDUAL TOURNERY LEADERS

Gilbert Schantz and Edward Bickley, 7,640.
Frederick Radloff and Kenneth Trickey, 7,279.
Jimmie McCollister and Charles Oblinger, 7,058.
Anne Spensely and Josephine Ball,

Gertrude Heuck and Alice Morgan, 4,984. Yesterday's Scores

Ruth Matson and Charlotte Kanealy, 2,300.
Jimmie McCollister and Charles Oblinger, 2,220.
Gilbert Schantz and Edward Bickley, 2,077.
Dorothy Jane Flute and Lillian Hall, 2,072.
Carl Larsen and Frank Hessel, 1,954.

Gamma Phi Beta

Gamma Phi Beta will initiate nine pledges in a ceremony at the chapter house this morning. The new initiates are: Margaret Farrish, A1 of Wisconsin Rapids, Wis.; Erial Burnside, G of Muscatine; Neva Cox, A4 of Ft. Dodge; Marian Allen, A4 of Sioux City; Thera Hunter, A1 of Des Moines; Virginia Hintz, A1 of New Ulm, Minn.; Cherie McElhiney, A1 of Washington, Ia.; Virginia Hallgren, A1 of Rock Island, Ill.; Ruth Demorest, A2 of Muscatine.

Kappa Delta

Katherine Spain, A3 of Conrad, is spending the week end at Colesburg, Ill. Lillian Anderson, A3 of Waterloo, and Alberta Manahan, A2 of Vinton, visited in Cedar Rapids. Week end guests were Alice Fink and Ouida Parks, both of Cedar Falls; Mildred Goens of Des Moines, formerly a student in the university, and Ruth Lautenbach, '30 of Indianola.

Tacoma Man Dies

DAVENPORT (AP)—J. P. Hatfield of Tacoma died en route to a hospital after he collapsed at a railroad station where he was waiting to take a train to Garner, Iowa.

CEDAR RAPIDS (AP)—Burglars tried to rob a new safe in a refining company office but fled without loot.

LATEST STYLES

—in—

WEDDING RINGS

All new cuttings in platinum or white gold at new low prices.

We can match the engagement perfectly.

FUIKS'

JEWELER AND OPTICIAN

Hand Us Your Films for GOOD Pictures

Make sure of good pictures by bringing your exposed films to us for photo finishing.

Workmen who know their business—methods and equipment recognized as the best—these combine to assure you of the finest results when you bring your exposed films here.

We make splendid enlargements too. Combining art and quality to get the most from your negative.

Henry Louis

Druggist

The Rexall and Kodak Store

124 East College St.

Let The Laundry Do It This Week:

★ Weather conditions will make Monday anything but ideal for wash day.

★ Let the laundry do it this week—Don't take a chance on taking cold.

★

New Process Laundry

PHONE 294

Our Red Cars Go Everywhere

Soft Water Used Exclusively

MARCH 18

The Outstanding Informal Party of the Year Brings You

"SLATZ" RANDALL

and his

BRUNSWICK RECORDING ORCHESTRA

Mecca Ball

FRIDAY, MARCH 18

$1.50

INFORMAL

Changeable Weather Means--

Changeable appetites and changeable appetites mean finicky buyers—

We know this and are very patient and willing to help you in your selection of groceries and meats.

Feel free to ask our clerks or butchers for suggestions and feel confident in their selection.

POHLER'S

Grocery Meats

Dubuque at Iowa Ave.

City High Five Loses Sectional Final 17-13; St. Mary's Drops Final 27-22

Williamsburg Cinches Title by Late Rally

Locals Lose Game at Free Throw Line; Riecke Stars

All Tournament Team Forward - Driscoll, Williamsburg. Forward - Ernsland (Iowa City). Center - O'Donnell, Williamsburg. Guard - Krumbholz, Grant (Cedar Rapids).

MARENGO, March 6—Williamsburg's fourth period rally, which netted them five points while Iowa City high dribblers failed to count, gave the scarlet-clad eagles a 17 to 13 victory in the final round of the sectional tournament here tonight.

Let by Driscoll, a forward who took scoring honors with 10 points, the winners played a tight defensive game, that limited the Little Hawks to long shots for the most part. The losers made only one basket of the set-up variety.

The work of Harold Riecke, losers' big defensive center, was the outstanding feature of the game. Playing his last game for the Red and White, Riecke held O'Donnell, all-tournament center, to one free throw scoring four points on his own account.

Inability to make good on their free throws cost the Iowa City team the game. The losers completed only one gratis shot of 11 attempts. Although he was throttled by Riecke's clever guarding, O'Donnell was the biggest troublemaker for the Little Hawks' offensive thrusts.

The Red and White team made their bid for the game in the third quarter when they overcame a half-time lead of 10 to 8 by dropping in five points while holding Williamsburg to a field goal. Driscoll tied the count on a free throw in the last period and Cook sank the winning basket with two minutes to go.

Si Ernsland, Iowa City all-tournament forward, and Walt Brown ranked second to Riecke, scoring three and four points respectively and playing good defensive ball.

Summary table for Williamsburg vs Iowa City basketball game with columns FG, FT, PF and rows for individual players.

Lucas Signs With Cincinnati Reds; No Terms Announced

TAMPA, Fla., March 5 (AP)—Seven National league teams were assured some first class opposition from last year's eighth place Cincinnati club when Charles Fred Lucas, ace of the Reds' pitching staff, late today signed a one year contract.

White Sox Idle as Cold Hits Texas

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., March 5 (AP)—What is known hereabouts as a "norther" blew through San Antonio last night the temperature fell 35 degrees, and the Chicago White Sox remained in their rooms most of today.

Cornell Wrestlers Lose

MT. VERNON, March 5 (AP)—Iowa State Teachers grapplers, splitting even in eight bouts with Cornell matmen tonight, won by a margin of two falls, 20 to 16, after trailing six points with two matches to go.

Sportively Speaking By Bill Ruedge

Few sport interested people will overlook the opportunity to see Big Bill Tilden in action at the University of Iowa field house Tuesday evening.

Hans Nusslein, his singles' opponent in the exhibition here, is a comparative stranger to the net world.

At the head of the class of sophomore basketball players in the Big Ten stands Howard Moffitt, Iowa's ace.

Johnny Wooden, Purdue's great running guard, now has 133 points with the Chicago contest tomorrow to go.

Capt. Norm Daniels of Michigan, third place winner last year, stands second with 111 points.

The Chicago Cubs started out in their first formal game yesterday to trim the Giants, 6 to 1.

A hard-hitting outfield, Manager "Rajah" Hornsby believes, is the crying need of the Cubs.

Basketball (Continued from page 1)

close in and added two free throws. Robinson put in a one-handed side shot for Minnesota.

Clatusak, whose principal task was to watch Moffitt, counted a basket.

Ties Count A basket by Virgil Licht, Minnesota's high scoring guard, tied the count at 8.

Bennett's free throw began the point-making the second half. Licht sneaked in under the basket to score.

Summary table for basketball games with columns FG, FT, PF and rows for individual players.

Free throws missed: Minnesota 7; Iowa 6. Score at half: Minnesota 10; Iowa 6.

Officials: Schommer (Chicago) and Molony (Notre Dame).

Purdue Whips N. U. 31-17 to Clinch Loop Title

Wooden High Scorer With 15 Counters

Boilmakers to Close Big Ten Season With Chicago

EVANSTON, Ill., March 5 (AP)—Purdue's Boilmakers tonight riveted down their third undisputed Western conference basketball title since 1918, defeating Northwestern, 31 to 17.

Along with the undisputed championships—in 1922, 1930 and 1932—Purdue shared the 1921, 1928, and 1928 titles—easily the best record compiled by any team in the conference.

Purdue, rated as a big favorite at the start of the season, played championship basketball tonight and led by sensational Johnny Wooden, who scored 15 points.

The triumph was Purdue's tenth in 11 games, and even though they should lose unexpectedly to Chicago Monday night, the Boilmakers would still be at the top.

The Chicago Cubs started out in their first formal game yesterday to trim the Giants, 6 to 1.

Badgers Win

MADISON, Wis., March 5 (AP)—Wisconsin won its third conference victory of the season tonight, defeating Indiana 35 to 26.

The Badgers took the lead a few minutes after the game started and never relinquished it.

Thirty-one fouls were called, forcing three Hoosiers and two Badgers from the game in the last half.

Illini Parade

CHICAGO, March 5 (AP)—Outclassing Chicago throughout, Illinois tonight walloped the Maroons, 41 to 20.

Sharpshooters by George Fencil, Red Owens and Bob Kamp hustled the Illini into a 14 to 2 lead early in the first period.

Michigan Wins Over Ohio, Illinois in Track

ANN ARBOR Mich., March 5 (AP)—Michigan ended its preliminary track season unbeaten tonight by outclassing Illinois and Ohio State in a triangular event.

The score was: Michigan 57 1-2; Illinois 36 1-2; Ohio State 30.

The result stamps the Wolverines as one of the favorites for the Big Ten indoor meet at Chicago next Saturday in which they are defending champions.

High School Tournament Results

Waterloo, B Final Dunkerton 33, Hudson 23. Cherokee, A Final Cherokee 34; Primm 18.

Class B Final Alleman 24; White Oak 10. Bedford A Final Clarinda 34; Bedford 19.

Class B Final Diagonal 44; Reeding 22. Marango A Final Williamsburg 17; Iowa City 13.

Class B Final Boone 21; Ankeny 12. Class B Final Boxholm 14; Millford 10.

Class B Final Rose Hill 24; Cedar 21. State Center B Final Albion 27; Dunbar 8.

Class B Final Bonaparte 23; Hedrick 38. Bloomfield A Final Ottumwa 29; Centerville 22.

Class B Final Sewal 27; Troy 22. Reinbeck B Final Wellsburg 38; Geneseo 21.

Class B Final Lehigh 22; Stratford 18. Garner B Final Crystal Lake 27; Reinwick 24.

Class B Final Storm Lake A Final Alta 23; Sac City 6.

Class B Final Mason City A Final Mason City 50; Rockford 28.

Class B Final Council Bluffs A Final Abraham Lincoln of Council Bluffs 27; Thomas Jefferson 23.

Class B Final Waukon 30; Elkader 8. Class B Final Luana 31; Marquette 17.

Class B Final Dexter A Final Dexter 43; DeSoto 24. Manchester A Final Dubuque 32; Independence 23.

AT KEYSTONE Class A Final Washington High (Cedar Rapids) 44; Vinton 25.

Class B Final Blairtown 28; Mount Auburn 13. AT SIOUX CITY Class A Final Central (Sioux City) 23; East (Sioux City) 21 (2 overtime periods).

Class B Final Kalona 30; Sharon Township No. 2, 26. AT GEORGE Class A Final Hawarden 27; Sioux Center 24.

Class B Final Boyden 22; Orange City 20. AT DENISON A Semi-Final Carroll 22; Denison 16.

Class B Final Sluox Center 38; Rock Rapids 25. B Semi-Final Boyden 21; Hull 16.

Class B Final Blencoe 23; Moorhead 11. Danbury 37; Arthur 11.

Chuck Klein Gets Orders to Bunt 'Em

WINTERHAVEN, Fla., March 5 (AP)—Chuck Klein may feel that it will cramp his style to center his batting efforts on bunting, as the Phillies' manager, Burt Shotton, has ordered, but he is willing to obey orders.

Shires Plays First Game With Braves

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 5 (AP)—Arthur (The Great) Shires played his first game as a Brave today and helped his side win a practice game between two lineups of tribal warriors, 3 to 1.

Chicago Grapplers Beat Badgers 19-11

MADISON Wis., March 5 (AP)—Winning five of eight matches the University of Chicago defeated the University of Wisconsin wrestling team, 19 to 11, here this afternoon.

Plan Boxing Tourney

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Boxing association today voted to hold an elimination tournament to select a successor to Bat Battalino as featherweight champion of the world.

