Berry Recruitment Inspired By Stock Exchange Recognition

Berry Recruitment has recently been named as one of "1000 Companies to Inspire Britain" by a London Stock Exchange Group report. The report is the first of its kind and was compiled following independent research in to 3 million small and medium sized UK companies. Qualifying turnover was £6-250 million and, in order to be considered, companies needed to demonstrate positive growth in employee numbers, workspace and revenue over the past 4 years.

The report is clearly gratifying from a Berry Recruitment perspective and it also throws light on the wider contribution of SME's to the UK economy. As Berry Managing Director, Chris Chown, comments, "We are delighted to be included in the London Stock Exchange's new report and believe this inclusion is due to our drive and service quality in comparison to our peers. The report makes fascinating reading and it reaffirms the importance of entrepreneurial spirit to job creation and long term prosperity."

Full details of the report, including regional and industry sector analysis, can be found at www.1000Companies.com.

Berry Recruitment is an established and successful business operating within the office, technical, industrial, driving, rail, construction, catering and care sectors. The group now operates from 25 locations nationally and its companies also include Green Personnel, Rouge Recruitment and Wild Recruitment. Berry Recruitment is on track to achieve well over £40 million turnover in 2013.
