

GP Turns On to Cable TV

By David Kramer
Grosse Pointe's coming cable television system promises the ability and the equipment to provide the cities with their own mini-network, complete with possibilities for live news coverage, entertainment and educational programming.

Grosse Pointe Cable Inc., the War Memorial-Teleprompter Corp.-city hybrid, which will service four of the Pointes and Harper Woods, is expected to string its first "strand" in mid-March, with the first of its 20 sections slated for "turn on" by late summer.

When completed, residents can expect a 29-channel system for the basic $7.50 per month charge. That service will include the ability to "plug in" at any point in the system, giving it full two-way capability.

A subscriber, then, using loaned equipment from the system, free of charge, could broadcast (er, cable . . .) live or taped, anything he wished from his living room or anywhere else in the five cities.

The Possibilities
Before too many more years, subscribers can expect to receive innovations such as home video games and, eventually, home computers via cable tv. Other possibilities include "energy management," a system where home appliances such as refrigerators may be turned off in certain areas for a five-minute period per hour, to aid electric companies during peak load periods.

Home intrusion and fire alarms are also possible now, but not yet offered by Grosse Pointe Cable. Teleprompter is currently experimenting with the use of fiber optics for signal transmission — an innovation that promises even greater clarity in signal reception.

Mike Reynolds, newly appointed general manager of Grosse Pointe Cable, Inc., said, FCC requirements allowing anyone who wants public access to get it, will make for some "interesting" shows on that channel. Basically, he notes, anyone with an idea for a show has simply to sign up for a time slot on a first come—first served basis. There will be no time limit, and equipment is loaned, at no charge, from the cable system.

Local Programs
According to Reynolds, who formerly managed a Teleprompter system in Rochester, Minn., the only rules are that the aired program not be political, commercial, or have to do with a lottery. Other than that, "non-interference" is required by the FCC. It is conceivable, then, that someone who wanted to show x-rated films on the station could do so, he said, though he would do his best to stop it.

For public use, GP Cable will loan out "porta pack" units, comparable to movie cameras. No deposit will be required, but users will have to sign an agreement assuming responsibility for the equipment.

Though Reynolds doesn't yet have specifics on what will be available locally, there are a certain number of channels set aside specifically for local oriented programming.

• A public affairs channel will operate out of a studio in the War Memorial, where a full color studio will be located.

• A religious channel will be programmed by the local churches, and may include services or discussions.

Satellites Too
• An educational channel will be available to the schools, which will determine their own programming. Likewise, a government access channel will be available for their use, which could include presenting city council meetings or election returns.

• A consumer shopping guide will provide comparison prices for various items in the area, Reynolds said. Another channel will provide continuous listings of programs on the various channels.

• Leased access is available for those who may wish to rent a certain block of time on an everyday basis. Reynolds said newspapers frequently lease a block of

Grant Brings Bess to NHS

By Dean Brierly
"I'm not out to convince anybody that jazz is for them. I just want to share my experiences." The words come from Bess Bonnier, well-traveled and well-known jazz pianist currently serving as artist-in-residence at North High School.

"My goal is to share a listening experience with people, most of whom have not heard jazz growing up—and also to show how one music absorbed others and grew," she adds.

Ms. Bonnier brings an impressive set of credentials to her present position. She began her career "in a dance band at Jefferson Junior High School in Detroit."

"My early influences were Art Tatum, Dizzie Gillespie, the Stan Kenton orchestra, Oscar Peterson later on. I chose piano because I just seemed to have a natural desire and affinity for it. A girlfriend down the street had a player-piano and I was always fooling with it."

Fast Company
"I've played at one time or another with Dizzie Gillespie, Stan Getz, Thad Jones and Mel Lewis, Paul Chambers and Doug Watkins, Marion McPartland and spent a lot of time playing in my home with Oscar Peterson. I've also played with George Shearing on public television and worked closely with Jack Brokenshaw over a 10-year period."

As any jazz devotee will testify, those names add up to some very fast company in the jazz world. Yet, Bonnier likes to make it known that she is not strictly a jazz musician.

"Growing up, I was exposed to both jazz and classical influences. My background in music is very eclectic. One of the biggest thrills of my career, in fact, was performing Mozart's Concerto in A major with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra for a benefit performance in October of 1976."

Ms. Bonnier has served as artist-in-residence at Cass Tech High School for three years, teaches at the Center for Creative Studies, is a co-ordinator of the Detroit Institute of Arts Summer Jazz Program and is a co-owner of the Grosse Pointe Conservatory of Music, where she occasionally teaches.

She Shares
Friendship is another credential she brings to her post.

"Friendships are big things for me," she says. "I spend a lot of my time in friendship."

This statement is borne out by students who've been in touch with her through the North High program.

"She's a lot of fun and has a great sense of humor," says David Simon, a junior at North. "She's very generous. She has all this talent and she's sharing it with us. She really doesn't need to do this."

Why does she teach?
"I enjoy teaching because it's a one-on-one type of relationship. I really enjoy talking about jazz. I enjoy communicating. The students who've responded have done so very favorably. I get a warm feeling from them."

Funding Is Next Step For Hill Plan

By Dean Brierly
Unstable economic conditions are presently holding up firm financial commitments for the builders of the proposed office and parking structures on the Hill.

"It's kind of a crazy market right now," says Peter V. Bologna of 81 Investment Company, one of those builders. "I haven't seen anything like it since 1973-74."

Nonetheless, the Farms Council went ahead and formally approved the plans of Bologna and the other builder, Richard C. Rich and Associates, Inc., at its meeting on Monday, February 25.

Council member Lloyd Semple said of Bologna's plan, "I think it's great. They've revealed a unique solution that could be a real cornerstone for us."

EDC Funds
Farms Mayor James H. Dingeman added, "If we sit and do nothing, the Hill's going to be in a horrible state. I think that this is probably a very viable step for us."

However, the question of firm financial backing for each project still looms. Both builders have applied for Economic Development Corporation (EDC) funds, Rich's request has been approved. Bologna has received a letter of inducement from the EDC which is the first step towards approval by that body.

Watch Feds
The EDC is primarily a vehicle to get bonds with tax exempt status. Both builders still have to get back to underwrite these bonds, however.

Bologna claims this problem is not as serious as it seems.

"I am talking with a number of insurance companies right now," he says. "They tell me there is a great deal of interest and enthusiasm for the project, but no one is willing to make a commitment at this time due to the bond market. Everyone is waiting for the next 30 to 60 days to see what the Federal Reserve will do next."

"I've been told to go ahead with the project," he continued. "I am to keep it moving and when the time is right, they'll be there with available funds. I've spoken with seven different brokerage firms and the general impression they have is that the market will unfold sometime around mid to late April."

Cottage Influence
Rich's problem at this time is trying to convince his backers, First Boston Corp. to underwrite the sale of bonds, with that company's present concern over the proposed bed-reduction situation at Cottage Hospital. However, Council members seemed to feel this will pose no real problem.

"The bed-reduction will not be straightened out in the near future, if ever," said Semple. "However, I don't think whatever happens to Cottage will result in decreased use of the facility."

That means, in effect, that despite Cottage's ongoing struggle with the Comprehensive Health Planning Council of Southeastern Michigan, which recommended the proposed cutbacks, it doesn't seem likely to affect the project's chances for getting off the ground.

Michael Mulcahey, an attorney for Richard C. Rich and Associates, indicated similar feelings.

Parking Needed
"This bed-reduction situation is not in and of itself going to stop the project. If it's not clarified, it may have an impact on the size of the project," he said.

"But no matter what happens, Cottage will be there and there will be a need for parking. What is not known at this time is the effect of a possible bed-cutback on Cottage. That's why the garage is designed so that additional parking bays can be added on at a later date."

At the meeting, Rich revealed that discussions with the contractors have led him to believe that as many as 350 to 400 spaces may be able to be built at the same $1.5 million cost as the previously estimated 300 spaces.

Bologna stated at the meeting that his building would rise 2½ stories from the ground with a height of 37 feet, would have one story below ground and would have a total area of 51,000 feet.

The multi-deck parking structure has yet to come before the Zoning Board of Appeals for approval. And Bologna still has to acquire the piece of property from Cottage which would allow the extension of the alleyway parallel to Kercheval to be expanded to Muir road.

According to City Clerk Richard Solak, these would be the last formalities prior to actual construction of the two structures from the city's point of view.

Lakefront Park Bridge Will Stay

By David Kramer
The Woods Council last week reversed its position and voted 6-1 not to remove the bridge at Lakefront Park to solve a continuing problem with high water and low clearances. The move may jeopardize the use of some 156 boat moorings—half the park's capacity—with this year's coming high water level.

Because of the low bridge clearance, boat owners will now have to take their chances on renting those wells next summer.

The bridge in question connects two sections of the Lakefront Park that are separated by the Milk River. Clearance under the bridge is about five feet—inadequate for passing many large motor boats and all sailboats.

The Woods Recreation Commission had recommended the bridge be torn down and replaced with another bridge built further toward Jefferson, beyond the boatwells. The council had agreed to that action at a meeting earlier last month.

It reversed its position on Monday, February 25.

Several councilmen said Monday that removal of the bridge would be inconvenient to park users who would have to go outside the park to get from one side of the river to the other.

Councilman Robert Novitke voted against the motion to abandon the bridge demolition project. The motion included a provision that city planners restudy the entire question of pier and docking facilities, with the possibility of resurrecting the idea of building a new fishing pier and harbor.

Pate, Hirn, and Bogue, the city's engineers, estimated the cost of removing the bridge at $10,500.

The cost of a new, one-lane traffic bridge close to Jefferson was estimated at $127,000, while converting the old bridge to a pedestrian drawbridge would cost about $45,000.

Recreation director Donald Hallman reported the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers has predicted anywhere from a two to an eight-inch rise in the lake level this year, which would further restrict the size of boats able to get under the bridge. He said an additional "three or four feet" of clearance would be sufficient to allow enough boats under the bridge.

Currently, the clearance averages five feet, with a variance of up to six inches, depending on wind strength and direction, Mr. Hallman said.

Several residents suggested the city simply hike the entire bridge by raising the footings a few feet. Laurence Pate, of the engineering firm, said that option hadn't been considered in detail, since the request to his firm was that sailboats be allowed under the bridge.

Stand Up and Be Counted Cities Depend on Census

By Joanne Gouleche
Every 10 years there are people in Washington who are interested in knowing if you have an air-conditioned home, if your house is on 10 or more acres of property and if you get your water from a public system or a private company.

If you think these questions are a bit snoopy, they aren't. In fact, Washington has been asking these and other questions since 1789 as part of the census taken in this country every 10 years.

It's the beginning of a new decade and census officials are busy gearing up for the 1980 count, expecting to account for some 222 million people and 86 million housing units.

The census people would not like you to think for one moment that the answers you provide to their 19 or so questions aren't important.

Those answers will indicate more than the age, sex and occupational make-up of this country. The census results will provide critical population data needed to allocate federal funds to cities across the country.

High Stakes
According to Census Bureau Director Vincent P. Barabba, "approximately $50 billion annually in federal program spending to states and communities is presently allocated using census data."

In Grosse Pointe City alone, almost a half a million dollars is received each year on funds allocated, at least in part, on the basis of population, according to City Manager Thomas Kressbach. "Everyone should take care to respond to the census in person or by mail so that

Spagnoli Named Principal

By Susan McDonald
The public school administration dropped its regional search for a permanent new principal for South High School this week and named Dr. Joseph Spagnoli, acting principal, to the post.

The announcement on March 3 was greeted enthusiastically by South students and staff. Dr. Spagnoli has been at South for three months and has been credited with making a number of positive changes at the district's largest school. Spagnoli, former assistant superintendent for instruction, was transferred to South in late November when then principal William Magk was placed on extended sick leave.

Spagnoli has been with Pointe schools for 17 years. He holds a Ph.D. in secondary education, guidance and counseling.

In a memo distributed throughout the school system on March 3 Superintendent Dr. William Coats noted that "continuity of leadership" and "enthusiasm" about Dr. Spagnoli were factors in the decision to name

Village Rejects Woods EMS Offer

By Dean Brierly
The Shores Council gave the go ahead for the purchase of a new ambulance at its meeting on Tuesday, February 26, turning down an offer from the Woods to provide ambulance service in their city.

