VOLUNTARY NON-PROFIT ORGANIZATION OF MOTHER AND CHILD PROTECTION

“Out of my window, I could see young children, abandoned, involved with drugs and misery. I started wondering how I could help them. At first, it was a group of teenagers. I approached them and asked them to play basketball. Now (2016), 500 children of all ages come to the Ark”. “Our door will always be open for them”. The offerings of the people started coming after a while, when they got to know the young priest "Father Antonios" who founded the Ark of the World and realized his intentions. The residents of the area started coming one after the other and volunteered their services. Teachers started giving lessons to the children, housewives from the area started bringing things from their homes, food and clothes that their families no longer needed. Thus, with the help of volunteers, the Ark of the World was created, an organization aiming to pull as many children as possible away from poverty and abandonment and offer them a chance to stand on their own two feet.

Nowadays, the organization provides Schools for Parents, Personal meetings with families in need, Psychological and Legal Support, Support in the form of food and clothing, medical and pharmaceutical care, educational programmes for vocational training. For the children in need, it is provided accomodation, foster and legal care, social and psychological support, entertaining activities. The structures of the Ark have expanded to Piraeus, Ioannina, Chios, Volos.

X.E.N. GREECE

<https://www.xen.gr/>

XEN was founded in Greece in 1923, - in a period of great crisis for the place after the Asia Minor catastrophe, when 1,500,000 Greek refugees had to be immediately integrated into the national body, young Smyrniats, members of XEN in their city, were the first nucleus of the Organization, which was active in Athens to address the urgent and pressing survival needs of the female refugee population: reconnection with their dispersed families, their rapid training, so that they have the possibility of immediate vocational rehabilitation, psychological support and counseling. From its first steps it had the material and moral support of the World XEN.

Based on its many years of experience, XEN Greece in the decade 2000 - 2010 participated in both phases of the European Equal Program. In the first cycle, she created the Women's Employment Center with the aim of providing specialized services in the field of job search. In the second cycle with the program "+ PRACTICE - Cooperation for Employment" aimed at facilitating the access of women who are discriminated in the labor market. XEN also participated in the program "+ DEVELOPMENT - Integrated intervention for migrants / women" funded by the Financial Mechanism of the European Economic Area (EEA Grants).

Today, XEN Greece coordinates the action in 23 organized local centers throughout the country.

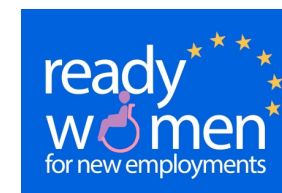

The need to respond to the needs, as they are shaped in each period of time and in every society by the political-economic situation, contributed to the development of the Organization itself, locally or nationally, with priority given to women and youth.

It strengthens: With educational programs designed and implemented by women and young women. It adopts a feminist approach based on inclusion and intergenerationality. Human rights empowerment also empowers young women to lead and make decisions in their communities. It implements both thematic and skills development trainings to meet the needs of communities, as it believes that educating a girl or a woman can open the door to an entire community.

the field of social perception in a limited number of institutions in order to have the maximum possible performance and visibility of the Foundation. Under these conditions, social and national cohesion becomes a supreme value and the work of the Lillian Voudouris Foundation, which aims precisely at their promotion, acquires special importance and weight. The priority is to focus sponsorships on high-efficiency projects and, on the other hand, to increase the available resources as much as possible, by seeking sponsorships, cooperation with other institutions or additional resources from the execution of European and other programs.

Mission: 1) Continuation of the scholarship program, with the strict selection criteria and in the substantial scale in which it is implemented today (approximately 30 scholarships per year). It is emphasized that, every year, the Scholarship Committee selects the scientific fields in which it emphasizes, based on the assessment of the needs of the Greek society. 2) Careful selection of a relatively limited number of projects in the areas of care for the disabled, the promotion of letters and arts (mainly with an educational orientation) and scientific research. 3) Constant information on the developments that take place in the above areas, so that the funding of the Foundation is oriented to the constantly changing needs.

The United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR)

<https://www.unhcr.org/gr>

The United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR) is a global organization with a mission to save lives, protect rights and ensure a better future for refugees, displaced persons and stateless persons.

Co-funded by the
Erasmus+ Programme
of the European Union

The primary goal at the UN High Commissioner for Refugees is to ensure the rights and well-being of people who have been forced to flee their homes. They work with their partners and communities to ensure that everyone has the right to seek asylum and find safe haven in another country. They are also making efforts to find sustainable solutions for all these people.

