THE PURPOSE OF THIS DIRECTORY

is to provide facts about newspapers and periodicals, and authoritative information concerning the states, cities, towns and marketing areas in which these publications are issued and circulate.

This volume is the recognized key to every kind of publication issued in the United States and Canada. It is widely used as the basic authority by people in business, industry, education, agriculture, religion, government and advertising.

Please read the pages immediately following to be sure your use of this Directory will be efficient and satisfactory.

A GUIDE TO THE USE OF THE DIRECTORY

For the benefit of new subscribers and for a better understanding by all users of this book, a few paragraphs follow that should clarify the terms that must of necessity be abbreviated, make evident the method used in compiling it, and explain the absence of material that might well be included in its pages if space permitted. For ease in reference the material is grouped under self-explanatory alphabetized headings. Population figures for the United States are from the 1960 Census tabulations.

ALPHABETICAL ARRANGEMENT OF PUBLICATIONS In each city and town newspapers are listed in alphabetical order by their distinctive names. The word "The," if used, appears after the name. "Morning," "Evening," "Weekly," or other words indicating the period of issue, are not given in the title, nor is the name of the city or town in which the paper circulates. Thus, the "Chicago Evening News" is listed under Chicago as "News." When the title pertains to a state or county, however, the name of the section is included, examples being, "Arizona Republic" in Phoenix, Arizona; "Ventura County News" in Ventura, California. Occasionally, too, the name of a city is retained to distinguish a paper from another of similar title. It is our intention to list newspapers in the town in which they circulate chiefly. For this reason the address of the publisher may in a few instances differ from the town in which the paper is listed

BRACKETS When two or more papers in a town or city are under the same management or regularly sell space in combination, they are bracketed in the DIRECTORY. As examples, see the News and the Post-Herald in Birmingham, Alabama; the News and the Times in Cumberland, Maryland.

CIRCULATIONS All circulation statements obtained from the publishers are for the latest date possible, i.e., they represent an average circulation for six months preceding the compilation of the DIRECTORY in which they appear.

By an average paid circulation is meant, as is clearly expressed on all forms and questionnaires: the average net paid circulation per issue (after deducting all left-over, unsold, returned, file, sample, exchange, or advertisers' copies, and special editions) for six preceding months.

Free and controlled circulations are so indicated. The terms are not synonymous. These also represent a six months' average, exclusive of left-over, unsold, file, sample, exchange and advertisers' copies.

In the list of daily newspapers in the back of the book, it is possible to include circulation figures that arrive too late for incorporation in the catalog pages. Reference to this fact is made in the catalog just preceding each state's list of towns and cities. Variation is also found between the catalog and other of the classified lists because of the later printing of the latter which allows inclusion in them of last-minute changes.

Circulations given in this DIRECTORY are divided into nine classes: A.B.C. Audits; A.B.C. Statements; P.O. Statements; B.P.A. Audits; V.A.C. Statements; C.C.A.B. Audits; Sworn Statements; Publishers' Statements; Estimated figures. Under the following italicized headings brief explanations are given.

A.B.C. Statements and Audits Members of the Audit Bureau of Circulations are so designated by symbols preceding their circulation figures. Their Audits are indicated by (●); September 30 Statements by (★★); March 31 and June 30 Statements by (★) These are in bold face type, as that is our method in all cases of indicating sworn statements. Only the total net paid circulation figures are given. A few of these statements cover only a three-month period; the majority, however, are for a six-month period ending with the date indicated. Every circulation period covered by the figures shown in each case is in or during the year 1961.

Members of the Audit Bureau of Circulations are sometimes not designated as such in the DIRECTORY. This occurs only when a consolidation has taken place, invalidating the latest available statement, or when no up-to-date statement is made available by the Audit Bureau of Circulations, 123 North Wacker Drive, Chicago (6), Ill.

P. O. Statements Circulation figures given in the statement of ownership, management and circulation made by newspapers on October 1 of each year to the Post Office Department of the Federal Government are listed in the DIRECTORY in bold face type. They are called Post Office Statements and are indicated by the symbol (§).

B.P.A. Audits Circulation figures from Controlled and Qualified Paid Audits are preceded by (>) and are given in bold face type, showing that they are sworn statements, made for the Business Publications Audit of Circulation, Inc., 420 Lexington Avenue, New York (17), N. Y.