Public Safety Director Joseph Vitale presented two offers from the Jerome Duncan Ford Co., saying "I recommend we turn down the Woods' bid and go with our own program. I don't think Grosse Pointe Woods should control our destiny."

One of the offers from Duncan was for a brand new ambulance which would cost the city about $22,000. The other offer was for a 1979 ambulance at a cost of $18,225 and $2,000 for supplies.

According to Vitale, there would be a savings of roughly $4,000 by purchasing the 1979 model.

Keep Control
Council member Frank A. Colombo asked Vitale if he was satisfied with the quality of the 1979 unit. Vitale assured the council there wasn't much difference between the two.

"It's not a used vehicle. It is a late model 1979 that

Besides local programming, the cable system will have a number of satellite services—so called because they are actually transmitted via satellite—which are available both on a "Pay TV" basis and are included in the basic monthly rate.

Movies Galore
Four Pay TV services are available for an additional $6.95 each. They include Home Box Office, a channel operated by Time-Life Inc. which features recent motion pictures and big name entertainment, commercial free. "Star Channel" and "Show Time" are similar services. "Front Row," known as a "mini-pay" service, will be available for $3.95. Programming on that channel differs from the other three in that no R-rated movies are shown, and programming is for a shorter period each day.

Free Installation
Satellite services in the basic package include live broadcasts of all Madison Square Gardens sporting events; two independent 24-hour "superstations;" C-SPAN, live coverage of the U.S. House of Representatives; ESPN, a 24-hour sports

Red Cross Asks for Help

The Red Cross is "looking for a few good people" to serve as volunteers in the many different service areas of the Southeastern Michigan Chapter, according to chairman of volunteers Betty Lynch.

The Detroit-area chapter of the Red Cross has designated March 9 to 15 "Volunteer Recruitment Week" in the tri-county area.

"Volunteering for Red Cross is a great service to the community," says Lynch. "But volunteers also get the opportunity to gain new skills or develop old or unused ones."

Volunteers are needed to work on bloodmobile units where they assist Red Cross nurses with non-medical duties such as registering blood donors, labeling and numbering blood containers, escorting donors to the canteen area and serving refreshments.

Individuals also are needed to serve as Red Cross hospital workers, transportation assistants, administrative volunteers, special blood needs callers, and in working with armed forces personnel and their families.

For more information, contact the Office of Volunteers at 833-4440.

U.S. HAMBURGER

It may surprise you, but "hamburger" (as a name for ground beef as well as the famous sandwich) is not foreign. It is strictly home-grown-American, according to knowledgeable students of word derivation. The sandwich is said to be an American institution, originating on these shores and not related to the German city of Hamburg. However, hamburgers are now gaining global fame as several fast-food chains extend their spreads overseas.

channel; and Nickelodeon, children's programming.

Reynolds said two other channels will be "cherry picked" from a variety of other satellite possibilities. An FM station from Chicago, WFMT, which boasts extremely fine reception and is the first satellite beamed FM station, will round out programming. Two channels are left clear for future expansion.

Installation will cost $14.95 but will be free for the first 30 days. Reynolds said residents would be notified in a variety of ways when the system will be passing by their homes.

Installation is very similar to a phone connection, he said. Those wishing more than one hookup will be charged a custom installation fee.

Reynolds said the system should employ 15-20 persons by the end of the year, with two of them working full-time in the programming department. They will cover worthy local events not covered by others.

War Memorial association president John Rickel said financing arrangements for the $5 million project haven't yet been finalized, but no problems are anticipated. A decision still has to be made, he said, on whether to go with public or private placement of the EDC bonds.

Move to 7-Mack
"Due to the very high interest rates and our not needing funds immediately, the cable company has not been rushing to make a decision on the financing," Rickel said.

(Teleprompter is advancing about $1 million to get the system off the ground.)

Grosse Pointe, Cable Inc., office will be located in the former Fenlon Fabrics store, 19245 Mack in the Seven-Mack shopping center. Antenna for reception of local stations will be atop St. John Hospital, and two satellite dish antennas will be on the lawn of the hospital. Rickel said the dishes would be positioned very close to the ground to avoid interference from nearby microwave transmissions.

Ambulance

The Woods had offered to provide ambulance service to the Shores for a six-month period at a cost of $9,750.

Council member Carl E. Hedeon commented, "It's so much better if we control this type of operation ourselves. I am personally in favor of it."

Wins Extension

According to Vitale, the ambulance was ordered the same day the Council approved its purchase. He expects delivery of the unit within three weeks of that date.

The Shores presently has five men training for Emergency Medical Technician (EMT) status, who are expected to graduate in June. The city has plans to train five additional men this summer.

The Shores is currently under a three month extension from the state under an amendment to House Bill 4211 by Rep. William Bryant, Jr., which gives the city more time to meet the EMT law requiring one licensed EMT in the patient compartment of an ambulance.

Extensions can be given to those communities who demonstrate that their ambulance operation is involved in an ongoing training program or that their personnel have obtained the training and are awaiting testing.

"Within a year from now we expect to be in top shape," said Vitale. "We'll have three EMT's assigned to each shift and we'll have at least one and probably two on duty at all times."

Park Bridge

Councilman John Sabol, who had voted against the demolition of the bridge in the earlier meeting, pointed out the city would be paying to demolish a structure it hadn't yet paid for.

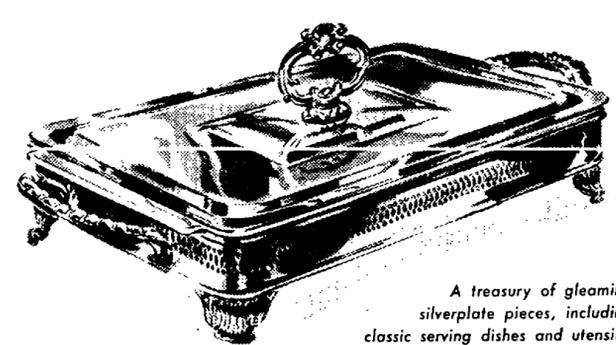

But the issue that concerned council members most was the inconvenience to park users created by having the park split in half, for at least as long as it took to build the new vehicular bridge. During that time, users would have to go outside the park to get across the Milk River, and another gate and attendant would have to be installed on the opposite side of the river.

"This park is for 22,000 people," said Mayor George Freeman. "For many of them, there are great concerns for getting from one side to the other."

"I'll never vote in favor of it until there's a way for a person to get to the other side without having to go outside of the park," said Councilman Thomas Fahrner, a powerboat owner.

Mr. Hallman said the affected boat owners would now be notified of the situation, and could decide for themselves whether to rent the wells this year.

Prices for the wells inside the bridge were set at $130—no change from last year—while the lake side wells were upped to $260 by the council action.

It seems to be human nature both to collect things and to belong to groups. It should come as no surprise then that there is an international organization of corkscrew collectors called the International Correspondence of Corkscrew Addicts. It was started in the early 70's by Dr. Bernard Watney of the Guinness Brewery in London. He woke up one morning, so the story goes, and decided that the corkscrew collectors of the world, working in isolation, should get together to share notes and enthusiasm. He sent out the word and the organization had its first meeting in 1974.

Raise Funds for Orphanage

By Tom Thompson
In 1974, the National Honor Society at South organized a drive that raised $1,200 to begin an orphanage in Tamilnadu, India, for the children of the Lambadie tribe. Through the efforts of the Reverend Jayapaul Daniel and his wife, the orphanage has nearly become a self-sufficient village of 285 children.

However, without some further loans and donations, the goal to become totally self-sufficient may never be realized by the Lambadie orphans.

The link between the orphans and the students at South had its genesis six years ago when a 1970 graduate of the school, Dave Wightman, became ill while studying at Mandurai University in India. Conditions at the hospital where he was being treated were so bad that food had to be supplied from outside sources.

At this time he met the Reverend Jayapaul Daniel, who supplied Wightman with food and medical care. A close friendship developed between the two. Upon Wightman's return to the United States, he came to the Honor Society and suggested the orphanage as a return favor to Mr. Daniel.

According to Reverend Daniel, "Several charitable Indian organizations depend totally on an inflow of foreign funds, but these could be shut off at any time."

In order to make their orphanage self-sufficient, an additional $14,995 is needed. Mrs. Vorita McClure, Honor Society sponsor, says the society will probably decide to start a drive to help the orphanage at this month's meeting.

Bess Bonnier Brings Her Jazz Expertise to North High School

History, Too
The course runs two days each week. On Tuesdays Bonnier speaks to four American Studies and Humanities classes about jazz history, emphasizing its position as a unique American art.

"It's the one universal art America can lay claim to," she says.
"I also try to relate jazz to other arts. My students are urged to write poems, paint pictures or compose music dealing with their feelings and inspirations connected with the course."

"I try to show the relationship of the period of jazz to what went on in America at that particular time: historical and political developments, developments in literature and art. I want people to become aware of how jazz locks into a particular time period."

Brings Guests

The course Bonnier has put together covers Ragtime and Dixieland as exemplified by Scott Joplin and Lou's Armstrong, the Swing Era and its standouts, Benny Goodman, Count Basie, Lester Young and Duke Ellington. Be-bop from Dizzie Gillespie through Charlie Parker; jazz of the 50's and 60's through the music of Oscar Peterson, Dave Brubeck, John Coltrane and Miles Davis; and jazz of the 70's and today, Chick Corea, Herbie Hancock, etc.

Detroit jazz musicians such as Matt Michaels, Jack Brokenshaw, George Benson and Marcus Belgrave also have a spot in the course.

She also scheduled a program of artists who came to North to give special performances.

Ms. Bonnier's prime objective with the course and program is to open up students' minds where jazz is concerned.

"I think a program like this is fantastic, don't you? It puts the student in touch with parts of our culture they probably wouldn't connect with otherwise."

Nathan Judson, band director at North, is very enthusiastic about the program and about Ms. Bonnier.

"I'm delighted to have Bess Bonnier here," he says. "She's so talented. She can verbalize very well—something not everyone can do. So often people do something extremely well but aren't able to relate it."

Good Contact

Jay Cobau, a junior, agrees on this point.

"I think it's very hard for students our age to be introduced to alternative types of music. Bess doesn't just play for us—she explains as it goes along. She really tackles it enthusiastically."

Through her teaching, she reveals an important fact about jazz musicians, according to Judson.

"She conveys that a jazz musician is a highly trained musician, that one has to have a wealth of knowledge about jazz and about music if they want to be successful in the jazz field. And her enthusiasm helps. She seems to look forward to working with the kids. And the kids relate well to her—they seem to just love her."

She's also a great contact," he says. "If someone's in town like, say Larry Nozero or Jack Brokenshaw, she can pick up the phone and say 'would you like to come give a performance at North?' It's really amazing."

Ms. Bonnier also introduces students to the options available in starting a career in jazz.

"In my opinion, they have to understand that they have choices in the field. They can play clubs or restaurants, teach, get into studio recording, do concerts, lectures, or get into artist-in-residence work in schools. I try to emphasize that you usually have to do two or more of these things in concert with one another," she says.

Will She Return?

Ms. Bonnier herself has done them all. She's made six recordings, has taught and continues to teach, serves as artist-in-residence, plays concerts clubs and restaurants.

"As far as performing, I enjoy concerts more because you really have to prepare. It's different than working in clubs and restaurants, where you're usually part of the ambient atmosphere."

Will Bonnier be back to North next year? Everyone concerned, including Ms. Bonnier, hopes so.

"I would love to come back," she says. "After all, we didn't start this until January 1. There's still a lot of work to do."

Junior David Simon adds, "I'd love to see her come back and make this a continuous thing. It's great that we have someone of her calibre that's been around the jazz world. I'd hate to see the school lose her."

The whole concept of an artist-in-residence program at North grew out of the frustration a lot of people in the English and Social Studies departments felt about not having art or music incorporated into their programs.

Koch Is Prime Mover

After a lot of work from people in these departments, a pilot program was sponsored last year by the Grosse Pointe North Parent's Club and the Foundation for Academic Enrichment, which continue to provide funds for this year's program.

"Bess Bonnier was the first artist sponsored at the pilot program," says Mrs. Eva Koch, English teacher at North and, according to several faculty members and Ms. Bonnier, the prime mover behind the artist-in-residence program.