St. Ambrose Takes Early Lead to Win

R. Lumsden, Gaulocher Pace Ramblers' Offense

All Tournament Team Forwards Gaulocher (St. Mary's I.C.) Mohr (St. Ambrose) Center Moran (St. Ambrose) Guards R. Lumsden (St. Mary's I.C.) Brockman (Central, Ft. Madison)

DAVENPORT, March 5—Never in the lead but always close behind, St. Mary's of Iowa City lost to St. Ambrose of Davenport by 27 to 22 in the final game of the diocese tournament here tonight.

The triumph gave the Davenport quintet the diocese title for the second straight year.

The high-powered St. Ambrose offense racked up 11 field goals, all of which were counted by Simpson and Moran.

The Davenport five held its margin throughout the third quarter, which ended 19 to 14.

The Davenport five held its margin throughout the third quarter, which ended 19 to 14.

New York U. Wins Team Title in Track

NEW YORK, March 5 (AP)—New York university tonight won the team title of the intercollegiate indoor track and field meet with a total of 31 points.

Ramblers Edge Out Ottumwa Five 27-23

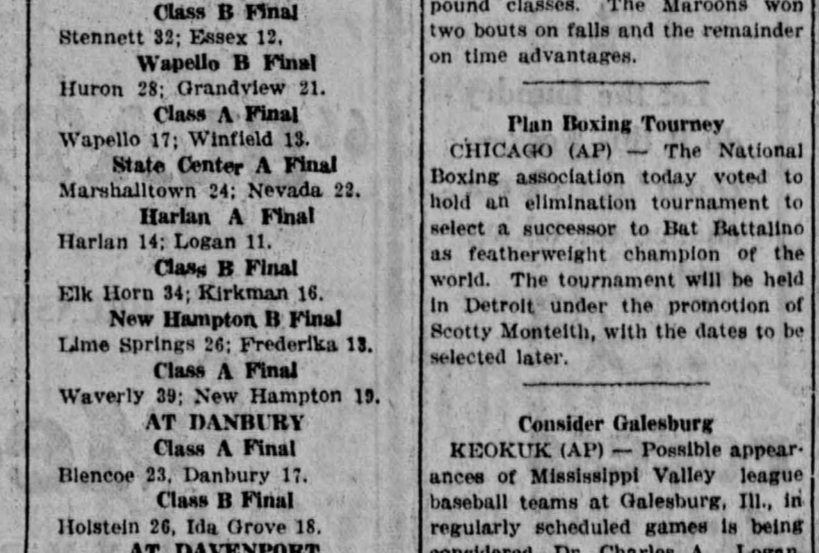

DAVENPORT, March 5—St. Mary's of Iowa City continued its drive for the basketball championship of the Davenport diocese here this afternoon by defeating St. Mary's of Ottumwa 27 to 23 in the semi final round of the tournament.

Don't Miss This March Special Chevrolet Service Offer!

All This for Only $6.50 Chevrolet 6 Cylinder or $4.50 Chevrolet 4 Cylinder

- 1. Grind Valves 2. Clean Carbon 3. Check Timing 4. Adjust Breaker Point Gap. 5. Clean and Adjust Carburetor. 6. Clean and Space Spark Plugs. 7. Reface Valves if Necessary. 8. Clean and Drain Sediment Bulb. 9. Flush Radiator. 10. Water and Test Battery. 11. Check Generator Charging Rate. 12. Road Test to Insure Proper Adjustments.

NALL Chevrolet Co. Inc. 120 E. Burlington Phone 481

Bill Tilden is pictured above in action. He will appear at the University of Iowa field house next Tuesday evening in a full program of doubles and singles matches in competition with noted European champions.

Full Program Completes 2 Day Foreign Language Meet

Prof. Jose A. Balseiro From University of Illinois Opens Program; Eight Speakers, Discussions Wind Up Conference

By AUDREY HUMBLE

A full program yesterday morning concluded the two day conference of the modern foreign language teachers of Iowa which met at Old Capitol for its thirteenth annual conference.

"The Quijote of contemporary Spain: Miguel de Unamuno," was the title of the opening speech given by Prof. Jose A. Balseiro of the University of Illinois. Professor Balseiro told how Unamuno, who is now president of the University of Salamanca, revived the spirit of Don Quijote, preached a "Quijotism" to his fellow-citizens, and emulated his prototype by teaching the gospel of the knight-errant and acting as an adventurer in behalf of the weak and downtrodden, for which he was exiled by the dictator Primo de Rivera. He discussed the books Unamuno published while in exile and their relation to his earlier books from the Quijote point of view.

Kindle Quijotism

"Miguel de Unamuno thinks that Spain will never be strong until it kindles the fire of life in Quijotism," said Professor Balseiro. Unamuno believed Quijote was a defender of the oppressed and a punisher of the bad. Unamuno has been in constant and unflinching protection of Spain for over 30 years. Professor Balseiro, who has heard Unamuno speak, said his speech was unrhymed, but realistic and dramatic.

Pioneer, Dreamer

"Unamuno was a pioneer—a dreamer working on a historical background," declared Professor Balseiro. Unamuno wrote that the agony of his country in its death throes had aroused the agony of Christianity in his soul. Unamuno carried on a crusade for the liberty of Spain.

Culture, Tradition

"American culture and the European tradition," was the subject Prof. Norman Foerster talked on.

Broadly speaking the European lives in the past in terms of memory and tradition, said Professor Foerster. Every people builds upon the past—we don't have any—ours is the European tradition. The physical environment is the only thing we have, declared the speaker. The advance of the frontier has meant a steady growth away from European tradition. The progressing frontier kept its lead and convinced Europe of its optimism.

Young Directs Crothers Play

University Group Gives "As Husbands Go" for March Show

The latest play of Rachel Crothers, "As Husbands Go," will be the March presentation of the University theater, production being scheduled to start Tuesday night and continuing through the two following nights.

Miss Crothers, whose "Let Us Be Gay" was a success when presented here last year, is a modern playwright. This play, filled with the bright and sophisticated repartee for which the author is famous, is of interest to Iowans, since most of the action takes place in a home 10 miles from Dubuque.

"As Husbands Go" is now enjoying one of the longest runs given a play in Chicago in recent years. Its success at the Adelphi theater there has been notable.

The University theater production is under the direction of John Wray Young, the newest member of the theater staff and will be his first production as major director. Mr. Young came to the theater this year from the Sioux City Community theater, succeeding Prof. A. Dale Riley.

The cast is composed largely of university players, who have taken part in the theater's productions during the last few years.

Tickets may be reserved at the speech offices in Room 10, liberal arts building.

Valuable Type

Prof. Erich Funke said, "The American student is a valuable type." He pointed out that the European youth is an unhappy youth, because he doesn't know just how he stands in life. On the other hand, the American youth has an inner quietness and a hopeful aspect of life.

Brief informal talks by local and visiting members of the conference were held on the subject of "The third year course in foreign language."

Prof. Stephen H. Bush, the first speaker, brought out the idea that to read French freely is to open the door to a deeper comprehension of

20 Teams to Play in Badminton Meet

Twenty teams from 10 sorority and dormitory groups will begin play in the women's intramural badminton tournament this week. The first games scheduled are for tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock when Alpha Xi Delta's first team will meet Pi Beta Phi's first, and Alpha Delta Phi's first team will play Zeta Tau Alpha's first.

First team entries in group one are Pi Beta Phi, Alpha Xi Delta, Chi Omega, Alpha Delta Phi, and Zeta Tau Alpha; in group two, Delta Zeta, Kappa Delta, Delta Delta Delta, Currier, and Alpha Chi Omega.

Alpha Delta Phi, Currier, Delta Delta Delta, Delta Zeta, Pi Beta Phi, and Zeta Tau Alpha have entered second teams and Alpha Delta Phi, Delta Delta Delta, Delta Zeta, and Pi Beta Phi, third teams.

4 Sororities Enter Contest

Entrants Will Compete in Ping Pong Meet This Week

Four sororities have turned in the names of their players in the women's intramural ping pong tournament which is scheduled to begin this week.

Delta Zeta entrants are: Mary Griffith, A3 of Elkader; Phoebe Pfeiffer, C3 of Fayette; Eudora Roth, A3 of Wayland; Vivian Kuhl, A3 of Davenport; Eleanor Shaw, A4 of Pocahontas; Evelyn McMeans, A4 of Fredericksburg; Margaret Hulhold, A3 of Kanawha; Grace Anderson, A4 of Ottumwa; Myra Sullivan, A2 of Donahue; Clara Robertson, A4 of Morning Sun.

Kappa Delta entries are: Janet Rae, C4 of Atlantic; Wilma McIntosh, A4 of Wellman; Frances Copeland, A3 of Des Moines; Estela Strohbehn, A3 of Walcott; Una Wallace, J4 of Ft. Dodge; Mary Mulherin, J4 of Iowa City; Helen Fabricius, A4 of Davenport; Thelma Westburg, A3 of Des Moines; Bernadette Zuck, C4 of Cedar Rapids; Lorraine Harrington, A1 of Wyoming; and Alberta Manahan, A2 of Vinton.

Gamma Theta Phi's players are Belle Markovitz, A1 of Iowa City, and Selma Glasie, A1 of Eldora.

Pi Beta Phi teams include: Margaret Crooks, A3 of Boone; Patricia McClure, A3 of Iowa Falls; Elizabeth Fuller, A1 of Mt. Airy; Margaret Jones, A3 of Wellman; Nelle Fordyce, A1 of Iowa City; Elizabeth Summerhill, A1 of Iowa City; Dorothy Ewers, A1 of Iowa City; Ruth Aurner, A1 of Iowa City; Charlotte Kittredge, C3 of Ottumwa; Janet McNeill, A1 of Monticello; Phebe Jamison, A1 of Oelwein; Mary Remley, A2 of Anamosa; Olive Hosman, A3 of Omaha, Neb.; Virginia Lovejoy, A4 of Jefferson; Roberta Proud, A1 of Ottumwa; Katherine Chrysler, A1 of Hartley; Ann Finley, A2 of Oneida, Ill.; Mary Helen Hitch, A4 of Ft. Madison; and Lois Ochs, C4 of Keota.

Reverend Glenn, Cambridge Rector, to Address Vespers

University Orchestra, Chorus to Present Musical Numbers

C. LESLIE GLENN

The Rev. C. Leslie Glenn, rector of Christ church at Cambridge, Mass., will be the guest speaker at the vespers service to be held tonight at 8 o'clock in Iowa Union. The subject of his address will be, "Our contemporary God."

The Rev. Mr. Glenn graduated in 1921 from the Stevens Institute of Technology. A year later he accepted a teaching position at the Lawrenceville seminary at Alexandria, Virginia. In 1926 he became curate at All Saints church in Worcester, Mass. During the next three years he was secretary for college work of the National Council of the Protestant Episcopal church a position which brought him into intimate contact with students and their intimate problems. He was called as rector of Christ church in Cambridge in 1930, where he has continued his work with university students.

Speaker Writes

Various articles by the Rev. Mr. Glenn have appeared in the "Witness," "The Living Church," "The Holy Cross Magazine," "St. Andrews Cross," and "The Spirit of Missions," dealing mainly with some phase of the work of the church with students.

"I regard Mr. Glenn as one of the attractive speakers on the vespers program this year," said Prof. M. Willard Lampe, director of the school of religion. "He is a man of unusual personal charm and speaking ability. He wins the confidence of university audiences, and his messages grow out of understanding of, and sympathy with the problems of today."

McEvoy Chaplain

"There is an evangelistic quality in his preaching," said the Rev. Richard E. McEvoy of Trinity Episcopal church, who went to school with the Rev. Mr. Glenn, "but he appeals to the reasonableness of individuals as well."