V.A.C. Statements and Audits Circulation figures from Verified Audit Circulation Co. are preceded by (⊗) and are entered in bold face type indicating sworn statements. The figures may be controlled, net paid or free and are indicated accordingly. V.A.C. is located at 8350 Santa Monica Blvd., Los Angeles (46), California.

C.C.A.B. Audits Controlled circulation figures from Canadian Circulations Audit Board, Inc., 73 Scollard St., Toronto (5), Ontario, are given in bold face type, preceded by (♣).

Sworn and Publishers' Statements; Estimated Circulation Figures Figures furnished us by publishers fall into three classifications. First, those that are supported by affidavit are listed in bold face type as sworn statements. Secondly, those unsupported by affidavit are preceded by a double dagger (‡) and are called publishers' statements. Thirdly, those given to us, but lacking a signature are listed as estimated. In addition those publications that have failed to reply are given estimated figures for one year, based on the statement for the preceding year. Estimated figures are accompanied by no symbol and are printed in light face type.

COUNTY SEATS Every town that is a County Seat is marked with a dagger (‡) immediately after the name of the town.

MAP LOCATIONS Following the name of each town and city in the book there is, in parenthesis, a capital letter and figure. These come immediately before the population figures. This letter and figure indicate where that town appears on the map. Each map carries symbols along the edges. At top and bottom appear the letters, and along both sides appear the figures. The town will be found near to the point where a line drawn down from the given letter and another line drawn across from the given figure intersect.

CLASSIFIED LISTS Consult the "Table of Contents" for location of all Special Groupings of publications such as Daily newspapers, Weekly and Semi-weekly newspapers Daily Periodicals, Labor and all other Trade or Technical or Industrial publications.

NO ADVERTISING Publications which are believed to decline general advertising are indicated in the DIRECTORY by the abbreviated form "No adv."

OMISSION OF CIRCULATIONS In some cases it becomes necessary to omit circulation figures. Cases in point are: when the information received is indefinite, contradictory, or otherwise unsatisfactory; when experience or reliable information creates a doubt as to the accuracy of the figures sent us; when more recent information indicates that statements made earlier in the year do not represent conditions at the time the DIRECTORY is issued; and when publishers themselves have requested the omission.

The continued existence of publications failing to answer our queries is checked through other sources. No response direct from the publisher for three years or longer is indicated in the circulation column by the symbol (—).

RAILROADS Abbreviations are listed in town headings. They are keyed to the map preceding each state.

POSTAL ZONE NUMBERS In all of the larger cities and towns where the postal authorities have requested the use of postal zone numbers, we show the correct postal zone number for each address in parenthesis after the street address. In addressing any publication in such cities or towns you should place the postal zone number on the envelope immediately after the name of the town.

PUBLICATIONS EXCLUDED In accordance with our usual custom, a number of publications which are not required by the general advertiser or the public have been omitted from the DIRECTORY. Among these are high school and junior college papers, local church papers, papers issued by business houses primarily for the promotion of their own interests (generally known as House Organs), and publications issued by institutions, unless these have influence outside the particular institution by which they are published. A few publications established during the past year are also omitted. Information concerning them may be obtained by writing to the editorial office of the DIRECTORY.

SUB-EDITIONS As far as possible, we distinguish between independent publications and those which are simply reprints of some other paper, usually with little or no alteration beyond the name. Papers so issued are entered in the catalog under the name of the leading paper, and under the place of apparent publication the name of the edition is given, with reference to the paper or house issuing it, followed in many instances by the name of the town to which mail should be addressed.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICES The many variations in the subscription prices of daily papers in the larger cities make it impossible, in the space available, to give such prices accurately. The subscription rates requested of all papers are those paid by local subscribers. Dailies are requested to give the rate when delivered by carrier. Differences must be expected between these prices and those in zones other than the one in which the paper is published.

In the case of newspapers that are members of the Audit Bureau of Circulations many of the subscription prices listed are computed from the monthly or weekly carrier price given in the respective A.B.C. statements.

TOWN HEADINGS Due to the condensation necessary in this work, headings for towns and cities under 25,000 contain reference to banking facilities only when these are not available in the town being described. For the same reason there is also no mention made in these headings of airports.

Much of the statistical data obtained from Government sources is necessarily more than one year old. These figures are the latest ones available.