"She related to students so well and vice-versa that we asked specifically for her," Mrs. Koch adds.
The Michigan Council for the Arts was the organization Mrs. Koch applied to for a grant. Fortunately for all concerned, the grant was awarded with no problem.

Koch is quick to point out that the benefits of having a pianist of Ms. Bonnier's stature will not be limited to North students.

"All of her lectures are being recorded on tape. In addition, the guest artists who perform are recorded on video tape so that other schools in the area can have access to them. We'd also like to get more of the community involved in these guest concerts, and not just limit it to students."

Mrs. Koch has applied for another grant to cover an artist-in-residence program for a three year period. Hopefully this grant will be awarded as easily as the first.

In addition to her teaching, Ms. Bonnier has put together an impressive schedule of demonstrations and workshops of visiting musicians performing at North. Students have already enjoyed a concert by Tom Saunders and the Surfside Six.

Future musicians scheduled include the Larry Nozero Quartet, Vibraphonist Jack Brokenshaw, The Grunyons, jazz-oriented vocalists made up of local professional and businessmen, the Wayne State University Jazz Band, and a year-end workshop with Ms. Bonnier, Brokenshaw, Mr. Joe LoDuca and selected students from the North jazz group.

Census

Confidential
"People are afraid to fill out the forms because they are concerned that the information might be used against them by another government agency for civil or criminal means. The allegation is completely unfounded," Schonenberg said.

Bureau Director Barabba said that "since the advent of the modern confidentiality laws in 1929, not once has the Census Bureau been involved in a breach of confidentiality, nor has an employee been formally charged, much less prosecuted, for releasing personal census information."

The constitutional purpose of the census, which will cost about $1 billion nationwide (or under $5 per person), is to provide fair apportionment for seats in the U.S. House of Representatives.

According to census estimates, Michigan could stand to lose one seat because of a population shift.

Schonenberg said census workers are needed and especially in the Grosse Pointe

"Dr. Spagnoli has injected some life and spirit into the school," Dr. Coats said in an interview. "I do think students, parents and the faculty are supportive of him."

Another factor in the decision was Spagnoli's own request to stay on at South High. "I love it. That's why I'm staying," he said.

"I think it's the most prestigious job in the school system and I feel very good about being here," he continued. "There are a number of things to be done."

"I want to provide the people here with the opportunity and freedom to do things, to explore different possibilities. Responsibility is basic to that freedom and I think these people can handle it," he said.

Since he's been at South, the 55-year-old principal has met with almost all of the school's 2,000 students in large groups.

"Above all else, I've found that I like the people here. That's most important," he said.

Those interested should call 574-2840.

Foster Care Is Contab Topic

More than 500,000 children in the United States are in foster care, costing taxpayers nearly $2 billion per year.

The number of children in foster care has nearly quadrupled since 1960, but studies show that the majority of them could be reunited with their biological families or placed in permanent adoptive homes.

The typical child in foster care is 12 years old and has been in foster care for more than two years. With each month that the child stays in foster care, the chances for leaving the system decrease.

In Michigan, more than 10,000 children live in foster care. How does Michigan serve the children in its care? What services do they need and what do they get? How are foster parents and caseworkers trained? Who makes sure the system is not abusing and neglecting the very children it is attempting to help?

Hopefully, all these questions will be addressed at a community education day on foster care in Michigan to be held Friday, March 7, at 1 p.m. at the Fairlane Manor, 1900 Hubbard drive, Dearborn.

The fostering conference is sponsored by the Eastern Michigan University Institute for the Study of Children and Families and the Michigan Citizens Action Committee for Foster Care.

Designed specifically for members of citizens' groups dealing with foster care, foster care workers and interested foster parents, the program features state and national foster care experts.

Ted J. Stein, an associate professor at the Jane Addams School of Social Work at the University of Illinois, will outline the national outlook for foster care when he addresses "A National Overview of Problems in Child Welfare: Issues for Child Advocacy" from 1:15 to 2 p.m.

At 2 p.m. a panel of Michigan foster care decision makers and experts will deliver opening statements and then field questions from a panel of journalists and newsmen.

The panel of experts includes Richard Higley, special coordinator for foster care services in the Office for Children and Youth Services, Michigan Department of Social Services; Ernestine Moore, program manager of foster placement services for the Wayne County Department of Social Services; Gerald Hicks, executive director of the Michigan Federation of Private Child and Family Agencies; and Susan Rondeau, foster parent.

The panel will address questions concerning community education, improvement of the foster care system and the critical issues that face citizen's groups in dealing with foster care.

Questions from audience members will be taken from 3:30 to 4 p.m.

The foster care community education day is free. For further information call the EMU Institute at (313) 487-0372.

Woods Council Votes To Drop Valet Parking

By David Kramer

Deciding it had given Anton's restaurant long enough to work out its valet parking problems, the Woods Council last week voted 6-1 to discontinue the service and see if traffic problems at the corner of Mack and Hampton clear up.

The council concurred with the recommendations of Public Safety Director John Dankel and numerous Hampton residents who felt the service created more traffic safety problems than it was worth.

Problems they cited included double parking of cars on Hampton, parking in the bagged meter zone on Hampton and blocking the entrance to the parking lot at the rear of the restaurant at peak restaurant hours. Some residents accused the valets of being rude and abusive at times, and one woman even claimed a friend's car tires were punctured after she refused valet service.

But William Anton, restaurant owner, thought that discontinuing the service would create more problems, since patrons would continue to drop off passengers in front of the restaurant, and patrons were not "professionals" like valets, who could deal with parking and congestion in the area quickly.

Councilman Frederick Lovelace, who voted against the discontinuance on February 25, wanted to allow the service to continue while a further study was made of the situation by the Department of Public Safety.

But in voting to discontinue the parking, the council included a provision that public safety report back in a month whether the traffic problems had abated.

Park Man Faces Mental Test

A 24-year-old Park man was ordered last week to undergo psychiatric evaluation to determine his competency to stand trial in the shooting death of a Hamtramck man.

John Eubank is charged with second-degree murder in the February 17 slaying of his friend, Tim Murphy, 23.

The two men were described as the best of friends. Both were graduates of South High School.

Police were called to the Eubank home on Berkshire road by Eubank's mother after an argument of an unknown nature suddenly broke out between the two men.

Murphy's body was later found by police in an upstairs bedroom with a fatal gunshot to the neck.

Police said family members home at the time of the incident indicated that the two men did not appear to be quarreling earlier. Murphy had paid Eubank a visit to discuss business about a rock band.

Eubank was reportedly dependent over losing his job at the Alley Cat Lounge in Detroit. Neighbors of the family said Eubank had a keen interest in music.

Eubank stood mute at his February 18 arraignment before Municipal Judge Beverly C. Grobbel. A plea of not guilty was entered in his behalf.

Judge Grobbel postponed Eubank's pre-trial examination pending results of the competency evaluation.

Eubank was remanded to the Wayne County Jail without bond.

Class Teaches Caring People

Cottage Hospital's nursing department will conduct another "Caring Person" workshop, Monday, March 10, beginning 8:30 p.m. in the hospital boardrooms, lower level, 159 Kercheval.

Conducted for the benefit of those who must care for the dying, particularly cancer patients, this month's program includes a discussion of legal problems, radiation, lifting and moving patients, terminal care, accepting death, and planning diversional activities for the patient.

The program is not restricted to families of patients of Cottage Hospital and there is no charge. Begun to accommodate the needs of families of patients at Cottage Hospital, it is designed to help the caring person cope with unfamiliar and disconcerting situations arising from care of the terminally ill.

For more information, please call Cottage Hospital at 884-8600, extension 2392.

State Probes POP Activities

An investigation of a complaint filed last fall against a local group called Proud of The Park for allegedly violating the Michigan Campaign Finance Act is underway, said a spokesman for the state's Compliance and Rules Division this week.

Administrative law examiner Ann Corgan said the state has received signed affidavits verifying that POP distributed campaign flyers to Park residents during the community's mayoral election last November.

Park attorney John Axe, who filed the complaint, charged that the flyers endorsed and opposed certain candidates in the election, but POP failed to file a statement of organization for such activity.

Under the Campaign Finance Act, any group which opposes or endorses political candidates or issues in any election is required to file a campaign statement.

POP President Mathew C. Connor has denied the allegations.

SEMTA Hikes Bus Fares

Small bus fares for the 17 small bus systems operated by the Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority (SEMTA) will be increased by five cents on March 10.

This increase follows a five cent increase in SEMTA's large bus fares which went into effect last September. That hike was SEMTA's first since 1974.

The increase is due to inflation and to the inequity between the Authority's regular bus routes and small bus fares which hampered transfers between the two systems and the common use of tickets and monthly discounted SEMTA CARD passes.

SEMTA's small bus program is divided into Local Service Systems, also known as Dial-A-Ride systems, for the general public, the elderly and the handicapped. It is one of the largest such programs in the nation. Typical monthly small bus ridership is approximately 150,000 customers, of whom approximately 16,000 are handicapped and 42,000 are elderly.

In Venezuela, one of every four people is a foreigner, and half of them are there illegally, says a Christian Science Monitor correspondent.

Seek Delegates for 'Families'

The Michigan White House Conference on Families, designed to focus public attention on the concerns and problems of families in the state, will be held April 19 to 20, 1980 in Lansing.

According to Susan G. Brook, state coordinator for Conferences on Families, and Maryann Mahaffey, co-chair of the Conference Planning Committee, the Michigan White House Conference on Families is open to all Michigan residents.

More than 300 persons representing the diversity of family interests throughout Michigan are expected to attend and participate.

"The Conference on Families is an excellent opportunity for Michigan citizens to let their voices be heard concerning the contributions, issues and problems that impact contemporary families," according to Ms. Mahaffey.

Ms. Brook said the Michigan Conference has two major tasks. "Participants will develop an agenda for the 1980's to address the special needs of families in Michigan. They will also elect a portion of Michigan's delegation to the National White House Conference on Families.

"Michigan will send 63 delegates to the National meeting. Thirty-two will be elected at the April State Conference. The balance will be appointed by Governor Milliken," said Ms. Brook.

According to Ms. Mahaffey, three White House Conferences are scheduled to enhance public participation instead of the traditional one time only White House Conference in Washington, D.C. The Michigan delegation will attend the National White House Conference on Families in Minneapolis, Minnesota, June 19-21.

Ms. Mahaffey was selected by the Conference Planning Committee to serve as Co-Chair. She is also Deputy Chairperson of the National White House Conference on Families. Governor Milliken appointed Ms. Brook State Coordinator for Conferences on Families.

For more information, write or call the Michigan White House Conference on Families, P.O. Box 30026, Lansing, MI 48909.

Job Focus Is on the Elderly

March 9-15 is Employ the Older Worker Week in Michigan, according to S. Martin Taylor, director of the Michigan Employment Security Commission (MESC). To commemorate the week, said Taylor, older worker specialists, who are regularly available throughout the state at MESC's Job Service offices, will make an even greater effort to remind employers of the outstanding qualities of older workers.

Taylor cited the following important facts about Michigan's older workers:

- over 2.6 million people 45 years of age or older live in Michigan;
- almost 1.25 million are part of the state's labor force, either working or seeking work; and
- older workers account for nearly one third of the state's entire work force or 4.325 million.

Workers over 40 offer employers the skills, judgment, reliability and maturity that come from experience. However, Taylor said that often this most vital resource—the older worker—is wasted. He cited surveys which indicate older workers may surpass their younger counterparts in a number of ways.

In general, older workers:

- who were hired after age 40 attain a higher performance rating in a shorter time than those hired before age 30;
- tend to have a more positive attitude toward work than do younger workers;
- have greater job stability and a better record of continued acceptance by employers once they are hired;

lose fewer days from work. The number of days lost for all reasons decreases as age increases;

- quit their jobs less than half as often as younger workers; and
- are only half as likely to change jobs as workers under 45.

MESC's Job Service is attempting to heighten public awareness of the fact that "ability is ageless." Through its network of offices statewide, MESC offers a range of older worker services. These services include the help of older worker employment specialists who are trained to find jobs for older workers, using employment counseling, job development and job referrals with the aid of MESC's computerized Job Bank.

In 1979, MESC's Job Service placed 17,198 older workers—a 12 percent increase over 1978—in a variety of jobs including housekeeping and sales positions, receptionist and administrative aide.