The Rev. Mr. McEvoy will be

William Longwell Addresses Forum

Lieut. William E. M. Longwell, E4 of Iowa City, who is one of the students sent here from West Point to study engineering, will speak on "The first principles of knowledge" at the weekly forum to be held in the lounge of the Quadrangle at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

One of the few younger exponents of scholastic philosophy as practiced during the fifteenth century, Lieutenant Longwell believes that the first principle of all knowledge is sensory contact. Using this belief, he will attempt to prove beyond all doubt that there really is a God.

Election Fails to Determine Mecca Queen

Inasmuch as there was no clear majority among five of the 10 candidates for the position a new election to determine the Mecca queen year it will be held Tuesday, March 22. The natural science auditorium was unavailable on the night previously scheduled and on the new date, the show will be held, as always, in the Englert theater.

The play chosen for presentation is "Adam's Apple," a three act farce comedy. Under the direction of Carma Wagner, A4 of Reinbeck, and Robert Berry, A1 of Iowa City, the show is to contain the usual Mecca chorus, trained by Marian Ellis, A3 of Maquoketa, with the assistance of Eldred Fruedenfeld, A1 of Iowa City.

The complete program for the week as rearranged by the executive committee of the A.S.E. follows: Mecca Ball, March 18; exhibition, March 19, 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.; banquet, in Iowa Union, March 21; and the show in the Englert theater, Tuesday, March 22.

The executive committee of the A.S.E. is: Leo J. Aschenbrenner, chairman; Eugene R. Clearman, E3 of Iowa City; David W. Marchant, E4 of Silvis, Ill.; and Harold A. Peterson, E4 of Essex.

Mecca Show Night Changes

Engineers Will Present Play at Englert as Usual

A departure from the traditional arrangement of the events of Mecca week was announced yesterday by Leo J. Aschenbrenner, E4 of Dyars, president of the Associated Students of Engineering.

Although the Mecca show has been held on the Thursday preceding the dance since the inception of the event by the engineers, this

Now Showing Through Tuesday

PASTIME THEATRE

25c BARGAIN MATINEE ON THIS SHOW

This Is One of the Six Best Pictures Picked for January by Mae Tinee

EVERYBODY IS RUSHING TO SEE THE NOVELTY SENSATION OF THE YEAR

BE THERE—IT'S IMPORTANT!

DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS JR.

UNION DEPOT

JOAN BLONDELL
Guy Kibbee

A FIRST NATIONAL & VITAPHONE HIT!

Pathe News | Novelty Reel | A Good Comedy
News | "Stung" | Clean Up on the Curb

—FIRST TIMES—

TODAY Doors Open 1:15 P.M.

ENGLERT

... the two greatest actors in the world appear together on the screen for the first time!

JUST NOTE THE CAST!

Constance BENNETT
in
LADY WITH A PAST

... Beyond all doubt her greatest... surpassing even "BOUGHT" for sheer romantic thrill! Enriched by Hollywood's Vaunted Magic!

BEN LYON
DAVID MANNERS
Directed by EDWARD H. GRIFFITH

Barrymore
Together For the First Time in

Arsene Lupin
—With—
KAREN MORLEY
JOHN MILJAN

—added—
SOUVENIRS
"Ye Old Time Shots"

SHAKE A LEG
"Musical Skit"

WORLD'S LATE NEWS

for the 1932 engineering week will be held again Wednesday, according to an announcement made yesterday by Leo J. Aschenbrenner, chairman of the executive committee of the Associated Students of Engineering.

The greatest turnout of voters for the Mecca queen since installation of Mecca week failed to leave any of the five leading candidates with a clear majority. Chrystal Price, C4 of Grundy Center, and Grace Donovan, A3 of Iowa City, were both tied in the final compilation of ballots for first position, and only five votes separated these two from the fifth ranking candidate.

The election Wednesday will be held again in the offices of the dean of the college of engineering, Aschenbrenner announced, and voting will be in progress from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The candidates who remain in the running for the Mecca crown beside Miss Price and Miss Donovan, are: Polly Thompson, A3 of Joplin, Mo.; Ruth Burnsted, A4 of Webster City, and Marian Frahm, A3 of Davenport.

STRAND THEATRE

NOW!

Bargain Matinee 25c Today Til 6 p.m.

Four Star Highest Critic Rating From Liberty Magazine

SPECIAL in Fox News

"Truth About Shanghai"

New uncensored sound pictures showing actual bombing and burning of Shanghai

"Bad Girl" made them famous—"Dance Team" makes them immortal!

AS HUMAN AS THEY WERE IN "BAD GIRL"

Just as you want them! Loving, squabbling, wise-cracking. And stirring you twice as deeply as ever before!

JAMES DUNN
SALLY EILERS

Dance Team

Story by Sarah Addison
Directed by SIDNEY LANFIELD

FOX Picture

"Slim" Summerville
Daphne Pollard
in
"Sea Soldier's Sweeties"

Use the Want Ads

Graphic Outlines of History
By CHARLES A. BECKMAN

Preston and Boatwain

Although Preston proved an efficient secretary of the navy under President Taylor, he knew few of the details. On a visit to the navy yard at Norfolk, Va., he mistook a boatwain for Commodore Skinner.

Our selection assures that the ceremony will be conducted with thoughtful attention to details and unobtrusive dignity.

Beckman Funeral Home
PROGRESSIVE FUNERAL SERVICE
216 E. COLLEGE ST. TEL. 278

Congregational Church

9:50 A.M.—Student Class

10:45 A.M.—Morning Worship

"Moral Intelligence and Moral Struggle"

Fourth in the series, "The Gospel and Modern Problems"

Music—Mrs. Ellett and Chorus Choir

6:30 P.M.—Young People's Meeting

"How Do We Stand Prosperity?"

Leader, Miss Virginia Nitterauer

PASTIME THEATRE

Coming Wednesday For 5 Days

CONNIE... the supreme... the divine... IN HER GREATEST LOVE STORY

Constance BENNETT
in
LADY WITH A PAST

... Beyond all doubt her greatest... surpassing even "BOUGHT" for sheer romantic thrill! Enriched by Hollywood's Vaunted Magic!

BEN LYON
DAVID MANNERS
Directed by EDWARD H. GRIFFITH

RKO PATHE PICTURE

Use the Want Ads

The Daily Iowan

Published every morning except Monday by Student Publications Incorporated, at 126-130 Iowa avenue, Iowa City, Iowa. Fred M. Fownall, Director.

Board of Trustees: Frank L. Mott, E. M. MacDwen, R. B. Kittredge, Sidney G. Winter, Shirley A. Webster, Bailey C. Webber, Jack R. Voltersten, Alfred W. Sahl, Robert J. Gordon.

Harry S. Bunker, General Manager; William T. Hageboeck, Assistant General Manager.

Entered as second class mail matter at the post office at Iowa City, Iowa, under the act of Congress of March 2, 1879.

Subscription rates—By mail, $5 per year; by carrier, 16 cents weekly, $5 per year.

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

All rights of republication of special dispatches herein are reserved.

EDITORIAL DEPARTMENT: Editor, John W. Henderson; Managing Editor, Frank Jaffe; Assistant News Editor, Fred S. Newson.

BUSINESS DEPARTMENT: Business Manager, Charles L. Johnston; Circulation Manager, Francis O. Wilcox; Accountant, Agnes W. Schmidt.

TELEPHONE 890; Branch exchange connecting all departments.

In the Voters' Hands

PARENTS and citizens of Iowa City will be called upon a week from tomorrow to vote for two new directors to the city school board.

At this time when there is considerable debate about school policies in the way of teacher's salaries and financial upkeep for the schools, there is certainly little pleasure or attraction to be anticipated in serving on the director's board.

Other public salaries are threatened by the economyward trend that looms as a still more characteristic feature of the 1933 Iowa assembly.

As yet, however, school teachers and major officers have been largely exempt—at least from state-wide action.

As with the university, so with the state—salaries should be the last place to seek economy, the first to distribute returned riches if some reduction is found necessary.

It is paradoxical that the same public which expects so much of its public servants is often at the same time to pay proportion to the service demanded.

And the others, the inferior officials, are dear at any price because of the incompetence and corruption that so often goes with low pay positions of public trust.

Low pay is one of the main factors in diverting men of ability and talent—not all of them, but many—from seeking public office.

Politics need not be the degenerate pursuit it so threatens to become. The profession of politician need not become degenerate.

You are a good golfer, Babe, but you are a much better baseball player even if you are 40 years old.

You are a good golfer, Babe, but you are a much better baseball player even if you are 40 years old.

You are a good golfer, Babe, but you are a much better baseball player even if you are 40 years old.

You are a good golfer, Babe, but you are a much better baseball player even if you are 40 years old.

You are a good golfer, Babe, but you are a much better baseball player even if you are 40 years old.

You are a good golfer, Babe, but you are a much better baseball player even if you are 40 years old.

Yankee stadium your home as long as you can still hit them, Babe, for as a golfer you are a mighty good baseball player.

Keep the Camps

THREATENING the continuance of the citizen's military training camps, some members of the house of representatives have pointed out that they cost the government something like two and one-half million dollars a year.

In more prosperous time, many of the 38,000 who chose to attend these summer camps gave up their vacations to do so.

Of course, putting that small army into activity for such a short time would have but a small effect, if any, on the unemployment problem.

Another argument is that if once the camps were disbanded, merely for economy's sake, it is probable they would not be reinstated.

Yet in reducing salaries for the second year of the biennium by as much as the entire appropriation was cut for both years by the 1931 general assembly, the board of education probably made a mental note: one of the last items to suffer, the faculty salaries budget entry should be one of the first to increase as better times fatten state tax sources again.

Other public salaries are threatened by the economyward trend that looms as a still more characteristic feature of the 1933 Iowa assembly.

As yet, however, school teachers and major officers have been largely exempt—at least from state-wide action.

As with the university, so with the state—salaries should be the last place to seek economy, the first to distribute returned riches if some reduction is found necessary.

It is paradoxical that the same public which expects so much of its public servants is often at the same time to pay proportion to the service demanded.

And the others, the inferior officials, are dear at any price because of the incompetence and corruption that so often goes with low pay positions of public trust.

Low pay is one of the main factors in diverting men of ability and talent—not all of them, but many—from seeking public office.

Politics need not be the degenerate pursuit it so threatens to become. The profession of politician need not become degenerate.

You are a good golfer, Babe, but you are a much better baseball player even if you are 40 years old.

You are a good golfer, Babe, but you are a much better baseball player even if you are 40 years old.

You are a good golfer, Babe, but you are a much better baseball player even if you are 40 years old.

You are a good golfer, Babe, but you are a much better baseball player even if you are 40 years old.

You are a good golfer, Babe, but you are a much better baseball player even if you are 40 years old.

You are a good golfer, Babe, but you are a much better baseball player even if you are 40 years old.

You are a good golfer, Babe, but you are a much better baseball player even if you are 40 years old.

You are a good golfer, Babe, but you are a much better baseball player even if you are 40 years old.

OFFICIAL DAILY BULLETIN

All notices for the official daily bulletin must be in the hands of the managing editor of The Daily Iowan by 4 p.m. Items for the university calendar must be reported at the president's office, Old Capitol, as far as possible in advance of the event.

March 6, 1932

University Calendar

- Sunday, March 6: 6:00 p.m. Sigma Delta Chi, Iowa Union; 6:30 p.m. Negro Forum, L. A. Drawing Room; 8:00 p.m. Vesper Service: Rev. Leslie Glenn, Iowa Union.

General Notices

TO ALL STUDENTS WHO EXPECT TO GRADUATE AT THE CLOSE OF THE PRESENT SEMESTER, JUNE 6, 1932

EACH STUDENT WHO EXPECTS TO RECEIVE A DEGREE OR CERTIFICATE, AT THE UNIVERSITY CONVOCATION TO BE HELD JUNE 6, 1932 MUST HAVE MADE HIS FORMAL APPLICATION, ON A CARD PROVIDED FOR THE PURPOSE IN THE REGISTRAR'S OFFICE, IN UNIVERSITY HALL, ON OR BEFORE SATURDAY, MARCH 26, 1932.