LATE INFORMATION The last pages in this book, following the Alphabetical Index, contain supplementary information that reached the editorial office after the pages on which it would normally appear had gone to press.

Be sure to consult these supplemental pages.

FINAL COUNT FOR POPULATION OF CONTINENTAL

UNITED STATES BY REGIONS, DIVISIONS

AND STATES: APRIL 1, 1960

The population of the United States on April 1, 1960, was 179,323,175, according to final figures from the 1960 Census of Population published by the Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce. From 1950 to 1960 the United States experienced an all-time record population growth between successive censuses of 27,997,377, an 8.8 million increase over the record of the previous decade. The rate of increase was 18.5 per cent.

The West led the four regions in the amount and rate of growth. The population of the West increased 7.9 million, or 38.9 per cent. The South ranked second, and increased 7.8 million. The North Central region increased 7.2 million, and the Northeast 5.2 million.

In 1960 New York continues to be the most populous state, and Alaska the least. Other highest ranking in order are California, Pennsylvania, Illinois and Ohio. California and Florida led in the amount of growth with 5.1 million and 2.2 million respectively. Florida, 78.7 per cent, and Nevada, 78.2 per cent, led in the rate of growth. Three states West Virginia, Arkansas, Mississippi and the District of Columbia lost population.

There were five cities of 1,000,000 inhabitants or more; twenty-one cities of 500,000 or more; one hundred and thirty cities of 100,000 or more.

Since the 1960 Census, population in the United States has continued to increase. The estimated population of all fifty states as of July 1, 1961 was 182,953,000. An increase of 3,630,000, or 2.0%, since the April 1, 1960 Census. Only one state, West Virginia, and the District of Columbia show a population decrease since 1960. States with the greatest percentage increase are Arizona, 6.8; Florida, 5.5; Nevada, 4.9; California, 4.3. The largest numerical increases were recorded in California, 680,000; Florida, 270,000; New York, 251,000; Texas, 208,000.

POPULATION OF THE UNITED STATES

Continental United States 179,323,175

United States, including territories and possessions, 181,834,035
(United States Census, 1960)

Cities, towns and villages of the United States and Canada, arranged by states and provinces in alphabetical order and sub-divided into groups in each state and province according to the number of inhabitants, from 2,500 upward. The Census Bureau classes as urban those places which have a population of 2,500 or more. Places with less than 2,500 are classed as rural.

ALABAMA

Population 3,266,740 (U. S. Census, 1960)

State Capital, MONTGOMERY

Alabama is bounded on the north by Tennessee, east by Georgia and Florida, south by Florida and the Gulf of Mexico, and west by Mississippi. Its extreme length, north to south, is 336 miles. Its breadth varies from 150 to 200 miles. The total land area is 51,078 square miles.

The Allegheny range enters the state at the northeast and extends toward the center, finally losing itself in mere hills; then follows a tract of rolling prairies interspersed with pine barrens and rich alluvial bottom lands. These bottom lands include the black belt region, one of the greatest cattle producing districts in the world. From this region to the Florida border and the Gulf the land is gently undulating and is covered with forests.

The mountain districts and the valley of the Tennessee are covered with fine forests of hardwood timber. The mineral region occupies the northeastern part, while the northwest is a good agricultural and stock raising country. The climate is temperate and fairly uniform. The Weather Bureau at Montgomery gives the temperature (annual monthly mean) at 65.8; highest degree on record, 107; lowest —5. Total annual precipitation is 51.33 inches.

Much of the state's foreign commerce passes through Mobile, exports from this customs district were valued at approximately $152,200,000 in 1960. Birmingham, "the Pittsburgh of the South" is in the center of the mining industry. The largest institution of higher education in the State is the University of Alabama, located at University (Tuscaloosa).

ALASKA

Population 226,167 (U. S. Census, 1960)

State Capital, JUNEAU

Alaska is bounded on the north by the Arctic Ocean, east by the Yukon Territory and British Columbia, Canada, south by the Pacific Ocean, and west by Bering Sea and Strait and the Arctic Ocean. Including the Aleutian Islands, it has a total area of 586,400 square miles, rank in area, first. Its greatest length from north to south is 1,200 miles; its breadth over 800 miles.