It is MESC's intention to increase older worker placements, stated Taylor. He invited older workers to contact MESC's older worker specialists at their local Job Service office, and he also urged employers to contact the agency when trying to fill their job openings.

MESC's Job Service is the state's largest public employment agency with over 180 locations throughout the state. There is no fee for services to either the employer or the job seeker. Job Service offices are open from 8:15 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Fridays.

The new Saab dealer said he will still continue to sell the foreign cars. The dealership also will have certified licensed mechanics to handle foreign car problems.

Two Charged in Rand Hold-Up
Two men arrested in connection with the February 25 holdup of Rand Drugs, 18404 Mack, were formally arraigned and held at the Wayne County jail pending their examination set for Monday, March 3.

The two men are Carlos King, 30, of 5927 Beaconsfield, and Roland Harris, 25, of 1460 Hurlburt, both of Detroit. A number of drugs and approximately $100 in cash were taken during the holdup.

Judge Robert H. Pytell presided at the arraignment during which a plea of not guilty was entered for the two men. Judge Pytell set bond at $100,000 for King and $50,000 for Harris. According to police, King is on parole from Jackson Prison where he was lodged for three counts of armed robbery.

Harris told police under questioning that he and King were in Grosse Pointe that day to look at some cars and had stopped at a Pontiac dealer on Mack. King then allegedly said he wanted to buy some cigarettes and Harris drove to Rand Drugs. King entered the store and returned a few minutes later.

According to Harris, he drove west on Mack to an unknown street and headed for Warren. As they turned onto Warren, a police car pulled them over. King allegedly said to Harris at this point that if he "didn't want to get (in trouble) he'd better hit it."

Harris stated that he didn't know King had held up the store until the police pulled them over.

King allegedly told police he knew nothing about the robbery.

ONE PICTURE IS WORTH A THOUSAND DOLLARS.

Volvo test vehicle undergoing solid frontal barrier collision testing. Passenger compartment remains essentially intact.

The scene pictured above is just one of a series of impact tests Volvos must undergo before we're convinced they meet Volvo standards for structural safety. Which is one very good reason a four-door Volvo sedan costs more than the average American car.

But if safety isn't reason enough for you to consider the price of a Volvo, consider this: you could pay thousands more and still not get the unique combination of comfort, quality construction and performance our DL sedan offers.

So before you buy a family car, come in and put your family in our Volvo DL sedan. You may find the reasons for saving money on a cheaper car aren't nearly as good as the reasons for spending it on VOLVO.

What Goes On at Your Library

By William T. Peters,
Director of Public Libraries

"The Federal Budget for fiscal year 1980 is lean and austere," said Jimmy Carter in his budget message delivered January 22, 1979.

Our President may or may not be right in his assessment of the Federal budget as lean and austere but there can be no argument that the budget is the most complicated financial document our country has ever produced.

Should you wish to read the President's budget message and become more knowledgeable about how your tax dollars are spent, here are three to the public library and ask for THE BUDGET OF THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT FISCAL YEAR 1980, (U.S. Government Printing Office, 1979).

You will discover that 24 cents out of every budget dollar goes for national defense and that 43 percent of federal income is derived from individual income taxes. Interest payments on the public debt are projected to be $57 billion. To meet our national need for energy $580 million will be spent on technical development of solar energy while nuclear fission research will be funded at $937 million.

Reading budget summaries, tables and graphs may not be your idea of fun and games but it's your money "they" are spending.

A reference book that was partially out of date before it was published may prove to be one of those "dream" reference books that contains information never available in one place before. It is the NATIONAL DIRECTORY OF ADDRESSES AND TELEPHONE NUMBERS, (Nicholas Publishing Co., 1977), edited by Stanley R. Greenfield. The book contains the 50,000 most wanted addresses and telephone numbers in the United States.

In the Business and Finance section of the book all banks with assets greater than $100 million are listed by state with the telephone numbers and addresses of the banks.

The Federal Government offices, bureaus and departments take up 30 pages. President Jimmy Carter's telephone number is listed as 202-456-1414. The CIA telephone number is also listed but no address is given. You can call your favorite spy at 200-351-1100.

Hotels serving cities with a population of more than 250,000 are listed by city. Going to Philadelphia for a wild weekend? Call the Barclay Hotel on Rittenhouse Square—if there is any activity in the City of Brotherly Love it will occur there. The telephone number is 215-545-0800.

In the culture and recreation section you will find a listing of all ski resorts which are members of the National Ski Area Association—19 are in Michigan.

If you don't know in what section the information you want is listed, there is an alphabetical list in the last section. WKRP in Cincinnati is not listed.

Now why is this reference book partially out-of-date? Well, telephone numbers have a way of changing and old businesses close and new ones open. Despite this obvious drawback, the directory is a superb reference tool.

Selecting the right college is made easier by a new reference book, NATIONAL COLLEGE DATABANK, (Peterson's Guides, 1979). This book would indicate how difficult it would be to gain admittance to a college or university: Ivy League Colleges extremely difficult; Alion, Alma and Kalamazoo Colleges very difficult; Michigan State and Wayne State moderately difficult to enter.

Colleges offering scholarships or loans are listed as are those with ROTC programs and financial co-op programs. The format of NATIONAL COLLEGE DATABANK is very straightforward making it easy to use.

A reference service that is of especial value in our area is the COMMUNITY SERVICES DIRECTORY, (United Community Services, 1979). It is a listing of 1,900 health and social agencies in Macomb, Oakland and Wayne Counties.

Designed primarily to aid those engaged in the business of helping people, the Directory provides names and telephone numbers of organizations that provide emergency or crisis service in such areas as child abuse, suicide prevention, rape, battered spouse, etc.

Potomac's Reputation Cleaner

While Lyndon Johnson was President in the '60s he vowed to make the Potomac River "clean enough to swim in." After years of restrictions on sewage and industrial discharges, and improvement to a sewage plant, D. C. health officials declared last summer the water above Key Bridge was indeed clean enough to swim in.

Slate Law Essay Contest

All Michigan seventh, eighth and ninth grade students are invited to compete in the Eighth Annual Michigan Law Day Essay Contest sponsored by the Lawyers Wives of Michigan. This year's theme is "Law and Lawyers Working For You."

Prizes of $50, $75 and $100 and an engraved dictionary will be awarded in each of the three grade categories. Letters have been sent to all public, private and parochial schools inviting their student's participation.

Entries in the contest (consisting of 300 words or less) must be postmarked no later than midnight, April 1, according to Mrs. Peggy King, chairperson of Law Day activities for the Lawyers Wives organization.

Criteria for judging the essays are: content, originality, accuracy, clarity and ability to follow instructions.

Germes

The average patient has a five percent chance of picking up an extra germ during a hospital stay, says a Center for Disease Control scientist. He doubts the problem will ever be solved. An estimated 1.5 million patients a year nationwide are infected during their hospitalization. The annual cost approaches $1 billion for patient and insurance costs for an extra seven days hospitalization to treat a new bug.

Irish Stay Home

As 1979 ended, Ireland discovered it had 100,000 more people than anyone had suspected. A new census that began in April and was completed in September revealed the surprise bonus in addition to a better than normal annual growth. One of the causes: Irish people have just about stopped emigrating. For many years, a number were expected to leave the Emerald Isle annually seeking richer shores, but finally the people realized they have a fine land after all. New population: 3,364,881.

The Imperials will be followed by the Gulation Bell Choir from Rochester. The bell choir will present both secular and religious selections. After the bell choir, the audience will be treated to the sounds of Broadway as performed by the Young Revellers, a trio of college students. Rounding out the program will be Banjos East, a group bound to set toes tapping as they play favorites which have been associated with banjo bands through the years. "We've tried to line up a show that will have something for everybody," said Dick Warner, Optimist Club president, of Country Club drive. Proceeds from the show, according to Warner, will be used in the club's projects for physically and mentally impaired children. Leary Takes A Stab at 2,000 Years of Guilt

By David Kramer

It was a difficult act to categorize. Dr. Timothy Leary's performance at the Punch and Judy Theater last Sunday was not exactly a comedy act, nor was it altogether a lecture on his fun-loving philosophy.

Leary looks healthy enough after his adventures of the past decade that included self-imposed exile and imprisonment on drug charges. But is now he says any different now? Let Leary fans decide for themselves.

He's still into drugs, though his advocacy of their use isn't as straightforward as it once was.

"I don't advocate drug use," he said with tongue in cheek. "LSD is too good for (the American people)."

At another point he criticized the use of the term "overdose."

"99.999 percent of the people in this world have died of an overdose," he said.

Basically, Leary explained, his function is to "neutralize the guilt that 2,000 years of the Judeo-Christian ethic has built up. It's my duty to make fun of every sacred cow in the U.S."

Those sacred cows include

Pope John Paul II, whom he criticized for traditionalist views on birth control and the priesthood.

He also picked on Charles Darwin's theory of evolution, terming it "accident leading to better and better rape."

He even picked on that ever popular entertainer, Woody Allen, for his negative, nothing goes right, brand of humor.

"I admit to permanent brain damage; it's the only way to go," said Leary. He admits to being "an escape artist" who believes the only way to get back to the way man should live is to head to outer space.

In fact, he criticizes the government for shelving the space program, and claims the country could be self sufficient on solar energy if it weren't for a conspiracy by the rich to keep us dependent on Arab oil.

Holmes Returns In Library Film

"The Seven-Per-Cent Solution," a tongue-in-cheek film dealing with the more sordid aspects of the fictional detective Sherlock Holmes' character, will be presented by the Friends Film Forum on March 6 at 7:30 p.m. in the Exhibition Room of the Grosse Pointe Central Library, 10 Kercheval.

In the film, Holmes and Sigmund Freud join forces to investigate the disappearance of a popular French actress. Along the way, Freud delves into Holmes' dreams, addiction to cocaine and hatred of the notorious Professor Moriarty.

If the government would legalize marijuana, he said, the $9 billion yearly that goes to Colombia for pot could all but eliminate the balance of trade deficit by being spent here.

Speaking of drugs again, Leary offered some ideas of what we could expect in upcoming models. One of them, termed a "longevity pill" is currently being developed by California researchers, and will allow people to live at least twice as long as normal, he claims. Leary says that pill will be upon us in two to five years.

Leary's aim, it seems, is to let people know he is alive and well and still getting high, though on what he doesn't specify.

It's also a good time for him to plug his soon to be published book "The Intelligence Agents."

"Everything I do is to help people get smarter," he said to a loyal group of followers and the press after the show. "Intelligence is the ultimate aphrodisiac."

Center Slates Spring Term

The class is scheduled Wednesday evenings, March 19 to May 14 from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. It is open to both sexes and high school students as well as adults. Fee for the eight weeks is $20.

The second, more advanced series of Silk Flower Workshops will begin a week later than announced on the Center's activity card beginning now on March 19 and continuing on Wednesday afternoons from 12:30 to 3 p.m. through April 9.

Some experience in silk flower making is a prerequisite. Judy Schulte is the instructor and the fee is $35 plus materials.

"Financial Planning for Women" is a course being repeated by popular demand by Nancy Thompson on Thursday evenings March 20 to April 24, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. for a fee of $21.50. All the guidelines for handling money are reviewed as well as choice of investments, insurance needs and options, budgeting and making a will.

Thursday Night Dancing at the center taught by Mr. and Mrs. Ted Forrest is scheduled Thursday nights March 20 to May 22—10 weeks for $35.

New Officers In GPP League

By John Schultz
Mark Valenti and Richard Moellering have been elected to lead the Park Babe Ruth League for 1980.

At the league's March 4 meeting, Valenti assumed duties as commissioner from Neal Shine, who retires after 12 years' service. Moellering accepted the president's gavel from retiring president Lou Cerre.

Moellering cited the dedication and service of Shine and Cerre as the foundation for the league's success.

"The Babe Ruth League still must have the help of the parents to build on this foundation," said Moellering. Enrollment for 13-15-year-olds will be from 6 to 8 p.m. on Tuesday, March 11 and Wednesday, March 12, at the Neighborhood Club, Moellering announced.

Parents of the enrollees will then be required to meet later in March to determine how everyone can contribute to make the 1980 season a success.

In sports, one of every four American participates with vision that is not up to par, claims the American Optometric Association.