Every human being deserves a life free from persecution and discrimination.

But displacement can affect anyone. Hundreds of thousands of people are forced to flee their homes every day - young and old, sick and healthy, sons and daughters.

At UNHCR, it is their job to protect and safeguard their rights. They work hard to help millions of people all over the world rebuild broken lives and restore shattered communities.

Let Her IN is an international network made up of public and private organisations, each with their specific expertise and experience, ready to share their knowledge, skills and values and collaborate with organizations that invest in human capital in order to eliminate the obstacles that women encounter in their equal educational, labour, political, social and civic participation.

The objective of the network is to enhance the value of their actions, support in the creation and development of innovative projects and initiatives through the exchange of good practices, cooperation and collaboration between peers at local, national and European level.

Co-funded by the
of the European Union

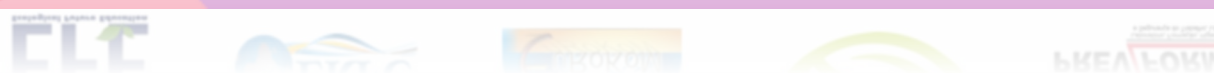

This network believes that human capital is an untouchable wealth in our societies, composed by merging all citizens' knowledge, skills, personal and social attitudes. This capital, together with the cultural and physical capitals, creates a fundamental economic resource for the needs of society as a whole.

In parallel, women are predominantly present in the associative, educational and cultural sectors, which are also activities that form the cement of our societies and the breeding ground for tomorrow's world. However, women are still not sufficiently visible and often have unequal access to the professional and personal development they deserve. Thus, investing in "women capital" means to stimulate equality in diversity in the European society.

Through mentoring, consulting, and implementing education and capacity building European programmes, LET HER IN experts aim at supporting European citizens, with a special focus on women, in a wide variety of fields, starting from education, moving to the workplace and including civil and social participatory processes.

The awareness that CRPD's real sustainability will only be possible where the voice of people with disabilities and their organizations is strong and competent, therefore able to interact with public and private institutions and civil society, makes it so that empowerment is RIDS's guiding principle. The network is made up of important Italian organizations, rooted in the territory and extensively involved in the definition of policies and programs on disability in cooperative activities, including Italian and foreign institutions.

Founded by AIFO, DPI Italia onlus, EducAid and FISH, RIDS stems from the desire to create a synergy of their respective powers and capacities, creating a network based on the exchange of appropriate practices in publications, on the circulation of experiences and expertise on the promotion of tools, methods and projects that support the implementation of the CRPD in all countries of the world.

ITALIAN ASSOCIATION for the BLIND and VISUALLY IMPAIRED

★ <https://uicifvg.it/>

On October 26th 1920, the Italian Association for the Blind was born, as an extension of the Blind teachers' association, and its founder and first president was Aurelio Nicolodi. The birth of the Italian Association for the Blind marks the first step of a long path towards social integration.

Co-funded by the
Erasmus+ Programme
of the European Union

Shortly after the Association's inception, was established the Newspaper for the Blind, the National Library for the Blind, the Braille Print House, the National Labor Institute in Florence, Rome, Naples, and many other initiatives were announced.

In the Thirties, the progress has been very slow, and some objectives were thwarted by regime's corporate structure. However, there were two important breakthroughs: the abolition of the New Civil Code of the incapacitation of the blind from their birth and their inclusion into the Air Force as sound-locator operators.

Towards the end of WWII, Nicolodi, disliked by the regime, was removed from office and replaced with Paolo Bentivoglio who stayed on as president for almost twenty years, until 1965. It was a time of post-war reconstruction and there were some remarkable historical moments such as the big demonstration in Rome in 1954, the so-called "grief march" which led to a first legislation for a pension for the blind.

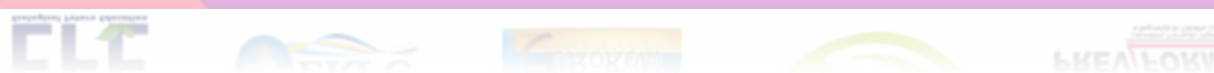

The current Italian Association for the Blind, headed by Tommaso Daniele, has to fight to defend the achievement reached so far and at the same time move painstakingly towards new objectives, which have to fit into the modern social reality. The Association has to take into account that young people might not feel such a strong allegiance to it, as others did in the past, that same spirit which took the association from its 8.000 members in 1947 to the nearly 120.000 as of today.