The northern half is low with great morasses along the streams, and is populated only by a few Indians. The southern half is mountainous and along the southeast coast are some of the highest peaks in North America. Near the center is Mt. McKinley (20,257 feet), loftiest elevation on the entire continent. The southwesterly section comprises the peninsula of Alaska and the Aleutian Islands, the latter the center of the fur seal fisheries. This district is mountainous and actively volcanic. The coast from the southern boundary to Cape Spencer is lined with a chain of islands between which and the mainland are salt water channels navigable for the largest steamships. The Yukon River has a length of 2,300 miles, of which 1,765 miles are in Alaska and 1,200 miles are navigable.

In the interior temperatures range from about 60° below zero in winter to 90° in summer; on the coast and the Aleutian Islands they range from zero to 80°. The northerly province bordering the polar sea is the only one in which arctic conditions prevail. The Weather Bureau at Juneau gives the temperature (annual monthly mean) as 42.4; highest on record 89; lowest on record -17. Total annual precipitation is 84.44 inches.

POPULATION

Rank among the states including District of Columbia (1960), fifty-first. Urban residents in 1960, 37.9%. In 1960, of the 226,167 total population, 174,546 were white, 51,621 were non-white.

AGRICULTURE

Fairbanks, with Tanana, is the center of a growing agricultural region of a great inland plateau rolling gently north from the barrier of mountain ranges along the south coast. The Matanuska Valley colonization project, established in 1935, has established several thousand permanent residents of the Valley area.

A cooperative plan to coordinate all agricultural research activities in Alaska was adopted early in 1949, to integrate the full technical and physical facilities of both the Federal Department of Agriculture and the University of Alaska. Projects now in operation include animal husbandry, soils, horticulture, agronomy, agricultural economics, agricultural engineering, plant pathology and entomology. Agricultural projects in livestock, crops, and gardening are also conducted by the University.

FISHERIES

The Alaska fisheries engaged 18,674 people in 1959. The commercial catch of fishery products during 1959 totalled 324,171,980 lbs., valued at $28,785,660. The salmon catch, totaling 147,277,979 lbs., was more than ninety-three million lbs. less than in 1958. Canned products as prepared for market amounted to $53,403,168; frozen, $13,448,396; cured, $3,199,784; by-products (oil and meal), $2,088,115, and fresh fish and seafood, $64,058.

160 wholesale and manufacturing establishments were operated in Alaska in 1959, giving employment to 6,512 people. A strong demand for frozen food products required the freezing of large quantities of salmon which might otherwise have been canned or shipped fresh to market.

FURS

Alaska is famous as a big game country and is protected by game commission laws. In 1960 there were taken 40,616 fur seal skins on Pribilof Islands, valued at $2,550,000. Fur take in Alaska (year ending 6-30-60): beaver, 24,000, value, $600,000; mink, 20,640, value, $619,200; muskrat, 132,530, value $132,530; fox, 2,551, value, $61,348. Total fur value, $1,623,791.

FORESTS

Under the care of the Government are 20,772,000 acres set apart as two national forests. The Tongass is in southeastern Alaska, and the Chugach is in the Prince William Sound region. Timber stand in the national forests, is estimated to be 84,760,000 board feet. Timber cut during the year ending 6-30-58 comprised 199,893,000 board feet, valued at $463,596. Principal woods: Western hemlock, sitka spruce, western red cedar and Alaska cedar. There is an enormous supply of timber suitable for pulp.

MINERALS

Value of production (1958), $21,450,000. Principal minerals in order of their value: coal, gold, sand and gravel, stone.

MISCELLANEOUS

Railroad affairs are conducted under supervision of the Secretary of the Interior and a General Manager in immediate charge with headquarters in Anchorage. Rail operating revenue for 1957 was $15,224,909. Diesel locomotives handled the greater proportion of freight and passenger movement. Frequent ship connections link the south coast towns with Seattle, Portland and San Francisco. River boats are maintained during the season of navigation. Six major airlines connect with the United States.

Roads and trails have opened up to development nearly all sections. A highway through Mt. McKinley National Park is open for traffic. Thousands of vacationers visit the Park annually. Motor vehicles registered (Sept., 1961 est.), 87,000. Number of telephones (1-1-61), 42,700. Number of retail stores (1958), 1,659; sales, $202,038,000.