Students of all ages, (partners aren't necessary), may either elect disco at 7:30 p.m. or Ballroom at 8:30 p.m. In both sessions the best taped music is used and in both the basic and more advanced steps are taught with plenty of time to practice and gain assurance and style.

Students Visit Wayne Campus

The chemistry II/AP class at North High School recently visited the research facilities of Wayne State University. Following some classroom study of x-ray diffraction analysis and the magnetic effects of coordination compounds, students were able to see the actual instruments used in these areas of study.

Students also viewed lasers used to stimulate chemical reactions and computers used in structural analysis. The students later visited the biology department's electron microscope facility.

Chemistry II/AP is open to students from both North and South High Schools. The class is taught at North and may be counted toward college credit.

Short Takes at South High

Frosh Are Sour

By John Schultz

South's freshman basketball team ended its season on a sour note losing its last two games to Warren Tower and L'Anse Creuse North this past week.

Bill Rathsburg set the team's high scoring mark as he poured in 29 points against Tower. Rathsburg made 13 of 15 shots from the field and connected on three of six from the line to lead the frosh.

Tower scored the first eight points, but Bart Orban countered with three straight 20-foot jumpers in the second quarter to keep South in the game.

The frosh pulled to within four points of the lead with four minutes remaining, but Tower broke the game wide open in the final minutes with its fast break.

Phil Agby and Dave Millar netted 10 points a piece for the frosh, while Orban and Adam Jankowski each added seven.

At L'Anse Creuse North, the Devils played well in the first half. However, as they lost their rebounding edge in the third quarter, the Crusaders were able to capitalize on second shots, coasting to a 55-39 win.

South's aggressive man-to-man defense, combined with Rathsburg's and Jankowski's domination of the boards, held the Crusaders scoreless for the first five minutes of the game and the frosh led 40-0.

The Devils opened up a seven-point lead in the first half, but poor shot selection caused their lead to dwindle to a 27-27 tie as the half ended.

Agby led the scoring with 12 points. Paul Rentz, Ken Fromm and Orban were good for six points each.

Jankowski, who saw little playing time through most of the season, came on to start the final four games and give the Devils rebounding help, while adding 26 points.

South's final season record was 4-15.

The awards night will take place March 17, at 7:30 p.m., in the cafeteria.

Tankers Take EML

By Lara Measelle

Competing in their final meet of the season, South tankers took the EML chamionship title, winning five firsts out of 11 events, the most top places of the five league teams.

The swimmers compiled a victory score of 101 points.

An outstanding performance was turned in by Jeff Measelle, who made state cut in the 100-yard fly and also took one of the five firsts. Don Hiles swam his season's best time in the 100-yard breast with a time of 1:05.583, also winning a gold.

In the 100 back South swimmers made the only sweep of the night, taking the top three places. The sweep was led by Jeff Colton, followed by Mark Muller and Andy Scott.

In the 200 individual medley, Bill Bradfield took the fourth first, and the final first was won by South's medley relay team of Colton, Hiles, Mark Clark and Measelle. Clark also finished second in the 100 fly.

In the 200 free Tom Bartsch took second with a time of 1:50.954. Larry Mac Donald took third, and Mike Schueler took fifth. Measelle and Kevin Chown came in close third and fourth places in the 50 free.

Chown later took third in the 100 free, followed by Bradfield, fourth and Herman Gueverra, sixth.

Mac Donald took a second in the 20 length swim, the 500 free. Mike Bartoszewicz took a second in the 100 breast with a time of 1:07.182, followed by Matt Van Tiem's sixth place.

The final event of the meet saw South take second to East Detroit in the 400 free relay. The Shamrocks took an overall second in the final scoring.

In diving the Devils were represented by fourth place Andy Backman, seventh place Pat McKee and eighth place Rob Warner.

States will be held March 14 and 15.

Cagers Red Hot

By Tom Kisekalt

Glenn Piche scored 34 points last week in leading the red-hot Blue Devils to their seventh and eighth wins in their last 10 games.

Piche scored 14 points on Tuesday as South's varsity cagers downed East Detroit, 55-52, and then pumped in another 20 points on Friday, as South closed out the regular season with a 68-50 crushing over the Crusaders

The fourth quarter proved to be the key factor in both of South's victories. A strong defense helped the Blue Devils overcome an East Detroit lead, and in a fourth quarter surge, the Blue Devils outscored the Crusaders 17-7, enabling South to

Liggett Skaters Win Regionals

The University Liggett School varsity hockey team successfully defended its regional Class B championship by defeating River Rouge 10-0. Port Huron Central by the same score, and South Lake, 5-1.

The River Rouge game ended one minute, 25 seconds into the third period when freshman John Kulka got his first varsity goal, reaching the 10-goal mercy rule margin. Other goals were scored by Biff Fisher, two; Jamie Todd, two; Rich Carron, two; Tom Dow; John Hinkle and Jeff Karash, one each. Drew Mascarin stopped all eight River Rouge shots while his teammates deflected 22.

The 10-goal margin was reached in the Port Huron contest with 6:56 left in the third period when Fisher scored. ULS was led by Allen Taber's three goals. Carron had two, Todd, two and Hinkle, one. ULS outshot Central 42-12 and Mascarin again got credit for the shutout.

On March 1 the Knights advanced their record to 21-2-2 when they defeated St. Clair Shores South Lake, 5-1, in the regional championship game.

South Lake scored in the last minute of the first period to take a 1-0 lead. ULS forwards Taber and Todd scored in the second period to put the Knights ahead. Hinkle put the puck behind the Cavalier goaltender twice, and Bill Seaver scored once in the third period to put the icing on the game.

Outstanding performances were given by Brian and Steve Valice.

The next ULS challenge is the State Tournament which begins Wednesday, March 5. Winners continue to the semifinals Friday, March 7 with the finals the following day.

All games are at the IMA Arena in Flint. For more information about the Knights' schedule, contact University Liggett School at 884-4444.

SH Takes NH In Annual Fight

The annual North-South basketball battle was taken this year by South, 57-45, in a foul-filled contest.

South opened very strong, jumping out to an early 17-4 lead, stretching that to an 18 point, 34-16 halftime difference. North came back in the third period, holding South to four points, none of them on field goals, while getting 16 themselves.

Going into the fourth quarter it was 38-32 South. Blue Devils John De Boer and Glenn Piche opened up the score from there. Piche ended up with 20 for the night's high score, while Bob Brown and Tom Suzor were tied with 14 for North's high. South's De Boer had 12.

North's numerous fouls were costly, as South went 25 of 35 from the free throw line, North was seven for 10.

Highlights at North

Cage Title Lost

By Wright Wilson

Clintondale took the Bi-County League basketball title from North High last Friday night as the Norsemen varsity closed out its regular season. North's final marks were 11-3 in the league (second place) and 11-9 overall.

Also last week, North soundly defeated Roseville Brablec, 54-28. North had a comfortable 17-2 lead after the first quarter, and from there it was no contest. Jim Davey led the Norsemen with 13 points and Bob Brown added eight, all coming in the opening period. Twelve North players scored.

When Brablec scored its final basket with 15 seconds left in the game, it erased North's hopes of breaking the school record for least points allowed in a game. The current record is still 27.

On Friday, Clintondale pulled away in the fourth quarter, raking in a 52-39 victory and the Bi-County League title as well. The Dragons' 13-1 record ranked ahead of the Norsemen (11-3) who were hoping for a tie in the standings.

Although North was only behind 33-29 after three quarters, it lost the services of three players who fouled out. The many Norsemen fouls took their toll in another way — Clintondale capitalized on 28 of 34 free throws.

Tom Suzor's 12 points led North, but game honors went to the Dragons' Mike Hardman with 16. Hardman also won the league scoring title, averaging about 22 points per game.

Last week, Bob Brown was named to the third 'All-Suburban' team by the Detroit Free Press. Brown, a senior guard and co-captain, has played three years with North's varsity. He turned in the season's high performance of 23 points the first time North beat Clintondale last January.

JV Evens Mark

By Wright Wilson

With a victory over Clintondale last Friday night, North High's junior varsity basketball squad closed out its season with a record of 10-10.

The squad showed much improvement through the second half of the season, as it won eight of the last 10

ULS Pee Wees Take District Title

The University Liggett School Pee Wee Hockey Team compiled an impressive 24-3 record on its way to a berth in the Michigan Amateur Hockey Association (MAHA) State Tournament to be held in Sault Ste. Marie, March 7 through 9.

The ULS team earned the crown the hard way, dropping the first game in an overtime decision and forcing themselves into the position of having to win six games straight for the title. Showing its strength and ability, the ULS team waged a week-long victory campaign that knocked off squads from Warren, Birmingham, Royal Oak and two teams from St. Clair Shores.

The opening game was tense right down to the buzzer. ULS chalked up a goal during the second period on an unassisted breakaway score by center Robbie Wood. The St. Clair Shores North-stars retaliated with a goal. The entire third period was scoreless, forcing the game into a sudden-death playoff. The Northstars picked an open corner of the ULS net to ice the victory for the Northstars, 2-1.

In the second match-up, the ULS team annihilated Warren, 11-1, with goals coming from Fred Ollison, Robert Quigley, Ken Fruehauf, Robbie Wood, Will FitzSimons, Sean Thomas and Paul Smith. The lone Warren goal was scored early in the first period.

ULS's second victory came as they outskated the Birmingham squad in a 5-2 decision. The Liggett team jumped to an early lead by scoring four goals in the first period.

Wood completed a three goal "hat-trick" in less than five minutes, and Quigley added the fourth goal minutes later. Defenseman Thomas blasted a slapshot by the Birmingham netminder late in the second period for the final ULS tally. Birmingham managed a last period drive with two goals.

The quarterfinals on February 7 saw the Royal Oak champions challenging ULS. ULS jumped to an early 3-0 lead on a goal by Quigley and a pair by Wood.

Royal Oak bounced back in the second period with two. Late in the second period, Quigley scored again on a pass from Wood to secure the lead at 4-2. The final period action saw one goal scored by each team in a 5-3 ULS victory.

In the semifinal round February 9, the St. Clair Shores Northstars were overpowered by ULS in a 5-1 rematch which eliminated the Northstars from the tourney. Wood opened the scoring on a breakaway goal assisted by goalie Peter Muer.

ULS dominated second period play with three goals, one each by Chad Matthews, Quigley, and Michael Gouda. The final period saw the lone Northstar's goal.

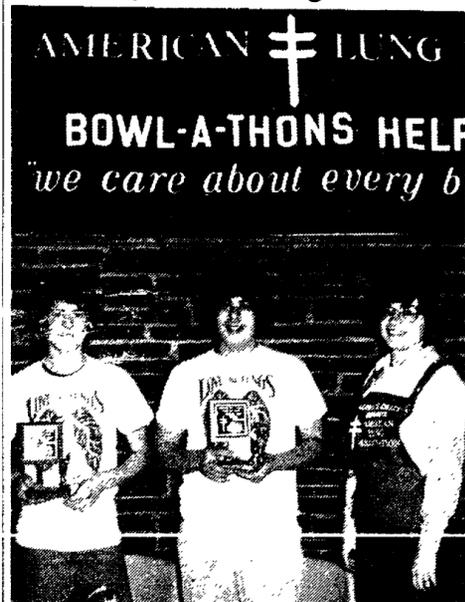

The decision earned ULS a berth in the District 13 finals held at the St. Clair Shores Civic Arena on Sunday, February 10, and Monday, February 11. ULS needed two straight victories over the previously undefeated St. Clair Shores Flames.

The fired-up ULS team wrapped up the first pairing with the Flames with a consistent scoring attack and superb defense provided by Fruehauf and Thomas, combined with Lloyd Semple and Mark Blake. The ULS team tallied one goal each period, with the scoring provided by Fred Ollison and William FitzSimons with two goals. The final tally ended in a 3-0 ULS shut-out.

The final game of the District 13 Tournament saw a repeat performance of the previous day, as goalie Muer blanked the Flames for his second straight shut-out. Quigley connected twice while Paul Smith and Fred Ollison each contributed one to the final 4-0 score.

Coached by Larry Griffin and Bo Torrey, the team now goes to the MAHA State Championship tournament. The team plans to leave on Friday, March 7th.

