From the Editor

This year seems to be passing by quickly and now that the village Fete has been enjoyed, and schools have broken up for the summer, it's time to support the (friendly) Tug of War down at Ickford Bridges.

Have an enjoyable summer break, but with such good weather why travel?

Chris Williams

Cover photo:

Picture taken at dusk looking over towards Beckley, with very few clouds in the sky and the jet trails lasting a very long time. The field in the foreground has also responded to the sustained period of dry and hot weather and appear to be ready for harvesting; but possibly with a lower grain yield. Blackberries too seem to be starting to ripen, well ahead of the traditional time.

Neighbourhood plan –The questionnaires have been sent out and collected in. Please contact Parish Council Chairman John Savell if you are interested in being on the committee.

Local Plan – This deals with perceived needs for housing and will cover years up to 2033. It is envisaged that smaller villages will together account for 500 additional houses.

The final draft will be considered by an inspector, who will also look at comments and objections. There does seem to be some delay in matters.

Oxford/Cambridge Expressway – There are several proposed routes under consideration. The more southerly route could pass fairly close to the Parish and the Parish Council has made its reservations known to the various parties involved in the process.

No work has been done on the ongoing problem with flooding at Draycot corner. We are promised that work will be undertaken. The road surface at Draycot corner and at the top of Sandy Lane was on Oxfordshire Highways work schedule for March/April. Some 're-texturing' work has been done to road surface in Ickford Road. I continue to pursue these matters. There are potholes needing attention, which have been reported. Russell Chaplin has agreed to act as our Fix My Street Super user.

News from your Chairman

The weather is great at present albeit not ideal for gardens and the farming community, the trouble with this country; there is never a happy medium.

I understand that the Village Fete was a success and the stall by the Parish council and the Neighbourhood Plan committee organised by Councillor Tracey Smith together with Christine Craddock ably helped by others was well received. The information and ideas received will be looked at and considered for action if it is possible.

On the Neighbourhood Plan we are now looking at an analysis of the results so far, but this is only the beginning. The response has not been as good as we would have liked and whilst it is appreciated that website address did not help, there are plenty of questionnaires available for completion should anyone wish to complete one. To this end we will be holding another open meeting in the village sometime in September, date to be advised; enabling people to add to any comments already made or even to air their concerns going forward.

On the foot path leading to the Village Hall we are awaiting the specification from OCC for the work to see whether our own contractors can do the work at a price which is more affordable.

The decision on the Oxford to Cambridge expressway is due any day now, as to the selected corridor after which we can look at the ramifications for the parish.

There has been a meeting with the County on the issue of speeding down Sandy Lane attend by Tracey Smith and Russell Chaplin. A speed survey will be carried out on the road to determine the need. There are national guidelines which help to define the need for speed signs, these are as follows:

“National guidance on setting speed limits advises that they should be used in villages and towns i.e. where there is a reasonable amount of road side development (the guidance refers to 20 houses over a 600m length as being a good yardstick of the minimum level of development). We wait and see the results of the speed survey to see how we can this forward.”

The massive leak in North Close was repaired following a phone call from me as Chairman of the Parish Council, initially they had not logged the earlier calls from other residents or denied receiving them, despite issuing reference numbers to those residents. Fortunately, they attended that afternoon and a gang was in place by early evening and they worked until 1.30am to fix the leak. Russell Chaplin was then able to get Thames water to fill in the holes and finish of the surface properly.

Some potholes have been filled and we continue to work through these using our Super User Russell Chaplin. Flooding is at present not an issue but unless the potholes are filled then once the weather turns, it will be as it was before. We continue to address the matter.

We continue to get speculative planning applications from developers, but most of applications are from people making alterations to their properties, most requiring very little comment.

The Local Plan is in a state of flux and the development of Chalgrove, Culham or even Harrington are unknowns at present until SODC making their decision.

Despite the heat and lack of water I hope you will enjoy the summer and the holiday period.

If you take your dog for a walk you can expect it to make a mess and you should have bags to pick it up and take away.

The Dog Fouling Act of 2016 places responsibility on “the person in charge of the dog” at the time of the misdemeanour. Wherever you are in the UK you will face a fine of up to £80 if you fail to clean up your dog’s mess and are caught.

At this holiday time, when many people are flying off for a well-earned break it seems a good time to write about airplane issues which are often raised with me. Many people in the constituency make their living from aviation either by flying as air crew, by travelling themselves or by working in support functions in and around Heathrow and the other major airports. There is a balance to be struck. Whenever I go to Heathrow to fly with my job I invariably meet constituents.

