I need to know if my content is original.
I need to know who is stealing my content.
I need to protect my reputation.

Your original content is the heart of your online business. On today's Internet, your vital content assets must be protected against two serious and growing threats:

Content Fraud – When you purchase content for your website, fraudsters may try to sell you text that they've copied from other sites. If you publish this content on your own site, you risk undermining its quality and reputation. Search engines may also penalize you for this duplicate content by lowering your site's ranking or even removing it entirely from their listings.

Content Theft – With the click of a button, anyone in the world can instantly copy your online content and publish it on their own site, stealing away your visitors and your revenue. As with content fraud, search engines may penalize you for this duplicate content because they do not know that the content was originally yours.

Protect yourself from content fraud and content theft with Copyscape Premium, the web's leading solution for protecting your online content.
