swisspartners Group expands service portfolio through merger with NRS Treuhand AG

Zurich, 27 March 2023 – The swisspartners Group is further strengthening its services for private clients and their companies by merging with NRS Treuhand AG, Zurich. With this step, a clear signal is jointly sent to further expand the capacities in the fiduciary business in Switzerland and, at the same time, to broaden the range of services.

The merger will enable the swisspartners clients to continue to rely on an experienced, highly qualified team of around 20 employees – led by Ralph P. Schuler, Thomas Rutishauser and Marcel Ammann – in the areas of tax consulting, relocation, accounting, payroll administration, company formations, corporate law, succession planning, family office services and estate planning.

Thomas Rutishauser, Chairman of the Board of Directors and Partner of NRS Treuhand AG: "The merger with the swisspartners Group will enable us to offer our clients a more ready range of services in the future. Together we are stronger to master the challenges in the field of digitalization and automation."

The swisspartners Group provides customized and technology-enabled fiduciary services, succession solutions and wealth management for corporate and private clients in Switzerland and Europe. With offices in Switzerland and Liechtenstein, the company offers a range of services that enables high net worth individuals and their companies to preserve and protect their wealth for themselves and the next generation.

Markus Wintsch, CEO swisspartners Group: "We are pleased to further strengthen our positioning as a financial services provider with this merger and additionally expand the support of our clientele in the fiduciary sector."