From time to time I receive emails complaining about aircraft noise over the constituency. In the south-east corner of the constituency the complaints are usually about air traffic from the major airports. Wind direction plays a key part in this as when Heathrow is on 'easterly' operations planes come in to land over the constituency. Also at busy times planes can circle in a holding pattern and the turning increases the noise at ground level. In addition, in the holiday season there seems to be an increase in planes from Luton making their ascent over the constituency. NATS acknowledge the issues but confirm that there has not been any particular change that would have increased these issues recently. I continue to be in touch with them.

The issue of a third runway has been a hot topic too. There are many factors to consider. One issue is how the provision of a third runway would take away the need for stacking of planes waiting to land. Stacking creates pollution and noise as aircraft circle in wait. I expect a third runway to do away with stacking so planes will be able to land straight away.

In other parts of the constituency I receive complaints on light pleasure aircraft practising their acrobatics over and over. This can create a noise nuisance as they circle round in the same airspace. We sit between the restricted airspace around Heathrow and Oxford airports, and in this unrestricted space this activity is permitted. I acknowledge that this is a problem and also that some people want somewhere to do this leisure activity. I am also aware that Oxford Airport would like to increase the restricted space around it which would narrow the free corridor and could potentially make this issue worse.

There is a European wide review of use of airspace which we should aim to participate in. We also need to be heard as the project for the new runway develops. These issues will be on the agenda for some time and I would be interested to know the views of constituents on them.

If you would like to share your thoughts on this or any other issue you can email me at howelljm@parliament.uk or write to me at the House of Commons or my constituency office.

Thank you all who helped with putting the fete on, from baking and making tea, designing banners, erecting the stalls, bringing your cars and the various competitions to share and enjoy. Thank you for all those who came and tested your skills, met up with friends and neighbours and not forgetting the ice creams that were well received on the hot day.

Home Library Service

Volunteers deliver books to those who can't get to a library. They are a friendly face who can stop by once every three weeks to bring books or CDs and spend some time to share their own stories.

The Home Library Service is run by Oxfordshire Libraries but would not be possible without the support of volunteers. Speak to the staff at the library if you or someone you know would like this service.

Go to www.oxfordshire.gov.uk and search for Home Library service if you would like to help.

Reminiscence

Reminiscence sets are resources designed to spark conversation and memories.

Many of these personal memories are based on work, home, festivals, leisure and family life. The boxes and packs include photos from Oxfordshire History Centre that reflect the people, places, transport, landscape and work-places that have defined local lives over the last century.

Reminiscence Boxes: about 10-15 items, mainly picture books on a variety of themes, sometimes supplemented with a DVD, music CD, postcards or facsimile artefacts that can enable people to connect with their memories.

Reminiscence Packs: about 2-3 items consisting of a larger picture book such as the Robert Opie Scrapbooks covering a decade of the twentieth century. Packs are in an A3 plastic portfolio case with a handle making them easily portable.

Pictures to Share: books cover a variety of themes such as pets, travel, countryside and shopping. They are mostly pictures and a small amount of text and are ideal to develop a sense of togetherness with someone who is finding communication difficult.

We had great fun with the “Right Royal Quiz” in June with Lois Ilbery and Tracey Smith organising the proceedings.

A fine array of hats and smart dresses added to the celebration of the Royal Wedding.

In July Valerie Calderbank brought a clear understanding of the universe with the help of her husband Michael, presenting excellent diagrams from the projector. Valerie is a Fellow of the Royal Astronomical Society and well known in her field. She knew Patrick Moore and often makes presentations on cruise ships to fellow passengers.

On 9 August we welcome Shirley Wong, who will talk on “Falls and how to manage them”.

The September meeting on 13th is “International Dog Racing” and we celebrate a Mexican fiesta. We are asked to dress appropriately. We have all been given chilli pepper seeds to plant. They won’t be fruiting then but it will be fun to see how much our efforts will have grown.

As promised in the previous newsletter we are hosting a coffee morning on 18 August in the Village Hall from 10.00am to 12.00noon (see poster). Tea and cold drinks will also be available together with delicious cakes. Last year’s event was very well supported with families and young children enjoying a relaxing morning. We look forward to seeing you.

Meanwhile our monthly meetings are held in the Village Hall on the second Thursday from 7.30pm. Welcome!

GREAT HASELEY AND DISTRICT HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY

August 2018

I do hope that by the time you read this that the weather will have broken and we will be having some welcome and much-needed rain. I am old enough to remember clearly the summer of 1976 when the dry weather lasted much longer, but I was a student and had no interest in gardening in those days so it didn't really have much impact on me.

