Berry Recruitment Hosts Inaugural Golf Day

Berry Recruitment recently hosted its very first Company Golf Day at the Burhill Golf Club in Surrey in the company of PGA European Tour professional, Jamie Elson (pictured with Berry Recruitment Managing Director, Chris Chown).

The day started with a driving, iron play and putting demonstration from Jamie followed by a challenging 18 holes on Burhill's New Course and it was rounded off by prize giving and an evening meal. Jamie was also able to provide players with individual coaching and some (although perhaps not quite all!) of the golfers reaped the rewards through some excellent scoring. With current Welsh Amateur champion, Craig Hinton, also in attendance it was clearly a day for clients, guests and Berry staff members to remember.

The team at Berry would like to express its thanks to Jamie Elson and to his management company Georgia Golf as well as everyone at Burhill who worked so hard to make the day memorable. Berry Recruitment is pleased to be sponsoring Jamie Elson during the 2012 season and wishes Jamie the very best of success for the remainder of the year.

Berry Recruitment is an established and successful business operating within the office, technical, industrial, driving, rail, construction, catering and care sectors. The group now operates from 24 locations nationally and is on track to achieve close to £40 million turnover in 2012.