It is of the utmost importance that each student concerned comply with this request immediately; for otherwise it is very likely that a student, who may be in other respects qualified, will not be recommended for graduation at the close of the present semester.

English Lutheran Student Association: The Rev. C. A. Jacobs of Tipton will be the speaker at the meeting at the First English Lutheran church, Sunday, March 6 at 8:30 p.m.

Fireside Club: The Fireside club of the Unitarian church will meet Sunday, March 6 at 7 p.m. Sudhindra Bose of the political science department will speak on Gandhi and India.

Zion Lutheran Students' Association: The association will meet at 5:30 p.m. Sunday, March 6. Following the supper there will be a devotional meeting led by Marie Haefner on "Gustavus Adolphus".

Kappa Phi: Members and pledges of Kappa Phi will meet Sunday, March 6 at 2 p.m. on the east steps of Old Capitol to have the Hawkeye picture taken.

Science Service Exhibit: Professor Seashore will exhibit records from the "Great Scientists Series," issued by the Science Service, Monday, March 7, at 7 p.m. in room E 105 East hall.

Sigma Delta Chi: Coach Rollie Williams will speak at the regular Sigma Delta Chi meeting to be held at Iowa Union at 6 p.m. Sunday, March 6.

Ph.D. Reading Examination: The reading examination for Ph.D. candidates will be given March 14, in Room 4 liberal arts, at 5 p.m. Candidates are requested to bring material along line of their major subject.

Stocks Chalk Up New High: NEW YORK, March 5 (AP)—Stocks blossomed out with a fresh crop of advances today and ended the week in a new high average ground for the year.

Utilities Break Through Previous Highs; Rails Gain: NEW YORK, March 5 (AP)—Stocks blossomed out with a fresh crop of advances today and ended the week in a new high average ground for the year.

Former Resident of Iowa City Fined $100 by Justice E. Hughes: Loula Yaints, former resident of Iowa City, was fined $100 and costs yesterday morning when she pleaded guilty to a charge of embezzlement of property purchased under a conditioned sale contract.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT

THE WORD MEMORIAL CONTAINS THE ABBREVIATIONS OF 4 STATES: ALABAMA, MISSOURI, RHODE ISLAND, VERMONT.

A Fish That Prayed—During my stay in Vienna last year my attention was called to most bizarre gravestones in the Jewish cemetery situated at IX Seegasse, in the Austrian capital. It is surmounted by the likeness of a fish, and marks the final resting place of a carp which, before expiring in the frying pan, is said to have started a Viennese hausfrau by exclaiming "Lis-ten (O) Israel," the two Hebrew words of an antemortem prayer. I secured a photograph of the curious monument on the spot and from it drew this cartoon.

Tomorrow: The Greatest Sailing Race in History

THE OLD HOME TOWN

THE JOKERS AT THE BARBER SHOP PICKED OUT A GOOD DAY TO CLIP THAT SHAGGY OLD HORSE OF BOB BOWLERS

Behind the Scenes in Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, Cal.—Down in Georgia they'll be glad to hear that Melvyn Douglas a Macon boy, is progressing nicely toward stardom.

HERE'S GOSSIP: The gambling ships anchored off the California coast have a new wrinkle. They furnish free dinners to guests. The other evening a complete Hollywood wedding party was entertained in this way.

LIFES GREATEST THRILL: Hunt Stromberg, M.G.M. producer, was lying back on a chair in the studio barber shop. An attentive barber was putting lather on the executive's cheeks.

IN FACT THERE'S NO STOPPING IT: The boys all like to kid Jimmy Durante, but mostly he gives as good as he gets.

CHIP OFF THE OLD BLOCK: What a lot of pride John Meehan must feel these days. His 22 year old son, John, Jr., has just written his first script.

Illinois Wrestlers Take Fast Lead to Down Iowa Matmen, 24 1/2 to 7 1/2

Visitors Get Falls in First Three Bouts

Johnson, O'Leary Win Decisions for Hawkeyes

By GENE THORNE
Hocketing into a 15 point lead with falls in the first three matches of the meet, Illinois' wrestling team drubbed Iowa 24 1-2 to 7 1-2 at the field house yesterday afternoon to maintain its unbroken string of victories over the Hawkeyes.

frequently, but the Hawkeye out-spurred Redman in the final minutes, and had him near a fall. Four Illinois grapplers served notice that they are potential Big Ten championship contenders. Joe Paertera handed Capt. Larry Mueller his second defeat in conference circles this year by tossing him with a crotch hold and a further arm lock in 4 minutes and 19 seconds in the 118 pound division. First Conference Defeat Rollo "Shorty" Parmentor, Iowa 126-pounder, lost his first conference match when Bob Emmons, former 135 pound title holder, pinned him with a half nelson and a body scissors in 7 minutes and 15 seconds. Emmet Houghton scored the third Illinois fall by throwing Paul Amlic in the 135 pound class with a crotch hold and half nelson in 7 minutes and 19 seconds. Monroe Glick, Illinois heavy did what two other heavyweights have failed to do, pin Don San Giovanni, and he did it twice in a split period bout. Iowa's First Points Burt Dull collected Iowa's first points in the 145 pound class when he drew with Bud Dowell in an overtime match. Dull had the edge in time advantage, but it was balanced by Dowell's aggressiveness. Iowa got its last three points in the 175 pound class when John O'Leary took an easy decision over Joslin. He had the Illini near a fall, but could not hold him. Tough Match Illinois won its remaining three points in the 165 pound class. Barney Cosneck won a decision over Clarence "Red" Hubbard in a hard fought match. Hubbard was the aggressor throughout but Cosneck was too strong for him, and when behind was content to ride, without trying for a fall. The meet marked the last home appearance of Captain Mueller, Amlic, and Johnson, although they still have the state meet at Ames left on the schedule. Referee: Sec Taylor (Wichita).

Demos Start Campaign in County Soon

Johnson county Democrats started into motion yesterday with the announcement that precinct caucuses will be held Saturday at 7:30 p.m. to elect delegates to the Democratic county convention Dr. W. L. Bywater, chairman of the Democratic county central committee, made the announcement.

The county convention will be held at the Johnson county court house March 19 at 2 p.m. to select delegates to the state convention at Davenport March 29. Delegates for the national convention at Chicago will be selected at the state convention. Democratic caucuses in precincts outside Iowa City will be held in each precinct at the last voting place unless otherwise specified or called by precinct committee chairmen, Dr. Bywater stated.

City wards will meet at the following places and the number of delegates allowed each will be first ward, court room at the court house, 23; second ward, police court chambers at the city hall, 20; third ward, Horace Mann school, 24; fourth ward, council chamber at the city hall, 25; fifth ward, grand jury room at the court house, 21.

High School Tournament Results

Table with 2 columns: School Name and Score/Result. Includes teams like AT STORM LAKE, AT BLOOMFIELD, AT ESTERVILLE, AT GLENWOOD, AT NEW HAMPTON, AT GARNER, AT MANCHESTER, AT KEYSTONE, AT DES MOINES, AT NEWTON, AT FT. DODGE, AT WEST UNION, AT HURLAN, AT MARION, AT COUNCIL BLUFFS, AT DES MOINES, AT TIPTON, AT RED OAK, AT STANNETT.

The Gay Bandit of the Border

By TOM GILL

Bob Harkness, a respected rancher in the Mexican border town of Verdi, is "El Coyote," the masked bandit and bitter enemy of Paco Morales, self-appointed ruler of the border country. "El Coyote's" identity is known only to Ann Reed, an entertainer at a notorious resort. She is in love with him and acts as his spy. "El Coyote" wrecks vengeance on Morales for his unjust treatment of the ranchers. There is a high price on "El Coyote's" head, but all search has proved futile. Bob's foreman and friend, Ted Radcliffe, in love with Adela, the Spaniard's beautiful niece, Jito, Morales' ward, is jealous of Ted. Major Blount of the U. S. Cavalry summons Bob and Ted to his headquarters to hear one of "El Coyote's" lieutenants reveal his identity. Bob goes outside. Two shots ring out. Bob returns and, shortly after, the informer is carried in, mortally wounded. He dies without a word. On the way home, Bob collapses from a wound in his side. Ted realizes the truth. Bob sends for Ann. Against Bob's wishes, Ted calls in Dr. Price and swears him to secrecy. Under Ann's and Ted's care, Bob recovers. He tells Ted that he became "El Coyote" years ago when Morales tried to ruin him. Morales calls on Ann and asks her who the bandit is.

"When you are ready I might even let my niece see with her own eyes what kind of a man she cares for," said Morales.

CHAPTER XLI
Is it true, then, as I have heard, that El Coyote might even destroy this power and wealth of yours? It is conceivable. Why should I deny it? Meanwhile, he hampers me. He annoys me. He has killed some of my young men. And you think I know who he is? I know nothing. I merely ask. At best I trust you may find out. You see, sefiorita, men come here who know many things. And these things men will tell when wine runs through their blood, and a pretty woman smiles in a certain manner and at a certain time. We know that members of the killer's band come here. Perhaps he too comes. Bueno. You are quite beautiful, you know the game of life, and if I myself, who have lived many years, am not insensible to your charm, ought it be difficult to get these desert rats to talk—if you choose? She seemed to consider. At last, "It might be done. Meanwhile, tell me what you know and what you suspect. Tell me everything that may help me. First, is he a Mexican, this Coyote?" "I doubt it. I have fair reason to doubt it." "Do you suspect who he is?" "If I do, sefiorita, those suspicions could not help you greatly." "Where is he most likely to be found?" "The Spaniard shrugged. "He may live out in the foothills and never come into Verdi. He may live in Verdi itself. He may—and here a shadowy smile crept over the man's face—"he may, let us say, be a rancher living somewhere near Verdi." "It was as if a cold hand clutched her heart. "And if he is an American, what will you do?" "I shall have him shot. His nationality—what difference? Certainly I shall never trust him to your slow, unpredictable Yankee justice, where anything might happen." Paco Morales rose and walked the length of the room. "There is one thing more," he added, "and in this, too I shall have need of you. With your beauty it should be an easy thing. There is a man staying with the rancher they call Don Bob. Hardly more than a boy he is, but very strong and very big, and, I regret to say, very attractive to your undiscriminating sex. His name is Señor Radcliffe. My niece, who knows little of men, is, I think, about to love this American. Only the good God knows the way of women. As for me, I should rather see her dead."

world. He is not my choice. I could not die in peace knowing that all my fathers have built up should fall to his gringo hands. His hands twitched as he lighted a cigarette. For a time the girl's eyes seemed to ponder what he had said. She frowned. "When one is so powerful as Paco Morales, what need is there to ask a woman to rid him of a lone man?" Morales nodded. "Si, I, too, had thought of that. At any time within a day I could say the word that would cause Señor Radcliffe to disappear. But that would not kill my niece's love, and it is her love of him I hate—not this miserable boy. I want that she will turn again to the old Spanish ways and to me. I would have her hate him." "And you want him entangled—with me?" Her low voice had grown languid. "Sehorita, you are direct and, as I say, intelligent. I leave you to set the stage. When you are ready I might even let my niece see with her own eyes what kind of man she cares for. It is not a new trap—but effective, no? And so much more subtle than killing." Again he smiled. "Have I not said I, too, am an artist?" "In the meantime"—he reached for his wallet and drew out five one-hundred-dollar bills—"this may make fast our alliance. And remember, this is nothing." He rose and his voice tightened with intensity. "Today an opportunity comes to you, sehorita. Perhaps it comes but once. You have Paco Morales' word that I shall give you twenty times this, and I shall say the word that will open doors to a career you may never have dreamed about. Here on the border I am well served, but at the present moment I have need of you. Do what I ask and you will never regret. They tell me you know the value of silence. It is a golden knowledge." He stood over her, watching the slanting sunlight that poured in through the window and touched her ivory shoulder and blue-black hair. Then, as before, his eyes brightened. For a moment they were the eyes of an artist, looking at some rare and beautiful handwork. He bent down and his straight lips pressed the skin of her shoulder. "Yes, you are very lovely." His hand for a fugitive second rested on her hair. "Serve me and I may have still further gifts to offer you, for I should like to see that lovely body richly clad, and I should like to see you triumphant in this difficult

Cold Waves Raise Prices in Grain Pit

CHICAGO, March 5 (AP)—Bulges in grain prices today marked the onward sweep of a cold wave threatening damage to the United States winter wheat crop. Eastern buying, a further stimulus to wheat upturns, was associated with strength of securities. There were also indications of a better export trade developing in rye, and of decided improvement in general demand for rye flour. Wheat close unsettled, 3-8, 5-8 above yesterday's finish, corn and oats also 3-8, 5-8 up, with rye 8-8, 1-4 advanced, and provisions varying from 5 cents decline to a gain of 2 cents. Provisions held about steady in line with the hog market. Closing indemnities: wheat—May 61, 61-1-8, 62-1-8, 1-4; July 62-3-4, 7-8, 64; Sept. 64-5-8, 65-3-4. Corn—May 40-1-8, 1-4, 40-1-2, 5-8; July 42-3-4, 43-1-4; Sept. 43-7-8, 44, bids. Special Rates on Railroad With spring vacation drawing near, special rates on round-trip vacation tickets were announced yesterday for the Rock Island railroad by E. E. Meacham, local ticket agent. A round trip ticket to any point in Iowa, Illinois, Minnesota, Missouri, and also to Omaha, Neb., on the Rock Island railroad, may be obtained at the local depot for a fare and a half on March 23 or 24. Final time limit of the tickets will be March 29.