'Striking Out' Lung Disease

Helping "strike out" lung disease at an American Lung Association Bowl-A-Thon held last month at Grosse Pointe Woods Recreation, 20422 Mack, were trophy winners FRANK PALAZZOLO, 14, (left), of St. Clair Shores and TONY THOMAS, (middle), 15, of the Woods. With them is SHIRLEY BROGAN, philanthropy chairman of the Grosse Pointe Chapter of the Alpha Xi Delta sorority, which helped run the event.

Bowlers Help 'Strike Out' Lung Disease at Benefit

Youth bowlers at Grosse Pointe Woods Recreation raised $1,813 for the American Lung Association of Southeastern Michigan in a Bowl-A-Thon held this month.

Members of the boys and girls VFW leagues from Grosse Pointe, Mt. Clemens, St. Clair Shores and Warren, St. Clair Shores and Warren, and Harper Woods Recreation Department leagues, ages six to 18, who bowl weekly at Woods Recreation, participated in the three-week event. The bowlers collected pledges for each pin they toppled during their regular league games.

The Grosse Pointe alumnae chapter of the Alpha Xi Delta sorority volunteered to run the event on behalf of the Lung Association.

First, second and third place trophies were awarded to the top fundraisers in each league. The overall winner was Michael Tomlinson, seven, of Edmunton in the Woods. Michael, who bowls in the VFW league, brought in $190 for the lung association.

First place trophy winners were Kim Sauer, 11, of St. Clair Shores, and Bill Martin, 13, of Harper Woods.

Other trophy winners included Tony Thomas, 14, of the Woods; Scott Paulus, 10, and David Hoadley, 10, both of Harper Woods; Frank Palazzolo, 14, of St. Clair Shores; and Karen Biernacki, 15, and Sharon Biernacki, 14, of Warren.

According to Jack Degriek, proprietor of Grosse Pointe Woods Recreation, "Love These Lungs" T-shirts were also awarded to all bowlers who collected contributions of $25 or more and all participants received bowling patches.

"We are very pleased that our young bowlers showed a real commitment to good health," he said.

win its fourth consecutive game.

After getting off to a shaky 5-5 start, the Blue Devils have come on to win their last four straight and eight of their last 10 games. Their only losses in the stretch were to Port Huron Northern on February 15 and to Eastern Michigan League champions, Sterling Heights Stevenson, on February 1.

South ended the regular season with a 9-5 EML record, good for third place, and a 13-7 overall record.

The district playoffs were scheduled for March 3-7.

By Joe Srebernak

Despite dropping four of its last five regular season games, South's volleyball team will go to the regionals this Saturday. The Blue Devils won their districts with two straight victories in each of three contests.

Coach Jan Hooper was pleased with the performance, feeling that the team played especially well for having two starters out of the lineup. Helen Conlan and co-captain Kathi Erley are both sidelined with ankle injuries, although Conlan hopes to participate at regionals.

Because of the injuries, Hooper brought up JV players Lynn Pellerito, Janet Gross, Cathy Emmerich and Wendy Gorenflo.

South's victories at Districts were against Southeastern, Martin Luther King and Murray-Wright.

South won 15-9, 15-7, over Southeastern, and 15-6, 15-8 over Martin Luther King. While Murray-Wright put up a battle, South still triumphed, 15-11, 15-9.

contests.

North took on Highland Park's JV team; and although the Norsemen lost 50-41, the game was much closer than the score indicated. The difference was one point within two minutes from the end of the game. Highland Park then scored twice, and padded its lead with North's desperation fouls. Andy Pflaum scored 16 for North.

Lakeshore's game was even more exciting. The Norsemen erased a six-point deficit in the waning moments of the fourth quarter to tie the score at 47. The game went into overtime, but Lakeshore was victorious, 51-50. North's big gunners were Pflaum, with 20; and Dan Sheridan, scoring 12.

Later, the JV Norsemen avenged an earlier defeat by beating Roseville Brablec, 59-44, outscoring the Cougars 24-4 in the final period. High scoring honors again went to Pflaum with 18.

The JV season finale saw the Norsemen defeat Clintondale for the second time this season in as many games. By grabbing a lead in the late third quarter, North went on to win, 43-34. Sheridan's 14 points aided North's cause.

Letters to The Editor

Cottage Speaks
In response to Elizabeth Hirt's February 14 letter to the editor of the NEWS, Cottage Hospital would like readers to know these facts.
The bed reduction plan proposed by the Comprehensive Health Planning Council of Southeastern Michigan, (CHPC-SEM), was not designed to promote a more efficient health care system. It was designed to ration health care, place the control of health care in the hands of a few hospitals and in effect, tell you, the consumer, where and from whom you can receive health care.
We believe this for reasons these health care planners cannot dispute:
1. American Hospital Association statistics show it costs less to be hospitalized in a community hospital than at the larger referral hospitals. Miss Hirt's statement that specialized services cost more in smaller hospitals is not logical. The costly procedures such as CAT scanning, are not even available in community hospitals.
Eighty percent of patients hospitalized today do not need the extraordinary services including open heart surgery or kidney dialysis which are available in larger hospitals and must be amortized in their bills, as well as in the bills of those 20 percent who need them. It does cost less to have routine hospital care in a smaller hospital. The three area hospitals have had service sharing arrangements in our community for many years to avoid duplication of costly and lesser used equipment.
2. Community residents should know that even with the existing number of beds in our area, emergency care services are often seriously curtailed. Like other hospitals, Cottage is frequently forced to reroute ambulances away from its emergency room because of the overload of patients. When beds are reduced in this community, it may become a grave situation, affecting emergency care.
With Cottage Hospital now routinely providing care for an average of over 210 patients daily with its 191 licensed beds, and Bon Secours and St. John hospitals providing care for over ninety percent occupancy, bed reduction will force you and your family to hospitals elsewhere. That is hospital care rationing.
3. Miss Hirt contends in her letter that ambulatory care will be promoted through bed reduction. You should know that there are no provisions for this in the bed reduction plan. If this is the plan, then people should know how and where it will be available. Will you be happy if care is available downtown?
Miss Hirt has attacked community hospitals for supposedly filling hospital beds with unnecessary surgeries. You should know that admission review procedures at Cottage are done on ALL patients. We face the same standards as do other hospitals.
4. Miss Hirt says pediatric care is more costly at small hospitals because these beds are used fewer times. Actually, by not having a unit solely used by children, there is never an empty bed because they are used by adults when no children are admitted. That is cost effectiveness.
If you want facts about how CHPC-SEM's plan will reduce health care in our community, if you wish to understand how the CHPC-SEM has perverted the intent of the legislature to cut health care costs through bed reduction, by presenting a plan which takes the "heat" off hospitals that have low occupancy, listen to what Cottage Hospital has been trying to tell the community.

The County Responds
To the Editor:
Grosse Pointe Farms Councilman Joseph L. Fromm's Letter to the Editor, "Lakeshore, Round 3" (February 28 issue) is incorrect in reference to the statement that road funds are used to subsidize either Metro or Willow Run Airports, both operated by the Wayne County Road Commission.
His statement is not only untrue, but, it would be equally improper for the Road Commission to use airport-generated revenues—the method by which the airports are operated without general taxes—for road purposes.
This agency has continually provided information concerning the Lakeshore Road project and has always been available for further discussions and negotiations.
We feel the councilman's statement demonstrates a failure to research a matter before making an untrue public statement. This is an irresponsible action on his part.
We, as a responsible agency, feel that before a statement is made, an attempt should be made to obtain the true facts—and this is especially true when an elected official makes a public statement.
In reality, the commission's airport and road activities are operated on a sound business basis with numerous accounting and audit procedures that properly distribute budget activities between the two separate, distinct functions.

Managing Director,
Director of Aviation,

Know Your Schools
By Dr. William Coats, Superintendent of Schools

With the March 24 millage renewal election only a couple of weeks away, it is appropriate to take a close look at our sources of revenue for operating the public schools and libraries.

One reason that a successful millage election is so crucial to our operation is that so much of our revenue is from local sources—between 95 percent and 96 percent. This is true for both the schools and libraries.

The rest of our operating revenue comes from county, state, and federal sources. County funds account for 0.2 percent of the school's total revenue and 0.9 percent of the library's income. State monies make up just over 3 percent of the schools' and library's total revenue, and federal grants account for 1.2 percent of the schools' revenue while the library receives no federal money.

Perhaps the one issue that needs the most clarification is the payment of "State Aid" to our public schools. In order to clarify that issue, an understanding of terminology is necessary. In nearly all local situations where the term "State Aid" is used, the reference is to "Categorical State Aid for Special Education."

Our schools receive no funds for general use from the State of Michigan because we are an "out-of-formula" district. We are "out-of-formula" because the State Equalized Valuation (SEV) of local real estate, when computed on a per pupil basis, puts us over the amount necessary to qualify for "General State Aid."

The only programs for which the State of Michigan permits "out-of-formula" districts like Grosse Pointe to receive funds are generally those which the State requires all school systems to offer such as special and driver education.

Even then, the "State Aid" received only partially covers the expenses of those programs, and local monies must be used to pay the rest of the costs.

Most of the "State Aid" we receive must be used to partially offset expenses of our special education programs—speech correction, remedial reading, psychological testing, homebound teaching, preschool screening, teacher consultant and social work service, and programs for mentally and emotionally impaired and learning disabled students.

With this understanding of the sources of our revenue, I trust our voters will consider the tremendous importance of locally generated revenues to the continued operation of our public schools and libraries, and approve the March 24 millage renewal propositions.

Wine and Equal Justice
To the Editor:
The denial of a wine and beer license to Le Cafe Francais is, in my view, unwarranted, unjust and unappetizing to the many of us who have enjoyed this little unique and delightful restaurant in the Grosse Pointe area.
There is no question that, given the choice between enjoying continental cuisine with wine or without it, most of us would elect to go where wine is available. Proof of this is the preponderance of new and lively ethnic eateries in the Birmingham/Bloomfield and Troy/Southfield areas. But, like most Grosse Pointers, our family would prefer to dine in Grosse Pointe restaurants rather than drive over to the North End.
I applaud the licensing of Da Edouardo, a fine restaurant where we have also eaten, but I deplore the fact that our favorite spot to go for Sunday brunch or a special dinner failed to be given equal treatment, particularly from a community that is attempting to portray the image of "joie de vivre".
How long will Grosse Pointers be required to maintain their provincial attitudes, continuing to entertain either at home or at the "club"? If my experience as a public relations consultant for the past 28 years means anything, the forecast for Grosse Pointe is the forfeiting of its prestige as a place to live and grow.
I only hope the management of Le Cafe Francais can "stick it out" long enough until the "powers that be" in Grosse Pointe Woods discover a sense of equal justice.
Kenneth S. Drake, of Lakeland Avenue.

Wilber H. Mack, of Country Club drive, president of the Detroit Grand Opera Association, has announced a "first" for the DGOA this year: sponsorship of a gala Premier Opening Night Benefit Dinner in Masonic Temple's Crystal Ballroom prior to the Met's May 26 first night performance of Verdi's "Un Ballo in Maschera."

"A considerable number of opera goers were surveyed each evening during last season's Met Week intermissions," Mr. Mack explains, "and 88 percent expressed a positive interest in the idea of a benefit dinner to be held at Masonic on Opening Night."

"The convenience factor — having the valet parking, cocktails, dinner and performance at the same locale—is particularly appealing to our members. We are most pleased to see this idea materialize into reality."

Chosen to chair the black tie event is Mrs. Joseph A. Vance, of South Deeplands road, and that selection virtually guarantees a super successful evening, for Ruth Vance is renowned throughout Detroit's cultural circles for her fund raising projects.

Her plans to make the $100 per person benefit dinner Something Special are well underway. "After cocktails and hors d'oeuvres, guests will sit down to a seven course dinner, in a setting of absolute splendor . . . I have seen the artist's initial designs, and the decor planned is magnificent, to say the least."

Ruth hopes her "first" will be the first of many. "As a fund raiser, this Premier Benefit Dinner is a most important 'first' for the association." (Continued on Page 16)

Taking Girl Scout Cookie Orders

orders for them at $1.25 a box. This year's Cookie Sale, timed to coincide with the nationally observed Girl Scout Week, March 9 to 16, opens officially tomorrow, Friday, March 7, and will run through Sunday, March 16. Girl Scouts do NOT sell cookies door-to-door, but are happy to take orders over the phone or at booths located in neighborhood stores and banks.