It is now several weeks since I started to cut back sad-looking plants which just were not coping with the heat and the dry soil. This is sometimes called The Hampton Court Hack after the garden show taking place around the same time. Usually this results in some good regrowth and everything looks tidier; this year the drought has prevented regrowth. We then had 10 days away and returned to a desiccated garden, but with a fair number of plants still looking pretty good. Our pots still look great thanks to Anne and John (beyond the call of duty). I have a general policy of watering only new additions to the garden and a few favourites that need a little more water. This summer I have extended the favourites watering a bit further, but most of the garden has had no water at all and it is certainly showing. I think there are likely to be some sizeable gaps by next spring so planting opportunities will abound; there is always a plus side to everything!

The weather has encouraged pests, but also pest predators so largely there doesn't seem to be a much worse problem than usual. Our aubergine plant (we have only one in the greenhouse bed which is sufficient for us) was completely covered in aphids; there didn't seem to be a clean leaf. I do virtually no chemical spraying these days, but thought instead I would use some simple soft soap spray which works on contact. However, life got in the way and by the time I got around to doing it, the plant was covered in ladybird larvae which are large scary-looking creatures which do not resemble ladybirds other than in colour. They have a voracious appetite for aphids and the plant was clean.

Continued....

It is now producing an amazing quantity of aubergines which have a much better flavour than shop bought ones. You just need to be patient in most cases as ladybirds and other predators (including wasps which love aphids until they turn to sugar in late summer) will usually show up in time. The other pest which is enjoying the heat is red spider mite which is hard to spot until the plant becomes speckled and looks sick; by then webs can be seen particularly around the shoots of plants.

This is usually a problem in greenhouses, but I can see it is affecting a couple of Salvias deep in the border. I can't do much about it other than spray with water which the mites do not like. In the greenhouse, you could use a predator which you can buy online, but that is not practical out in the open.

I'm sure that, like ours, your lawn is straw coloured and looks dead; there is no need to worry, with the first good rain re-growth will begin and all will be well.

You certainly do not need to water it and in rapidly approaching water shortages this would be anti-social. The weeds in the lawn are now very visible so I do intend to use a spot weed killer on dandelions as it is easy to use very small amounts when everything is so clear.

We don't ever 'feed'n'weed' our lawn which is simply mown field as that just results in more mowing and my other half has plenty of that already! Also, I like having daisies and other wild flowers appearing between cuts. Just enjoy the luxury of not mowing while it lasts.

Keep watering to a minimum concentrating on pots, which will add colour to the desert, and your fruit and vegetables.

Enjoy your harvest.

Wendy, Angela and Jennie would like to say a big 'thank you' to all those who supported our Charity Car Boot Sale on 7th July.

As a result we will be sending £600 to New Dawn School in Kenya.

The funds will go towards teacher support – the school employs fully qualified teachers who take a reduced salary to enable the students to be funded through their secondary education. It is often difficult for these teachers to make ends meet, particularly if they have a family to support.

Pitch holders and buyers seemed to enjoy their time with us and we had many appreciative comments – it was particularly mentioned that small local car boot sales have a very friendly atmosphere. It was good too, to see so many villager folk come for coffee and Jennie's famous bacon butties.

Watch this space for next year's date (probably earlier in the year than July). If you would like to know more about the charity we are supporting then please get in touch with me: Wendy@taylorhill.co.uk M: 07966 132128

July 2018

The youth season has now ended and we have had many successes.

We have had matches with our Under 9/11/13 and the children have represented the club with great sportsmanship, we are very proud of all of them.

Thanks to all who have helped out at our sessions, we have a great band of volunteers this year.

The senior teams are currently mid table and are coping with the inevitable injuries, holidays and the start of the football season that impacts on availability. The midweek T20 team have had some excellent results and it looks very likely they will reach finals day, to be held at the pretty ground in the Wormsley Estate.

On the ground, the netting is finished and teams have been working hard at repairing the outfield. The dry weather has made it hard for the new grass to settle in but we are hoping for some rain so we can finish the repairs. We are working on some renovations on the surrounds and within the clubhouse over the next few months.

Aunt Sally teams are enjoying the finer weather and the season is going well and the Tug of War teams are training very hard and we wish them all good luck for 3rd August.

Chris Craddock and her team work very hard to keep the villagers refreshed, always an amazing selection of cakes and usually over 30 people pop in for a coffee and a chat on the 2nd Wednesday of each month.

We look forward to welcoming new members to the Club, forms available at the bar. Come and enjoy our facilities and see some fine cricket.