READ THESE CLASSIFIED ADS

Table showing Classified Advertising Rates. Columns include No. of Words, Lines, One Day, Two Days, Three Days, Four Days, Five Days, Six Days. Includes sub-sections for Special Notices, Transfer-Storage, Auto Supplies, Dogs, Cats, Other Pets, Heating-Plumbing-Roofing, A BARGAIN, Our Business and Professional Service, Wanted-Laundry, Wanted-Laundry, Male and Female Help, Musical-Radio, Musical and Dancing, Housekeeping Rooms, Female Help Wanted, For Sale Miscellaneous, and a large section for the Business Directory.

Table titled 'Directory of Nationally Known Products and Services and Where to Purchase Them in Iowa City'. Lists various products like Home Appliances (Refrigerators, Washers), Radio Sales & Services (Crosley, Majestic-Ge-Victor), Home Furnishings (Whittall Rugs, Armstrong Linoleums), and Men's Wear (Hart Schaffner & Marx).

BUSINESS DIRECTORY section containing various business listings including BARRY TRANSFER, LOANS, and Real Estate listings.

DIXIE DUGAN—In For It

UNDER THE BURGE OF FUMES FROM THE FAKE "PERFUME" AND GLUE FACTORY NEXT DOOR, DIXIE'S TEA ROOM BUSINESS IS MELTING AWAY LIKE SNOW IN SPRINGTIME.

FAILURE STARES HER IN THE FACE

Church Notices

Baptist
227 S. Clinton
Elmer E. Dierks, pastor. 9:30 a.m., church school. Special missionary program during which Ninkantapillal Perumal will speak to the combined departments on "Stories from India." 10:45 a.m., the morning worship and sermon by the minister on "The man everybody ought to know." Mrs. Harold Burdick and Robert Sage will sing "I Heard the Voice of Jesus Say" by Rathbun. The quartet will sing "The Lord Is My Shepherd" by Koschat. Communion service. 10:45 a.m., the junior church under the direction of W. C. Stuthait. 6:30 p.m., the junior and high school B.Y.P.U. at the church. 6:30 p.m., the Roger Williams club at the student center. 8 p.m., the Baptist congregation joins in the university vesper service at Iowa Union with the Rev. C. Leslie Glenn as the speaker.

Christian
221 Iowa avenue
Casper C. Garrigues, pastor. 9:30 a.m., Bible school. George R. Gay, superintendent. 10:40 a.m., worship and communion with sermon by the minister on "Our debt to Christ." 10:40 a.m., junior church with Mrs. A. J. Page in charge. 10:40 a.m., nursery sponsored by the high school girl's class. 6 p.m., youth fellowship supper hour. 6:30 p.m., Fidelity Christian Endeavor. 6:30 p.m., high school Christian Endeavor sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Leff. 8 p.m., vespers at Iowa Union, Sunday, March 13, pre-Easter, evangelistic meetings begin. Services morning and evening for three Lord's days, also each week night, except Saturdays of the two intervening weeks. Music will be heard under the direction of Hugh Tudor.

Congregational
Clinton and Jefferson
Ira J. Houston, pastor. 9:30 a.m., Sunday school session. 9:50 a.m., adult Bible class and student class. 10:45 a.m., morning worship with sermon by the minister on "Moral intelligence and moral struggle," fourth in the series under the general subject, "The gospel and modern problems." Junior sermon, "I serve." The chorus choir will sing, "God Is a Spirit" by Bennett, and Mrs. Ellett, "The Ballad of the Trees and the Master" by Chadwick. 6:30 p.m., Young Peoples meeting with Virginia Nitterater leading the discussion on "How do we stand pro-

half hour service for students. Thursday, 4:20 p.m., review confirmation class. Thursday, 7:45 p.m., midweek Lenten service. The Rev. Mr. Dyingser will continue the discussion of "The essentials of Christianity."

St. Paul's Lutheran
Jefferson and Gilbert
Julius A. Friedrich pastor. Fourth Sunday in Lent, Leatare. 9:30 a.m., Sunday school. 10:30 a.m., divine service. Text, 1 Cor. 1:23-25. Subject of the sermon, "The offense of the cross." 6 p.m., social luncheon. 7 p.m., Lenten service. Text, John 18:37. Subject of the sermon, "Christ the king." Wednesday, 2 p.m., meeting of the Ladies Aid society in the chapel rooms. Wednesday, 2 p.m., council meeting.

Christian Science
720 E. College
"Man" will be the subject of the lesson sermon. The Golden text is from Daniel 10:19, "Oh man greatly beloved, fear not: for peace be unto thee, be strong, yea, be strong."

Zion Lutheran
Johnson and Bloomington
Arthur C. Proehl, pastor. 9 a.m., Sunday school and junior Bible classes. 9:30 a.m., adult Bible class. 10:30 a.m., the divine service with a sermon by the minister on the subject, "The giver of daily bread." 5:30 p.m., Lutheran Students association luncheon and social hour. 6:30 p.m., Lutheran Students association devotional hour during which Marie Raefner will lead the discussion on "Gustavus Adolphus." Wednesday, 7:30 p.m., Lenten service. The Rev. Mr. Proehl continues the series of special Lenten sermons on the general theme, "Passion portraits."

Methodist
204 E. Jefferson
Harry D. Henry, pastor. Glenn McMichael, student pastor. 9:30 a.m.,

the church school with J. E. Stronks as superintendent. 10:45 a.m., morning worship service with sermon by the minister on "The benefit of discipline." The chorus will sing, "Let Mt. Zion Rejoice" by Herbert. An offertory trio, "Lord Bow Thine Ear" from the "Elijah" by Mendelssohn, will be sung by Ruth Vernon, Kathleen Porter, and Hazel Chapman. 5:30 p.m., Wesley league social hour. 6:30 p.m., Wesley league devotional hour. 6:30 p.m., high school league devotional hour with Jean Carroll speaking on "The meaning of Lent." 8 p.m., university vespers at Iowa Union. Monday, 7:30 p.m., official board meeting at the church. Thursday, 7:30 p.m., the Lenten meditations under the leadership of the Rev. Glenn McMichael. Subject of the address concerns "The church as an instrument for the holy spirit."

Presbyterian
26 E. Market
William P. Lemon, pastor. 9:30 a.m., church school with Prof. E. B. Kurtz as superintendent. 9:30 a.m., men's forum. 10:45 a.m., primary and beginners departments of the church school. 10:45 a.m., morning worship and sermon by the minister "About certain parents and children." 4:30 p.m., the Westminster Guild Circle will meet at the home of Mary Eleanor Johnston, 524 Iowa avenue, for a discussion of the subject, "Borneo." 5:30 p.m., the Westminster fellowship hour and supper. 6:30 p.m., vesper, at which time a pageant of petitions "The Golden Chain" will be presented. The service will be under the leadership of Helen Tupper.

St. Patrick's
224 E. Court
Msgr. William P. Shannahan pastor. Assistants: Rev. T. J. Lew and Rev. G. A. Lillis. First mass, 7 a.m., children's mass, 8 a.m.; student's mass, 9 a.m.; high mass, 10:30 a.m.; vespers and benediction, 2:30 p.m.

Treasurer Receives $2,611 in Gas Tax
Receipt of $2,611.72, gas tax revenue, for January was announced yesterday by County Treasurer Charles L. Berry. The money will be placed in the secondary road construction fund. Gas tax receipts have been falling off, Mr. Berry said. For the month of December the county received $3,264.64; for November, $3,808.75; for October, $4,069.92. In January, 1931, the gas tax receipts were $3,539.11.

Issue Marriage Licenses
Marriage licenses were issued yesterday to Palmer Peterson of Iowa City, and Helen Bolmgren of Minneapolis, Minn.; Omar Swartzendruber of Iowa county and Sarah Brenneman of Johnson county; Floyd J. Smith of Johnson county, and Agnes G. Kametz of Polk county.

Apply for License
Application for marriage license was filed yesterday by De Ver Colson and Olive LeVack, both of Johnson county.

SH-H-H!

I can't tell you what it is—but the Jackson Electric company has a startling announcement to make. Watch this paper for it next week.

Wicks' Specials
MONDAY AND TUESDAY

Crackers	Hawkeye or Excell	2 LB. BOX	17c
Brooms	Little Beauty		65c
Lye	"R" Brand	3 CANS	22c
Gold Dust	Cleanser	2 FOR	11c
Pork and Beans	2 1/2 Size	2 CANS	19c
Gelatine Powder	Jack Spratt	3 PKGS.	14c
Green Beans	Cut No. 2 Size	3 CANS	28c
Salt	Iodized 2 lb. Tube	EACH	6c

WICKS' KASH and KARRY
Formerly Glassman Grocery
116 South Dubuque St.

Order Your Coal Tomorrow and Save Your Lawns

WICKS' KASH and KARRY
Formerly Glassman Grocery
116 South Dubuque St.

NOTICE!

From this date until further notice we are reducing the prices of our dairy products to—

Griffith's Milk
The IDEAL food for all—
YOU YOU YOU AND YOU

DRINK IT/BE HAPPILY SURPRISED

IT'S FRESH AND SWEET AND PASTEURIZED

Milk . . . 10c Per Qt.
Milk . . . 6c Per Pt.
Coffee Cream . 13c (Per 1/2 Pt.)
Whipping Cream 20c (Per 1/2 Pt.)

GRIFFITH'S DAIRY
Phone 11-F-3 or Tell the Driver

New 1932 Prices

Great REDUCTIONS

get your share!

Living Room Suites

Not built down to a price, but quality at a price. Three-piece suite—
100% Angora Mohair all over. Beautiful reverse cushions; full hand tailored Seng web bottom; finest of felted cotton and moss filling; davenport, choice of either lounge chair; ottoman to match; built in our own shop $59.75
Wool Mohair Suite, two pieces, only $49.75

Buy by comparison. If on the same day you can buy an article you purchase from us for less money, we'll refund the difference.