The sale is Girl Scouts of Metropolitan Detroit's most important fund raiser. It involves more than 18,000 Scouts, "and the participation and cooperation of parents is a key factor in making our cookie sale successful," reports Mrs. Charles Kinnaid, Girl Scouts of Metropolitan Detroit fund raising chairman.

"In addition to the efforts of our Girl Scouts, nearly 1,400 volunteer men and women help organize and conduct this annual event. We deeply appreciate everybody's support: Scouts, parents, volunteers—and especially our customers."

This year, the colorful cookie box wrappers focus on the National Girl Scout theme: "I'm not like anyone else—We have a lot in common." Each package pictures Girl Scouts involved in troop activities.

The price per box remains, in these inflationary times, the same as it has been for the past six years, and metropolitan Detroit area residents are expected to consume more than one million packages of Girl Scout cookies this year.

More are "Choice and Chance," (feelings of singles); "Mature Women Only," (feelings of marrieds);

"Can You Fight City Hall?," (community involvement); and "Who Is My Neighbor," (global needs).

Afternoon workshops will follow up on the morning talks, with the same participants deciding what action can be taken in the future. Their conclusions will be presented to all conference-goers at a report session.

The Archdiocese of Detroit, sponsoring the program through its Christian Service Department, hopes standing committees will be formed to implement and monitor proposals made.

The $6 registration fee includes lunch. Further information may be obtained by contacting Sr. Margaret Urban or Jan Hunt at 237-5916.

The idea for the workshops was initiated in 1978 by the Archdiocese of Detroit's Pastoral Council. The council thought a vehicle should be provided to respond to the needs and concerns of women in the archdiocese, according to Ms. Hunt, conference coordinator.

Since that time, small workshops have been held in various vicariates to find out what major needs should be discussed. Workshop topics were based on those results.

"Most felt it was an exciting kind of thing," says Ms. Hunt. "We didn't know there were so many issues for women in the church." Guest speaker Sally Cunneen in 1968 authored a book, "Sex: Female; Religion: Catholic," on how Catholic women have changed their role attitudes since Vatican II. In 1978 she published "A Contemporary Meditation on the Everyday God" in the Thomas More series.

Present Music of P.D.Q. Bach

Professor Peter Schickele will conduct and serve as master of ceremonies for the Detroit Symphony's Week-ender Pops concerts Friday and Sunday, March 14 and 16, at Ford Auditorium.

The Friday performance will be at 8:30 o'clock. The Sunday concert is scheduled for 3:30.

The program consists of four works, all written by P.D.Q. Bach: The "Howdy" Symphony in D major, the Royal Firewater Musick, Fuga Meschuga and Fantasia Stitck for piano and orchestra.

Tickets for both concerts are sold out.

Professor Schickele was born in Ames, Iowa, and raised in Iowa, Washington, D.C. and Fargo, N.D. His principal composition studies were with Sigvald Thompson, Roy Harris and Vincent Persichetti.

After earning degrees at Swarthmore College and the Juilliard School of Music he spent a year in Los Angeles as composer-in-residence on a Ford Foundation grant, following this with four years of teaching, mostly at Juilliard.

Since 1965 he has been a free-lancer, involved in many different areas of composition: symphonic, film, television, theater, choral and chamber music. He is the sole discoverer of the music of P.D.Q. Bach.

In Professor Schickele's own words: "WHY?" That is the question most often asked, by musicians and laypersons alike, after concerts of P.D.Q. Bach's music.

One of the answers to the question is tied to the development of the long-playing record: the over-idolizing of historical figures is usually followed by a period of debunking, and during the last couple of decades, (which have seen the recording of virtually everything written by J. S. Bach), there has naturally developed an interest in the soft underbelly of 18th century music, the so-called Seamy Side of the Baroque.

This is perfectly normal and nothing to be worried about.

The author has actually found that P.D.Q. Bach's music is capable of having a therapeutic effect on audiences; the works of J. S. Bach and Mozart are so serenely perfect that many people come away from hearing them with an aggravated inferiority complex caused by the knowledge that no matter how hard they try they can never hope to achieve such beauty, whereas hearing the works of P.D.Q. Bach comforts the listener with the ego building and not unrealistic feeling that, even if he has had no music lessons, he could easily do as well with one ear, as it were, tied behind his back.

Professor Schickele has appeared with the DSO four times before: three times at Ford Auditorium and once at Meadowbrook.

rust silk crepe, styled with blouson bodices and tiered skirts, each carried a single Talisman rose. Best man was Kurt Huggs, of Lansing. Ushers were Tom Butler, of Lansing, the bride's brother, and David Zappitell, of Sterling Heights, nephew of the bride.

Mrs. Machuga, a permanent Master Judge of the National Chrysanthemum Society, has been active in promoting the growing of chrysanthemums in artistic forms for the past 12 years.

She has won a number of local and national trophies, the most recent Best in Show for her cascade, Hatsuhikari, at last October's Greater Detroit Society fall show.

The plant sale committee, under Mrs. Joseph Neaton's direction, will have popular bonsai and cascade varieties available.

The meeting is free and open to the public.

Strauss Opera Discs Issued

Richard Strauss' opera "The Egyptian Helen," fourth Detroit Symphony Orchestra recording made under the baton of Music Director Antal Dorati for London Records, has been released in the metropolitan area. It is the world premier recording of the opera.

The album is a multi-disc set of three records featuring Welsh soprano Gwyneth Jones in the title role. She is supported by an international cast and Detroit's Kenneth Jewell Chorale.

Writing in the British trade publication "Gramophone," London Times music critic William Mann states that Dorati "gives the score all its dynamic grandeur and its lyricism" and that "the Detroit orchestral soloists, particularly woodwind, horn and violin, all acquit themselves eloquently, and the choruses are strongly projected."

Rampal to Play Two Concerts with Detroit's Symphony

Flutist Jean-Pierre Rampal will join guest conductor James Loughran for performances with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra Thursday and Saturday, March 13 and 15, at Ford Auditorium. Both concerts commence at 8:30 o'clock.

The program consists of Mozart's Divertimento in D, (K. 136), and Flute Concerto No. 1, the DSO premier of Antal Dorati's Night Music and Bizet's Symphony in C.

Tickets for the Thursday evening concert are available at $8, $7, and $5. A limited number of $2 tickets for students and senior citizens will be available one hour prior to the concert.

Tickets for the Saturday evening performance are sold out.

Tickets can be obtained at the Ford Auditorium box office. Master Charge and VISA charge card customers may phone in orders at 962-5324.

Rampal, born in Marseilles, France, received his early training from his father who was first flutist with the Marseilles Symphony and flute professor at the Marseilles Conservatoire. Rampal then spent three years in Medical School before deciding to develop his career as a flutist. He was graduated from the National Conservatoire with first prize in flute playing. He made his first concert tour with harpichordist Robert Veyron-Lacroix in 1946; their association continues to this day.

Rampal's very full schedule includes solo performances with orchestra, (sometimes also conducting), recitals, master classes, summer festival appearances and television and radio engagements.

He is one of the most recorded instrumentalists of the age. Many of his records have been awarded the Grand Prix du Disque. All are best-sellers around the world.

Rampal previously appeared with the DSO in January, 1978, in a series of three concerts conducted by Werner Torkanowsky. He performed the Khachaturian concerto for flute and orchestra.

There's A Fine Point

Are you a runner or a jogger? The difference is the speed. If you are doing a mile in seven minutes or less, that's a run. A slower gait is a jog. So says the National Jogging Association.

Elgar Program For Menuhin

Violinist Yehudi Menuhin will join guest conductor James Loughran for performances with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra today, Thursday, March 6, and Friday and Saturday, March 7 and 8, at Ford Auditorium.

The Thursday and Saturday performances are at 8:30 o'clock. Friday morning's NBD Coffee Concert is at 10:45, preceded by a complimentary coffee hour at 9:30 o'clock.

The all-Elgar program will consist of the Violin Concerto and Symphony No. 1. Menuhin, as a teenage prodigy, made a historic recording of the concerto under Sir Edward Elgar's own direction.

Tickets for the Thursday and Saturday concerts are $9, $8, $7 and $5. Tickets for the NBD Coffee Concert are $9.

A limited number of $2 tickets for students and Senior Citizens will be available one hour prior to the concerts on Thursday and Saturday evenings.

All tickets may be obtained at the Ford Auditorium box office, where Master Charge and VISA charge card customers may phone in orders at 962-6524.

Loughran began his musical career as assistant to Peter Maag at the Bonn Opera. He moved to similar appointments in Holland and Italy before returning to England to win first place in the Philharmonia Orchestra's competition for young conductors.

Menuhin studied with Louis Persinger, Georges Enesco and Adolf Busch. He has served in England as artistic director of the Bath Festival and directed the Festival of Windsor for four years. He has been artistic director of the annual Yehudi Menuhin Festival of Gstaad, Switzerland, for 20 years.

and/or seen demonstrated at national stitching conventions.

A visit to Myrtle Palmer's Lakeshore road greenhouse is the program for Green Thumb Tuesday, March 25, at 1 o'clock. Mrs. Palmer has many lovely orchids and camellias, and will discuss the growing of plants under fluorescent light. Co-hostess is Ruth Stanley.

That evening, Contemporary Literature convenes at 7:30 o'clock in the Huntington boulevard home of Jean Obenauer, with Ruth Stanley as co-hostess. The program will feature reviews of current books, by a Grosse Pointe Public Library staff member.

Looking ahead to April, AAUW Night at the Alger Theatre will feature a performance of "Pippin" at 8 o'clock Saturday, April 26. Deadline for reservations is Tuesday, April 1. Further information may be obtained by calling 886-9199.

And looking even farther ahead... preparations for the AAUW's Annual Used Book Sale are underway, and dates—September 23 through September 29—have been finalized. The sale will once again take place at Salem Memorial Lutheran Church.

Spring Showers . . . bring out the best in Drizzla raincoats. The new ones at Walton-Pierce are the classic wraps but the colors are fashion news. Moving from rain to shine, there are sunny terry separates in the beachwear collection. There are terry skirts, tops, pants, blazers and dresses. Our favorite is a long green and white striped terry dress that's great for patio parties as well as the beach. Halston IV does a long white cotton blend T dress that is splashed with abstracts in yellow, green, pink, red and purple. A whole new group of Gabar swimsuits has arrived in bright floral prints. The black and white geometric print from Gabar suit is very smart. Two favorite sleepwear designers are Eve Stillman and Odette Barsa and you'll love the new gowns and robes for spring and summer. A silky white robe is piped with icy blue. There is a charming long white gown with touches of blue that is meant to go with the robe. If you like the look and feel of satin de chine the new long night gown in peach or blue lavished with ecru lace are for you. To wear as a top alone or under a jacket or dress is a beguiling lace camisole. There are many new at home robes in cotton blends and nylon jerseys that also travel well. Just as we were leaving Walton-Pierce new spring and summer handbags in taupe, navy and white were put on display. In the group are handy little clutch bags that can be used for cosmetics or for keeping other necessities fashionably in hand.

SISTER BERNITA HOLAHAN, S.S.J., DIRECTOR OF THE HEALTH SCIENCE LIBRARY AT BON SECOURS HOSPITAL, WITH DR. FRANCIS SHEA, PRESIDENT-ELECT OF THE BON SECOURS HOSPITAL MEDICAL STAFF AND CHAIRMAN OF THE CONTINUING MEDICAL EDUCATION COMMITTEE.

By Peggy O'Connor

When Sister Bernita arrived at Bon Secours Hospital in 1971, the medical science library consisted of one bookshelf and a few medical journals. Today it is a modern, sophisticated tribute to the ingenuity and determination of its director.

It includes a closed-circuit TV teaching program, over 350 medical journals, a computerized literature retrieval system logged in with the National Library of Medicine in Bethesda, Md., and access to 4.5 million articles and book references. Its audio-visual program is growing . . . and Sister Bernita has big plans for the future.

Sister doesn't see herself as the driving force behind the library, but most others do. As Dr. Shea says, "Sister is a pretty busy lady." "It isn't my library," Sister responds. "It wouldn't be a library without you," Dr. Shea reports.

