Torah Teasers

1) Aside from the first day of creation, where else in the book of Genesis is the phrase "Yom Echad" – "one day" used? (2 answers)

In Genesis 27:45, Rivka worries that her two sons will die on "Yom Echad" – "one day." In Genesis 33:13, Yaakov excuses himself from traveling with Esav by stating that if he does, the children and sheep will be too pressured for "one day."

2) The sun and the moon are not called by their names with regard to their creation, but are referred to as "luminaries" (Me'orot). Where in the book of Genesis are the words sun and moon found in the same verse?

In Genesis 37:9, the sun and the moon appear in the dream of Yosef.

3) The "great sea-creatures" (Taninim), were created on the fifth day (1:21). Where else in the Torah is a "Tanin" mentioned? In Exodus 7:10-11, the staff of Aaron miraculously turns into a Tanin. (There, however, Rashi translates Tanin as a snake.)