Card Tables $1.00	32-Piece Dinner Set $3.98
End Tables 98c	5-Piece Mixing Bowl Green Glass Set 98c
Magazine Baskets 98c	15-Piece Green Glass Kitchen Set at $1.29
Shadow Lamps 98c	Boudoir Chairs $4.98
Pull-up Chairs $3.98

McNamara Furniture Co.
Across from Postoffice

You Too Can Have Toast and Waffles Without—Muss and Fuss

This One Slice TOASTMASTER ONLY
$12.50
On Convenient Terms Other Toasters As Low As $3.50

TOASTING bread with a Toastmaster amounts to simply pressing a lever. There is no watching—no turning—no burning at all. Current turns off automatically when toast is done. Finish is of chromium.

The WAFFLE-MASTER Shown Here Only
$14.50
On Convenient Terms Other Waffle Irons As Low As $6.95

A SIGNAL light on the Waffle-Master tells when to pour in the batter. When waffle is done, the current automatically cuts down to "low" heat. All you do is set a lever and forget it. Finish is of chromium. See it tomorrow.

Labor Saving Home Appliances Are Displayed At All Appliance Dealers Stores

Iowa Light & Power Company
A UNITED LIGHT PROPERTY
Phone 121

Phone 1

This cold wave may be the last, so let our dual-wheeled trucks bring you enough GOOD COAL to last you til the first of May—

You Will Need Fire for 60 Days

Your Lawns and Driveways Will be Frozen Enough to Prevent the Trucks From Leaving Ruts.

Order Tomorrow—It May Not be This Cold Again Til Next Winter.

DANE Coal Co.
Phone 1
"It will pay you to buy in two ton lots."

McEvoy and J. H. Striebel

yesterday by County Treasurer Charles L. Berry. The money will be placed in the secondary road construction fund. Gas tax receipts have been falling off, Mr. Berry said. For the tax revenue announced

Specials

- 2 L.B. BOX 17c
- Little Beauty 65c
- 3 CANS 22c
- 2 FOR 11c
- 2 CANS 19c
- 3 PKGS. 14c
- 3 CANS 28c
- EACH 6c

WICKS' and KARRY

Glassman Grocery South Dubuque St.

You Too

Fast and Waffles

Muss and Fuss

This One Slice TOASTMASTER ONLY $12.50 On Convenient Terms Other Toasters As Low As $3.50

G bread with a Toastmaster is to simply pressing a lever. No watching—no turning—no all. Current turns off auto-when toast is done. Finish in.

The WAFFLE-MASTER Shown Here Only $14.50 On Convenient Terms Other Waffle Irons As Low As $6.95

Light on the Waffle-Master when to pour in the batter. When done, the current auto-puts down to "low" heat. All at a lever and forget it. Finish in. See it tomorrow.

Saving Home Appliances Displayed At All Appliance Dealers Stores

Power Company

ED LIGHT PROPERTY

Phone 121

month of December the county received $3,264.64; for November, $3,808.75; for October, $4,069.92. In January, 1931, the gas tax receipts were $3,539.11.

Issue Marriage Licenses

Marriage licenses were issued yesterday to Palmer Peterson of Iowa City, and Helen Bolmgren of Minneapolis, Minn.; Omar Swartzendruber of Iowa county and Sarah Brenneman of Johnson county; Floyd J. Smith of Johnson county, and Agnes G. Kametz of Polk county.

Apply for License

Application for marriage license was filed yesterday by De Ver Colson and Olive LeVack, both of Johnson county.

SH - H - H!

I can't tell you what it is —but the Jackson Electric company has a startling announcement to make. Watch this paper for it next week.

Order Your Coal Tomorrow and Save Your Lawns

Phone 1

This cold wave may be the last, so let our dual-wheeled trucks bring you enough GOOD COAL to last you til the first of May—

You Will Need Fire for 60 Days

Your Lawns and Driveways Will be Frozen Enough to Prevent the Trucks From Leaving Ruts.

Order Tomorrow—It May Not be This Cold Again Til Next Winter.

DANE Coal Co.

Phone 1

"It will pay you to buy in two ton lots."

MAGAZINE SECTION

The Daily Iowan

IOWA CITY, IOWA. SUNDAY, MARCH 6, 1932

The Green Pool

By Jack Gurwell

JOHN Harvey stumbled as he slid down the bank to the boat landing that extended over the river. Before he could catch himself he was almost into the muddy brown current swirling about the dock piles. Hastily he scrambled up, brushing himself. John had no love for the river; he knew its power was largely concealed. As he cautiously picked his way along the broken dock to his little boat, tied to a pile, the afternoon breeze swept up from the power dam a faint, subdued roar. John shuddered with distaste. Once he had viewed a blue and broken body the falls had beaten into a shapeless mass.

"That's what a fellow gets if he doesn't watch his step," muttered John as he stooped to untie the boat and climb into its tipsy smallness. From beneath the dock he extracted two splintery oars, fitting them into the oarlocks after first shoving well into the stream. Presently he was far out on the river, rowing awkwardly in the general direction of the island. He experienced the usual difficulty steering the boat, more so today than ever, for eddies and whirlpools continually pulled and twisted until his back was tired and his arms ached with a willingness to quit. So he stopped rowing and leaned back to rest, letting the oars slump into the stream, held only by the oarlocks. The cool afternoon up-river breeze tempered the sun's hot glare, and the wetness of his sweat-streaked face vanished.

Unaffected by the jerking action of John Harvey's rowing, the boat bobbed along more steadily, and soon John lost some of his dislike for the river. The closeness of the muddy current, eddying by his side, was not so frightening, and he allowed a hand to trail in the small whirls sliding by. He noticed they were brownish as they surged to the surface, only to swirl into an ever widening yellow flatness, then they disappeared. Their places were instantly taken by other whirls that twisted and spread out, only to vanish.

John was fascinated. He likened it to life. We come, live, then die and are gone, instantly to be replaced by others. He sighed as the thought struck him that he was perhaps as important to this world as the little whirlpool to the mile upon mile of winding river. He knew this to be his reason for rowing to the island in the river, rowing there to take his own life. This did not startle him, that he could so definitely decide, and in deciding, force all bitterness aside, and all pangs of self pity.

DEATH was the same anywhere: At least he could choose where and how he would end it all. He had calmly chosen the green pool because it was away from the bank and the village, away from the too apparent inevitability of his existence. After all, it was the only way to free himself from a thing bigger than he was able to cope with. Death in the green pool on the island was all he could hope for—where it was quiet, and cool, and peaceful.

Then John raised his head, startled by the widening expanse of turbulent river between himself and the small dock. He could make out the worn path, a white line over the hill hiding the village from the stream. Barely visible were the tops of the huge cottonwoods shading the short length of main street. "All my life," thought John, "that shadow has been a protection to me." His shoulders hunched slightly. He knew the quiet coolness had been an anchor, a sinister anchor killing all ambition and hope for a successful future in a larger place. His had been a life of existing in a stagnant hole like that. His one try for escape a failure, sending him across the river for the last time to the quietness of the little green pool on the island.

John visualized the town's outcry at his disappearance; it would be a break in the monotony. He wondered what old Churl would say when he failed to appear for the bank examination. Then they could not help knowing. Mary would be the one most hurt — she whom he wished to hurt the least. Perhaps she would pack up and leave town. Probably not; she was too brave. Thank God, she was provided for, his life insurance took care of that. He wondered . . .

A sharp lurch caused him quickly to grasp the sides of the boat. John Harvey steadied himself as all thoughts of the village left him. He was startled to find that the boat had drifted downstream and that the faint rumbling of the fall had increased alarmingly. Now it was loud and ominous. Hurriedly he snatched the oars to start again his awkward rowing. He wasn't panic stricken, but just frightened at the prospect of being so close to the falls. Only when he flung a hurried look downstream did he begin to doubt. The quick glance revealed to him the eddies and the dirty foam shelving into smoothness to drop from sight over the dam, leaving blue space.

TO John Harvey that space was death. Desperately he dug the oars into the brown, tenacious current — plunged them too deep, for the boat whirled upstream, and John saw both safety and death. Safety, 60 yards to the shore; death, 60 yards straight ahead and over the dam. But not the death for him. To be the torn, battered, pulp of the man he so clearly visualized! John Harvey sought safety, but the desperate jerks seemed only to help towards destruction.

Then came over him a calm, clear, coolness that sometimes comes to those to whom quickness is very life. It analyzed the situation and presented a way. John's mind cleared. The digs in the current were only wasted. To make the cat-walk jutting out from the shore and over the brink of the dam, he must row cautiously but strongly. He did. The proximity of the now thundering roar unnerved his very soul, but unswervingly he held his course to the shore and safety. The distance was short, he knew, either to safety or to death, and he dared not look at its closeness.

He seemed to be rushing into the thunder of the water, and he employed his every effort in heading the boat landward. Behind him was safety in the slender steel of the cat-walk. He made to make it. God knew he didn't deserve safety; neither did he deserve this death. To be snuffed out like a candle flame in a vagrant breeze! This was not as he had planned to die. The roar became now an unreal entity reaching to engulf him.

John Harvey opened wide his eyes and flung a horror stricken gaze downward. He hung over a boiling, seething cauldron of water that leaped at him, clutched for him. He closed his eyes as his strength welled for one last agonizing, terror stricken pull of the oars—one last try for a desperate escape from mutilating oblivion. Then his strength deserted him.

JOHN Harvey unsteadily dragged his spent body up the iron steps of the catwalk over the dam. God, he was tired. The battle had sapped the strength that had beaten it. He shuddered to think of the racing, deadly grasp of the river and he thanked his Maker for the sheerest of luck enabling the last frenzied pull at the oars to slide him to safety behind the steel frame of the catwalk. Wearily he sprawled on the short beach with eyes closed, trying to shut out the closeness of his escape. But into his ears poured the rising and falling crescendo of the boiling vortex. He stole himself at the thought of going into that.

Then the queer irony of the thing struck him with sudden force. The frenzied battle to escape death had only preserved him for another death. The spark could be more quickly extinguished by this swift current than by the quiet pool in the woods. But he did not want to die in the river. Must he always be so drawn with the current that he could not force his own way? Could he not do something of his own choosing? Perhaps to remove the stigma of suicide, he should have gone down in the river. The villagers had warned him time and again, never to row close to the falls. That was not what he wanted. He had wanted a death of his own choosing. At least he had one set purpose in this world, to die as he chose.

Thoughts such as these put new life into his veins, and soon John rose to his feet. He felt better after the rest and the late afternoon breeze had swept clear his brain. Quickly he turned from the river, a few steps carrying him across the small beach and into the cool path that made its way through the green foliage of the woods. Here the sun shone not so hot and the rumble of the falls faded, then vanished as he strode along the path.

This was more to his liking, this coolness. But the soft fluttering of the birds and the damp greenness of the woods could not quiet the exultant beating of his heart, elated that his hard fought victory had presented a new angle of himself to himself. He knew that in saving himself from the river he had salvaged from a too weak soul an untried, hidden quality that could arise on occasion for a lasting effort. It mattered not that it was only a gesture, an ironic gesture. It had proved to his inner satisfaction that he could defeat the forces of nature to carry on as he had planned. . .

JOHN Harvey had walked swiftly as these thoughts turned through his mind, and before he knew it he had stepped from the path into a small clearing about which were scattered young elm trees, and in the center, a quiet green pool. Leisurely he crossed the clearing, throwing back his shoulders, inhaling deep breaths of pungent air. It was here he realized the freeing of his soul caged by the enveloping bareness of the bank, the closeness of the small town. That he should appropriate funds to escape this seemed futile, now he had tried and failed.

(Continued on page 4)

Book Reviews

Edited by Harriet I. Mahnke

MARY'S NECK by BOOTH TARKINGTON; Doubleday Doran, $2.50. February book of the month. Reviewed by ROLAND WHITE.

To begin with, it's an imposition on the dear public to call this book a novel. Just TRY to find a death (even a murder), a birth (even legitimate), a wedding (even a preliminary closeup), or a divorce (even a lawyer!). . . You can't. And what's left to write about? For Art, precious little. For Booth Tarkington, something after the manner of his old friend Harry Leon Wilson, enough to make a three ring circus out of a New England summer resort, with beach sand for sawdust and no end of clown material.