A New Career
Oddly enough, Sister wasn't involved in library work to any great degree before she came to Bon Secours. Born in Detroit, she went directly to Nazareth College after her graduation from St. Bernard. She took degrees in science and sociology, then taught chemistry and biology at St. Gertrude. During that time, she took a few courses in library science, just for fun.

When the order needed drafting teachers, Sister took some courses in drafting and taught high school drafting for a while. Later, she got a Master of Education in English degree from the University of Detroit, and finally a Masters degree in Library Science from Western Michigan University.

When her teaching days were over, Sister Bernita lived at Borgess Hospital in Ann Arbor and worked in the nursing library there. Then came the opportunity to work at Bon Secours. "I spent the summer at libraries in hospitals around the city. I wanted to learn all I could before I started here." She must have picked up a bundle of information.

More and More
There are private study areas. There is an area where materials can be copied.

Schedule Rose Society Meeting

Kenneth Wheeler, president of the Grosse Pointe Rose Society, invites all rose growers in Grosse Pointe, Harper Woods and St. Clair Shores to come to the society's meeting next Wednesday, March 12, at 7:45 in the evening at the Grosse Pointe Central Library, Kercheval avenue at Fisher road.

The program, presented by Rick and Carol Robertson, co-presidents of the Huron Valley Rose Society, (located in the Ann Arbor-Ypsilanti area), will be "All About Miniature Roses."

The miniature is the most popular variety of rose in the world today—and rightfully so, for it is hardier than the big roses, requires less fertilizer, produces more blooms, comes in pure colors and combinations of color not available in the big roses, lasts longer when used in the home and can be reproduced from cuttings in a very short time.

The Robertsons will recommend varieties that grow well in this area. They will show how to plant and fertilize for maximum results and how to prune and start miniatures from cuttings.

Both Carol and Rick are accredited American Rose Society Judges. They have been awarded many ribbons and trophies in local, state and national shows. Rick is a Consulting Rosarian.

Refreshments will be served after their program.

Where In The World . . . could you find a shop with such a zing of color? Only at Lilly's! Lilly Pulitzer, Kimberly Korner, Mack at Lochmoor.

Why Replace Your Existing Cabinets . . . when R & D Kitchen Interiors can resurface your existing cabinets with beautiful Formica on all exposed surfaces? New doors and drawer fronts will give your cabinets the beauty of wood with the durability of Formica. The cost savings will be surprising. It takes just a few days. Visit R & D Kitchen Interiors, 16141 East 10 Mile, East Detroit or call 773-9170.

There is a display case.

What happens if someone requests something Sister Bernita doesn't have? Not to worry: she has that covered too.

"There are a lot of exchanges of materials and information with other hospitals," she says. "It's so good to see the hospitals working together for a common good."

Part of the library's system is a catalogued program of exchange, and Sister keeps accurate records of exchanges with other area hospitals. "We depend on each other and that's valuable," she says, "but I am always surprised to get calls from larger hospitals."

"Another place we get good service from is the public library." Sister makes a point of noting that a great deal of the work done in the Bon Secours library is accomplished by her assistants. "Duke does all the photography and makes slides and tapes. All the lectures are taped, and if a doctor wants a copy, Duke makes it for him."

Two Technicians
Duke is Doo Yee, an audio-visual technician. Gloria is Gloria Lee, a library technician. Both are graduates of two-year technician certification courses.

The Bon Secours doctors, however, still get most of Sister Bernita's admiration. They do so much, she says, and many times their research directly affects their patients.

"Recently, we had a baby here who had Cystic Fibrosis. The nurses sent down for information so that they could better help the baby's mother."

Many times, Sister adds, the doctors ask for information just to make things a little easier for their patients. "One doctor knew that a baby was going to be born deformed. He wanted to find easy-to-understand pamphlets for the mother to read so she could better understand the situation."

Sister Bernita, too, takes time and effort for the people she takes care of. She has what she calls an Interpel Card. She sends it to the doctors and other staff members. Each staff member fills out the card listing the subjects he/she is most interested in.

Sister sends a table of subject contents to the person who has indicated an interest in them, to keep him/her updated on the information that is available.

Another Service
When her Interest Card holders are transferred or move away, Sister finds out about the library and medical facilities in the new hospital, the new city—again to keep the doctors updated.

Getting Tired Of Winter? . . . One of our spring gardens in your home will lift your spirits. Charvat the Florist, 18590 Mack Avenue, 881-7800.

Do Visit . . . Hallmark's Little Gallery . . . at Wright's Gift and Lamp Shop, 18650 Mack Avenue. You'll find a collection of pewter, bisque, frosted crystal figurines and crystal crosses, flowers and hearts that come on chains. These and many more gifts are waiting for you in the Little Gallery.

Celebrating St. Patrick's Day . . . there's Irish cheese, jams, jellies and even Irish blarney at the Merry Mouse, Kercheval corner of Notre Dame.

The School Bell . . . has a new selection of Argus posters to chase away the winter woes . . . inspiration or just plain fun for $1.50 at 17901 Mack Avenue.

Short and to The Pointe

Among 350 fall degree candidates at Ferris State College are MARY E. McDONALD, of Lakeland avenue, Bachelor of Science in Business Education and Community School Education/Recreation, and JEFFREY R. COUILLARD, of Heather lane, Associate in Applied Science degree in Food Service Management.

Participating in a recent tour of Michigan with members of the Interlochen Arts Academy was MARCIA ERWIN, daughter of MRS. DORA ERWIN, of Notre Dame avenue. The seven-performance tour was part of the Outreach "Show-On-The-Road" program sponsored by the Michigan Council for the Arts.

Achieving Dean's List honors for the fall term at Northwood Institute were JOSEPH THOMAS MEEHAN, of Oxford road, and STACEY L. MEREDITH, of Littlestone road. To be named to the Dean's List, students must earn at least a 3.0 grade point average.

TRENT BROOKS, of Meadow lane, recently received a degree in Economics from Wittenberg University, Springfield, Ohio.

Another thing Sister Bernita doesn't forget to keep updated is the list of people who have contributed so much to the fund that built the library and kept it going.

The Bon Secours library was originally funded by donations from Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bishop, of Dyar lane, in memory of their daughter. Additional contributions were made by Maxine Barr, through the Lincoln Health Care Foundation. Mrs. Barr contributes the interest generated by the foundation to the library.

"I feel so grateful," says Sister. She doesn't forget those to whom she feels grateful. She likes to give Mr. Bishop a report on the library and its developments: she thinks it is important for those who have been so instrumental in the library to know just how it is progressing.

And the Friends . . . Sister won't let anyone forget the Friends of Bon Secours. That group is responsible for much of the new Science Hall where the physicians' lectures are held. That hall has "tremendous audio-visual," Sister Bernita says.

Seating Problem
The library was completely designed by Sister Bernita. So was the Science Hall which features Videobeam, multiple projection systems and full microphone capacity. But, as Sister says, it doesn't have enough seats. "The other morning, the doctors were sitting on the floor," she winces.

She figures that is just another tribute to the doctors. Seats or no seats, they come. "There are also lunch lectures. Our doctors don't waste time, even at lunch."

Another aid to Sister as Health Science Library director has been the hospital administration. In the hospital field, administration has never been known for its cooperation in things like libraries.

"Bon Secours administration has been much more active than you'd expect," Sister says. "They were very nice about the plans for the new library." Now, despite the tight economy, Sister wants a darkroom so the library can develop its own films and slides, and administration has been very helpful.

"I'm grateful that the administration has backed me up." Of course, the darkroom will make Sister's work a Venice to Olympia to Crete to Athens . . . How I wish I'd been there! How, on a blowy, snowy night in midwinter Michigan, everyone in the house wished they WERE there!

How nice it was to have such a grand beginning to this year's series of Grosse Pointe War Memorial Family Participation Campaign complimentary-to-the-community events.

It's Still Coming Home

"The Pointe," Patricia Dieters maintains, "is always the place to run into old friends—and to shop!"

Pat's gone again now, back in Boston, where she works. When she left last week after a five-day visit with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Aaron E. Wilcox, of Loraine road, it was with one of Grandma Lou's "extra" traveling bags.

Pat had to have SOMETHING in which to pack those Sanders goodies she picked up in The Village. Also in The Village, meandering with Grandpa Ed, Pat ran into one of her mother's best friends, Sally (Mrs. Emil) Traum.

Although she's been based in The East for some time, Pat still keeps up with friends here. She was entertained by Mrs. Jane Allen and Liza, and Leigh Ann Allen, now Mrs. Jay Kitson, and her husband drove in from Flint to say hello.

There was a 10 o'clock breakfast with them, plus an evening's get-together at the Allen's, plus a Saturday luncheon with Grandma Lou's sister, Irene Byl, and her daughter, Ginger, and son-in-law, Ray Huartson, who came in from Grand Rapids.

Then there was a trip out to Troy, to visit with Anne Pappas, who attended Endicott College in Beverly, Mass., with Pat. Then there was a dinner party with old friends Sally and Fred Woelkers, of East Detroit . . .

It's amazing Pat ever made it to The Village!

little easier. But that's not the reason she wants it. "I'm anxious to see it get going so the doctors won't have to wait so long for their materials."

Sister Bernita, for all of her appreciation and gratitude, still sees some discrepancies in the health care system.

Personal Peeve
"There is a tremendous amount of cost cutting. Hospital administrators don't seem to understand that there are certain times when doctors are not admitting people," Sister says.

"I feel sorry for the consumers — those who really need health care." And, Sister adds, "places like libraries usually get budget cuts first because they aren't revenue producing."

Sister Bernita has proved, however, that the Bon Secours library is producing something much more important than revenue. It is producing doctors who care enough to take the time, or make the time, to learn and study. To Sister this means more than anything else. In case you haven't realized it yet, Sister is very proud of the service the library provides. And, Sister says, the doctors and staff aren't the only ones who have benefited from her work.

"I've learned a lot about medicine myself. The doctors are very helpful." With all the research she does, she has picked up a wealth of knowledge about diseases and surgical procedures. Her work is sometimes long and difficult, but Sister doesn't mind.

"It's very challenging." And that's the key: for Sister Bernita, challenge is a synonym for opportunity. How else could she have transformed a one-shelf "library" into an audio-visual, computerized model of the modern medical learning center?

Sister might not agree, but as Dr. Shea says, it wouldn't be a library without her.

The Youth Task Force of the Grosse Pointe Inter-Faith Center for Racial Justice will sponsor a tour of Detroit on Sunday, March 16. The tour is called "Detroit and Its Neighborhoods: A Community-Wide Renaissance or Impossible Dream?"

Participants will explore the issues of neighborhood change, urban blight, racial fear and hatred, redlining, and the future of Detroit and its impact on the Grosse Pointes. The rich and diverse ethnic heritage of the city will also be discussed.

The tour will run from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. with a lunch stop in Greektown (each person is responsible for their own lunch). Transportation costs are $6 per person ($4 for Center members). To sign up or for more information, call 824-0350.

memo to advertisers

PAY YOUR MONEY AND TAKE YOUR CHANCES

That's pretty much the way it is with some advertising media—not even the proprietor really knows for sure what he is selling.

Most times unknown, unmeasured, unaudited, and unnamed circulation audiences are wisely unwanted—the odds just don't favor the advertiser's dollar.

We believe you should have the facts before you buy. That's why we have the Audit Bureau of Circulations verify our circulation regularly—find and report the actual figures according to their standards and based upon their auditors' inspections.

The Audit Bureau of Circulations is a self-regulatory association of over 4,000 advertisers, advertising agencies, and publishers, and is recognized as a bureau of standards for the print media industry.

200 million reasons to answer the Census.

People. The Census is about, by and for you, all of you, all the people of this country. That's how it's been since 1790, when the first Census painted a picture of the country's population to help guide legislation. Legislation that helped people. It's especially important to answer the Census because it is the data-gathering tool which helps assure each area of fair representation in Congress. Unless you answer the Census, unless you are counted, your area may not get the fair government representation it needs and deserves. Now, almost 200 years later, the Census is helping people more than ever. Census information is used in allocating over $50 billion in government funds every year. These funds go to developing new job programs, building new schools, parks, hospitals, day care and nutrition centers, and many more important programs. Nobody can use your census form to get information about you. Nobody. That's not just a promise. That's the law. So please when you get your census form in the mail, take the time to fill it out and return it. You'll be helping yourself, your community, your country. Can we count on you?

We're counting on you. Answer the Census.