Performances vary from mild satire to amiable slapstick almost on the Mack Sennett level. Take those of pudgy Gardener Ananias Prish Sweetmus, holder of outdoor and indoor records for talking at great length on limited subject matter until Dr. Gilmerding comes along with his nonstop flight of polysyllables on ceramics of the Ogilluwayas. Or of Eddie Bullfinch, who's grown too fast for his intellect or manners to keep up, and who breaks etiquet or furniture with equal nonchalance. Or of 9 year old Paulie Timberlake, a fleeting flashback to Penrod tales. Or of Mr. Carmichael, worried about his 5 year old daughter growing up into a world of such lawlessness and (hic!) pro'bishun. Or of Madam Parka, eccentric prima donna, used to kissing six dogs on emerging from the ocean, going herself one better by kissing, without invitation, a bulldoggish human.

A lot of acts like that strung together don't make much of a plot, although through it all you have the adjustment of an Illinois family to its new summer home to give continuity. A lesser flaw is the use, by Mr. Tarkington, who is a midlander and should know better, of the spellings "cheque" and "practise" as coming from Mr. Massey, narrator of the happenings. More important is that the president of the Logansville Light and Power Company now and then lapses into a refined dialog nearly worthy of a novelist.

But let the slips fall where they may, tricky Tarkington will search out rib crevices and foot-sole weak spots with deft fingers and rabbit's foot technique until you swear he's given you the best mental tickle-down you've had in ages.

WILD RYE by MURIEL HINE; Appleton, $2.00.

A novel of Victorian days very modern in treatment and style makes "Wild Rye" an interesting and entertaining novel. Certainly the time was not 1932, but some of the situations are certainly not Victorian.

On her mother's death Jenny's father sent her to live with her grandmother. Jenny's maiden aunt didn't approve of this and did her best to make the girl's life unpleasant. But Mrs. Dale loved the girl because she saw in her a reflection of her daughter who had been banished by her father on her marriage.

Of all the persons whom Jenny met she liked Susannah best. Susannah was Dr. Ryott's daughter and had all that man's brilliancy of mind, and no very good way to expend it. So Susannah worked hard for women's suffrage; rode a bicycle; and wore peculiar clothes—all of which caused much gossip in the small English town. But she and Jenny were good friends, and it was she who told the younger girl the "facts of life."

At the first ball that Jenny attended she met Thad Ryott, who had been living in Paris. Jenny was much interested in him for there had been a great deal of gossip about him in the village. And he was interested in Jenny because she was young, and lovely, and eager.

Thad went away to sunny Spain to roam and to paint. When his father died he couldn't be located. But as soon as he heard he came and Jenny came upon him one day in the woods.

They were in love and wanted to marry immediately. But the rigors of the Victorian social code would permit no such procedure. They were to wait one long year.

But Thad could not wait. Jenny could not resist him. And then in the very last pages of the book, poor Jenny is cheated of her love and venture had ended unhappily.

You'll feel sorry for Jenny; you'll like her too. She's a lovable, real woman who, though she lived in an era much different from ours, is nevertheless much like us.

For those who would intelligently follow the course of daily developments in Pacific waters Morse's and McNair's "Far Eastern International Relations" and Latourette's "Developments of China" are recommended. Another book of timely interest is "The Martial Spirit" by Walter Millis, which dissects the causes which took us into the war with Spain. Houghton and Mifflin are publishers of the three books.

In "The United States in World Affairs" Walter Lippmann interprets the dramatic events of last year and shows their inevitable sequence. He analyzes the evolutions of the prevailing American views of the depression, showing how it was first regarded as a temporary and isolated phenomenon and eventually came to be viewed as a result of major economic maladjustments whose causes lay outside the United States and whose remedy called for international action. The book traces the effects of this broader conception and shows how it brought about a new attitude at Washington toward international cooperation. Harpers are the publishers.

"Mozart" by Marcia Davenport, the daughter of Alma Gluck, is the first American biography of that genius. It contains much new material, which completely changes the character of Mozart's life. It was published March 1 by Scribner's. The Book of the Month club will distribute the book as one of its book dividends.

S. S. Van Dine's interest in dogs will be reflected in his next book, "The Kennel Murder Case," to be published by Scribner's sometime during this year. Author Van Dine's 18 months old Scottish terrier, Heather Reveller of Sparon, has won five championships in this country and on the other side of the Atlantic has won three consecutive shows and was declared the best of all breeds at Edinburgh.

With the publication Feb. 27 of "Years of Tumult: The World Since 1918" by James H. Powers, the sequence of world events leading from the treaty of Versailles to the present crisis is for the first time presented as a single, directed story. Mr. Powers, foreign editor of the Boston Globe, has given more than 400 broadcasts on foreign affairs. In this book he penetrates beyond 14 years of headlines to present the facts of current history.

"After all, war's bad enough with pepper," he remarked between noisy sips, "but war without pepper — it's — it's bloody awful!" —R. C. Sheriff.

Extreme busyness is a symptom of deficient vitality. —Robert Louis Stevenson.

He was tired, like a man who has been in love for a long time with some woman he cannot get. —Sherwood Anderson

Campus Jogs

By Virginia Maxson

THE "most popular man" at the University of Nebraska will be presented at a Leap Year party sponsored by Mortar Board. Protests, it is understood, are issuing from male quarters. Just wait until there is a Leap Year bathing beauty contest for Mr. 1932.

WASHING dogs may seem like an undignified job for a college sophomore but a second-year man at Yale is working his way through school by doing that very thing. Wonder if he scrubs them in the Yale bowl.

AFTER Jimmy Phelan, grid coach at the University of Washington, took a 20 per cent voluntary salary cut, he was getting $12,000—the same as President M. Lyle Spencer. Imagine Jimmy's embarrassment—having to come down to Prexy's level.

AND now collegians have gone in for "racketeering." After the recent post office bomb incident at Easton, Pa., a Lafayette university professor found a package on his doorstep one morning. It ticked. Suspecting that the unwarranted donation was a bomb, he frantically telephoned the police who soon arrived with buckets of water, grappling hooks, and long range shotguns by which to maneuver the dangerous parcel. After successfully plunging the "bomb" in a bucket of water, they found that it was composed of one and one-half alarm clocks, two tubes of tooth paste, and a pencil.

"RESOLVED that it is better to be drunk than in love" was the topic of a formal debate at McGill university recently. Well, according to authorities, both are forms of intoxication, but probably the hangover from the latter lasts longer.

STUDENTS at Milton college who participate in extra-curricular activities will now receive credit, according to a plan recently formulated. At that rate, fraternity and sorority pledges should get their degrees in three years.

A NATIVE German coed at Temple college acknowledged that the first time she saw the players at a football game huddled together, she thought they were offering a prayer in union.

WHEN six students at the University of Denver attempted to make a splash in their classes by wearing bathing suits to lectures, they suddenly found themselves out of the swim. They were suspended by the school authorities.

HORSEBACK riding is all the rage at Ohio Northern. One hundred coeds have joined a riding club and plan to have moonlight parties as soon as they can manipulate the reins dexterously enough. Wonder if the college provides standing room in classes for beginners at the art.

IT sounds fishy but it may be true. Pledges of a goldfish club at Roanoke college must each swallow one live goldfish during the initiation ceremony.

THE Daily Northwestern heralded the installation of 12 new typewriters in its office with the following statement: "The new mechanical news makers replaced machines that should have had their faces lifted and their chasses overhauled years ago. They dated back to the Rhodesian man and one of the glaciers. They produced work so blurred that only scandal stories were really legible."

"... if people are happy, there is no need of religion." —Claire Spencer.

What Is Your Opinion

Pi Epsilon Pi Again Means PEP at Iowa

To the Editor:

Of late much criticism has been directed toward the organization which is primarily responsible for Iowa spirit on the campus—Pi Epsilon Pi. That much of that criticism was justified cannot be denied.

Lack of capable leadership, plus a lack of cooperation on the part of the groups from which this organization draws its membership has brought about the static condition within this club that has existed until the present time. However, the finger of criticism should be directed, not at the men who are interested members of the organization, but at those who stay in the background never willing to lend a helping hand in a never-say-die spirit.

But, within the last week or two interested people became a little more optimistic about the future of Pi Epsilon Pi. Recall last Saturday night's "slow-motion" fisticuff between halves of the Iowa-Michigan basketball game?

A new and energetic group has been elected to the fraternity and with this as a nucleus to work from, it is expected that the spirit of the organization will permeate the campus and the state so that we may be proud to be associated with what we all believe is one of the finest universities in the middle west.

Plans are being made for the Pep Jamboree, and a program is being adopted for the rest of the year, so that a solid foundation will be laid for next fall when the fraternity can start a truly ambitious campaign to bring back the true Iowa spirit to the campus.

For the last several years, Iowa has passed through a trying period—a transitional stage in athletics which has solely tried the faith of Iowa students; but a bright future is being painted for the Old Gold.

A challenge has been made to the men of Iowa. Pi Epsilon Pi has accepted that challenge. May the undying spirit of that acceptance be reiterated in the accomplishment of the work they hope to fulfill! —J. G., '32

Yes, There's Supposed to Be Freedom of the Press

(From the Columbia Spectator)

THE long-suffering managing board of the Hunter college Bulletin has finally given up the ship. Resignation was the only course left open to Beatrice Tolnai and her associates after the narrow-minded and intolerant treatment accorded the Bulletin by the Hunter college administration.

The action comes as a climax to a series of illiberal restrictions leveled at the paper's policies by President Kieran, who has repeatedly been a stumbling block in the way of the Bulletin towards the standards of good journalism. No less serious a violation of the right to a free press is the further step of this ultra-conservative president, which bars from the publication any cigar advertisements. Hunter college's student council has proven itself a handy implement in the hands of the authorities by appointing a brand-new, 100 per cent blue-stocking editorial board which offers in exchange for its position the guarantee that any dangerous expressions likely to provoke thought will be thoroughly squelched.

The type of administration which high-handedly attempts to muzzle, directly or by more subtle methods, a college newspaper has no place in education. True education teaches a liberal, tolerant attitude toward the world in general. Stiff-necked administrators who overlook this

Your opinions are solicited.

Each Sunday this page of The Daily Iowan will be devoted to articles of controversy and opinion.

The best examples of college thought, selected from campus publications all over the country, together with the opinions of the Daily Iowan will appear each week. Write what you think and send it to Forum Editor, The Daily Iowan. No anonymous material will be printed but names will be withheld upon request.

necessary principle should themselves be educated or removed from power.

What Price a Man?

To the Editor:

Mr. Stadler's letter in last Sunday's magazine section of The Daily Iowan was a logical, sympathetic presentation of an obvious situation—from a man's point of view. But what about the female population of this great university? Mr. Stadler evidently ignored our possible reactions or simply assumed that we have passively submitted to such a situation.

Well, we haven't. Maybe we do dig down into our pockets to help finance our dates, but it hurts. You don't know how it hurts. Every nickel we surreptitiously slip into the boy friend's hand as we perambulate toward a show or a dance represents one of the hardest things we ever did in our lives, and we can't help thinking grimly, "What price a man?"

After all, is he worth it? How do we know he isn't laughing up his sleeve as we pay the bills and spending his pennies on some girl more fortunate than we who still rates enough to go untouched by the present financial situation? And even if he isn't, why should we drain the family coffers to have an evening out when we might have a darned sight better time sitting home reading a book and smoking our own cigarettes ourselves.

Which all sounds splendid theoretically, but just isn't practical. The fact remains that we want to date. Whatever else a man may be, he represents prestige. We walk into a show with a man, and the world thinks we are popular. We walk in without one, and we're flat tires. We go escorted to a dance, or we don't dance. And so on and on into the inevitable snare of convention.

And even if he does break down and finance the evening's entertainment, we can feel him counting the pennies all evening. If we're late getting dressed, he makes subtle remarks about paying for a whole dance instead of half of one, and he calls for us in a car packed with fraternity brthers who immediately go into spasms if we aren't sitting on the doorstep waiting for them to arrive. He reluctantly takes us to eat, and gasps with relief when we tactfully order "cokes" instead of triple deck sandwiches.

There's no denying that it's a terrible situation. We can only wait and pray that it won't last until we're graduated. And there is a little consolation in the fact that when we're old and gray we can sit back in the old armchair and tell all the little grandchildren clustering about our feet of how we went to college in the days of the depression—pardon us—in the days of a financial stringency. —D. M.

"That," said Ma Pettingill, "is the only dinner I've eaten for a long time that was composed entirely of food." —Harry Leon Wilson

"Horse bucked him off. He went up so high the fashions had changed when he came down." —Owen Wister

Book Reviews

by Harriet I. Mahnke

Doubleday month. Re- the dear Y to find en legiti- (closeup), u can't. Art, pre- something rry Leon cus out of each sand rial.

e to ami- nett level. as Prinsr or records d subject ong with ceramics Bullfinch, or man- or fur- year old k to Pen- iced about o a world hun. Or a, used to the ocean, outhout in-ther don't it all you nily to its A lesser is a mid- spellings from Mr. More im- ogansville en lapses f a novelay, tricky and foot- and rabbit's given you in ages.

.00. S. S. Van Dine's interest in dogs will be re- flected in his next book, "The Kennel Murder Case," to be published by Scribner's sometime during this year. Author Van Dine's 18 months old Scottish terrier, Heather Reveller of Spar- ron, has won five championships in this country and on the other side of the Atlantic has won three consecutive shows and was declared the best of all breeds at Edinburgh.

er sent her 's maiden er best to Mrs. Dale a reflect- banished

she liked r. Ryott's illiancy of d it. So suffrage; es—all of ll English iends, and he "facts d she met ris. Jenny had been e village. e she was room and uldn't be came and

Campus Jogs

By Virginia Maxson

THE "most popular man" at the University of Nebraska will be presented at a Leap Year party sponsored by Mortar Board. Protests, it is understood, are issuing from male quarters. Just wait until there is a Leap Year bathing beauty contest for Mr. 1932.

WASHING dogs may seem like an undignified job for a college sophomore but a second-year man at Yale is working his way through school by doing that very thing. Wonder if he scrubs them in the Yale bowl.

AFTER Jimmy Phelan, grid coach at the University of Washington, took a 20 per cent voluntary salary cut, he was getting $12,000—the same as President M. Lyle Spencer. Imagine Jimmy's embarrassment—having to come down to Prexy's level.

AND now collegians have gone in for "racketeering." After the recent post office bomb incident at Easton, Pa., a Lafayette university professor found a package on his doorstep one morning. It ticked. Suspecting that the unwarranted donation was a bomb, he frantically telephoned the police who soon arrived with buckets of water, grappling hooks, and long range shotguns by which to maneuver the dangerous parcel. After successfully plunging the "bomb" in a bucket of water, they found that it was composed of one and one-half alarm clocks, two tubes of tooth paste, and a pencil.

RESOLVED that it is better to be drunk than in love" was the topic of a formal debate at McGill university recently. Well, according to authorities, both are forms of intoxication, but probably the hangover from the latter lasts longer.

STUDENTS at Milton college who participate in extra-curricular activities will now receive credit, according to a plan recently formulated. At that rate, fraternity and sorority pledges should get their degrees in three years.

NATIVE German coed at Temple college acknowledged that the first time she saw the players at a football game huddled together, she thought they were offering a prayer in union.

WHEN six students at the University of Denver attempted to make a splash in their classes by wearing bathing suits to lectures, they suddenly found themselves out of the swim. They were suspended by the school authorities.

HORSEBACK riding is all the rage at Ohio Northern. One hundred coeds have joined a riding club and plan to have moonlight parties as soon as they can manipulate the reins dexterously enough. Wonder if the college provides standing room in classes for beginners at the art.

IT sounds fishy but it may be true. Pledges of a goldfish club at Roanoke college must each swallow one live goldfish during the initiation ceremony.

THE Daily Northwestern heralded the installation of 12 new typewriters in its office with the following statement: "The new mechanical news makers replaced machines that should have had their faces lifted and their chasses overhauled years ago. They dated back to the Rhodesian man and one of the glaciers. They produced work so blurred that only scandal stories were really legible."

... if people are happy, there is no need of religion." —Claire Spencer.

Pi Epsilon Pi Again Means PEP at Iowa

To the Editor:

Of late much criticism has been directed toward the organization which is primarily responsible for Iowa spirit on the campus—Pi Epsilon Pi. That much of that criticism was justified cannot be denied.

Lack of capable leadership, plus a lack of cooperation on the part of the groups from which this organization draws its membership has brought about the static condition within this club that has existed until the present time. However, the finger of criticism should be directed, not at the men who are interested members of the organization, but at those who stay in the background never willing to lend a helping hand in a never-say-die spirit.

But, within the last week or two interested people became a little more optimistic about the future of Pi Epsilon Pi. Recall last Saturday night's "slow-motion" fisticuff between halves of the Iowa-Michigan basketball game?

A new and energetic group has been elected to the fraternity and with this as a nucleus to work from, it is expected that the spirit of the organization will permeate the campus and the state so that we may be proud to be associated with what we all believe is one of the finest universities in the middle west.

Plans are being made for the Pep Jamboree, and a program is being adopted for the rest of the year, so that a solid foundation will be laid for next fall when the fraternity can start a truly ambitious campaign to bring back the true Iowa spirit to the campus.

For the last several years, Iowa has passed through a trying period—a transitional stage in athletics which has solely tried the faith of Iowa students; but a bright future is being painted for the Old Gold.

A challenge has been made to the men of Iowa. Pi Epsilon Pi has accepted that challenge. May the undying spirit of that acceptance be reiterated in the accomplishment of the work they hope to fulfill! —J. G., '32

Yes, There's Supposed to Be Freedom of the Press

(From the Columbia Spectator)

THE long-suffering managing board of the Hunter college Bulletin has finally given up the ship. Resignation was the only course left open to Beatrice Tolnai and her associates after the narrow-minded and intolerant treatment accorded the Bulletin by the Hunter college administration.

The action comes as a climax to a series of illiberal restrictions leveled at the paper's policies by President Kieran, who has repeatedly been a stumbling block in the way of the Bulletin towards the standards of good journalism.

No less serious a violation of the right to a free press is the further step of this ultra-conservative president, which bars from the publication any cigaret advertisements. Hunter college's student council has proven itself a handy implement in the hands of the authorities by appointing a brand-new, 100 per cent blue-stocking editorial board which offers in exchange for its position the guarantee that any dangerous expressions likely to provoke thought will be thoroughly squelched.

The type of administration which high-handedly attempts to muzzle, directly or by more subtle methods, a college newspaper has no place in education. True education teaches a liberal, tolerant attitude toward the world in general. Stiff-necked administrators who overlook this

What Is Your Opinion?

Your opinions are solicited.

Each Sunday this page of The Daily Iowan will be devoted to articles of controversy and opinion.

The best examples of college thought, selected from campus publications all over the country, together with the opinions of the Daily Iowan will appear each week. Write what you think and send it to Forum Editor, The Daily Iowan. No anonymous material will be printed but names will be withheld upon request.

necessary principle should themselves be educated or removed from power.

What Price a Man?

To the Editor:

Mr. Stadler's letter in last Sunday's magazine section of The Daily Iowan was a logical, sympathetic presentation of an obvious situation—from a man's point of view. But what about the female population of this great university? Mr. Stadler evidently ignored our possible reactions or simply assumed that we have passively submitted to such a situation.

Well, we haven't. Maybe we do dig down into our pockets to help finance our dates, but it hurts. You don't know how it hurts. Every nickel we surreptitiously slip into the boy friend's hand as we perambulate toward a show or a dance represents one of the hardest things we ever did in our lives, and we can't help thinking grimly, "What price a man?"

After all, is he worth it? How do we know he isn't laughing up his sleeve as we pay the bills and spending his pennies on some girl more fortunate than we who still rates enough to go untouched by the present financial situation? And even if he isn't, why should we drain the family coffers to have an evening out when we might have a darned sight better time sitting home reading a book and smoking our own cigarettes ourselves.

Which all sounds splendid theoretically, but just isn't practical. The fact remains that we want to date. Whatever else a man may be, he represents prestige. We walk into a show with a man, and the world thinks we are popular. We walk in without one, and we're flat tires. We go escorted to a dance, or we don't dance. And so on and on into the inevitable snare of convention.

And even if he does break down and finance the evening's entertainment, we can feel him counting the pennies all evening. If we're late getting dressed, he makes subtle remarks about paying for a whole dance instead of half of one, and he calls for us in a car packed with fraternity brthers who immediately go into spasms if we aren't sitting on the doorstep waiting for them to arrive. He reluctantly takes us to eat, and gasps with relief when we tactfully order "cokes" instead of triple deck sandwiches.

There's no denying that it's a terrible situation. We can only wait and pray that it won't last until we're graduated. And there is a little consolation in the fact that when we're old and gray we can sit back in the old armchair and tell all the little grandchildren clustering about our feet of how we went to college in the days of the depression—pardon us—in the days of a financial stringency. —D. M.

"That," said Ma Pettingill, "is the only dinner I've eaten for a long time that was composed entirely of food." —Harry Leon Wilson

"Horse bucked him off. He went up so high the fashions had changed when he came down." —Owen Wister

Sorry, We Already Have a Book, G. K.

To the Editor:

Practically every student in the university has, at intervals, had an assignment which must be prepared at reserve library. No one, of course, denies the pleasure which a little library work gives a student. The university has been very generous in providing facilities for such work.

But, after a student walks down to reserve in the face of that strong river breeze on a cold January night, or toils down under the balmy skies of May, he likes to have the book which he seeks there. Instructors who believe that their classes should study at reserve should provide enough copies of the book required. Notorious examples have been told of professors who furnished two copies of a book, for a Monday morning 8 o'clock, and were greatly surprised when only six of the 30 members of the class appeared with the assignment.

Another nice surprise is to take a few minutes for a hike down to reserve, and then to be informed by the librarian that the book you want is at education library, four and one-half blocks up the hill.

One department in the university provides mimeographed copies of their texts, and most of these are so blurred that they can be read only with difficulty.

My ideal of the dream university of the future consists of libraries where there is a book for everyone, and every book in its place. —G. K.

Happy Landings!

(From the Oregon Emerald)

Some classes we take for credit. Some we take because they're pipe courses. Some we take because we're told to. And some we take because a sweet young thing we know has signed up, too.

But, occasionally we fall into a course that makes us sit up and take notice. Once in a while we are pleasantly reminded that the university is a real educational institution, and college bred means more than the famous four-year loaf that funsters are so fond of punning about.

A couple of us fell into a course like that, and for the last term we've been feeling like a couple of frosh. We've found out there's much we don't know, and much we do know is all wet. All our pet notions have been rudely jarred. The gospel instilled by years of spoon feeding in high school has been startlingly revealed as a mockery and a fallacy. We've found all our direction posts pointing the wrong way, and we've had to stop and take our bearings.

But now it's all clear sailing. We feel like a couple of explorers. We laugh at the old notions held by the rest of the mob. We are tasting the sweet waters of knowledge, and we revel in our discovery. Some day we may tell you what course this is, but right now we're afraid our prof would think we're hand-shaking. So, go to it! Find one for yourself.

May you, too, make a thrilling discovery! Happy landings!

No Catchum Cook?

A man who ascertains after marriage that his wife does not know Greek is entitled to a divorce. —Ambrose Bierce

Spring is a great season. Nobody will gain-say me that. Without it, we should crash right from winter into summer with no chance to shift to lightweight underwear. —Robert Benchley.