Purely military consideration provided the motive for the opening, December 1, 1942, of the Alaska Highway for truck traffic, from Dawson Creek, B. C., through Canada and the Yukon Territory to Fairbanks, Alaska. Primarily the road is for defense, because it will give Alaska safe, overland means of communication. Opened to tourist travel in 1948, the Highway was used by approximately 50,000 vehicles in 1952.

Total deposits as of June 30, 1950 in banks were $78,104,000. There are (1955), 81 incorporated municipalities whose total assessed valuation approximates $287,972,297. Number of post offices (1960), 215.

The schools, including the elementary and high schools are under general supervision of the Alaska Department of Education. The office of Indian Affairs has supervision over the education and general social welfare of the natives. The University of Alaska is located at College.

ARIZONA

Population 1,802,161 (U. S. Census, 1960)

State Capital, PHOENIX

Arizona is bounded on the north by Utah and Nevada, south by Mexico, east by New Mexico and west by California and Nevada. Its length, north to south, is 390 miles, its breadth about 300 miles. The total land area is 113,575 square miles, its rank in area, sixth.

The Colorado River flows through the northern part of the state, and forms nearly all the western boundary. Its Grand Canyon is one of the scenic wonders of the world. The state is generally picturesque and in addition to the Grand Canyon has such other outstanding items of interest as the Petrified Forest, Natural Bridge, Indian pueblos, ruins of cliff dwellers, and the great Roosevelt Dam, which supplies irrigating waters for the richest agricultural district, the Salt River Valley. From the latter and from other sources of irrigation, agriculture has received great stimulation. Hoover Dam in the Black Canyon harnesses the Colorado and is the greatest dam in the world.

Extending from Grand Canyon to the Mogollon Mountains are large forests of pine. In the center of the state is a richly mineralized belt. Hot springs are found in the southwest, and the arid, semi-tropical southeast affords relief to sufferers from pulmonary complaints. At Flagstaff is located the Lowell Observatory. The University of Arizona is at Tucson.

The Weather Bureau at Phoenix gives the temperature (annual monthly mean) as 70.3; highest degree on record, 118; lowest, 16; annual precipitation, 7.85 inches.

POPULATION

Rank among the states (1960), thirty fifth. Urban residents in 1960, 74.5%. In 1960, of the 1,802,161 total population, 1,169,517 were white; 132,644 were non-white.

AGRICULTURE

Number of farms (1959), 7,219. Farm acreage, 40,007,926. Average acreage per farm, 5,542.0. Average value per farm, $174,077. Farms selling products over $10,000 in value, 3,524.

Cash receipts from farm marketings (1960): crops, $262,667,000; livestock and products (includes meat animals, dairy products, poultry and eggs), $159,816,000.

Value of sales of chief crops (1960): cotton (value of production), $131,929,000, rank, fifth; cottonseed (value of production), $17,620,000, rank, fifth; hay, $15,475,000, rank, third; barley, $9,197,000, rank, seventh; sorghum grain, $5,837,000, rank, eighth; potatoes, $5,785,000; wheat, $1,482,000; alfalfa seed, $736,000; corn, $386,000; oats, $277,000.

Value of sales of fruits (noncitrus) (1960): grapes, $1,852,000. (citrus) (1960-61): oranges, $5,337,000; grapefruit, $2,419,000; lemons, $2,081,000.

Farm value of animals on farms (1-1-61): all cattle and calves, $126,750,000; all sheep and lambs, $7,710,000; hogs and pigs, $673,000.

Cash receipts from poultry (1960): eggs, $5,534,000; chickens (farm and commercial broilers), $798,000; turkeys, $475,000.

Cash receipts from dairy products (1960): all milk and cream, $22,460,000. Total milk production on farms, 438,000,000 lbs. Dairy products (1960): creamed cottage cheese, 5,814,000 lbs.; ice cream, 3,475,000 gallons.

FORESTS

Total lumber production (1958 est.), 302,619,000 feet, b.m. Principal woods: ponderosa pine, douglas fir, white fir.

MANUFACTURES

Statistics for 1958: value added by manufacture, $374,379,000. Leading industry groups: transportation equipment, food and kindred products. Total expenditures for new plant and new equipment, $26,718,000.

Final figures for value added by manufacture in each of the leading industry groups are available through Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C.

MINERALS

Value of production (1958), $314,520,000. Principal minerals in order of value: copper, sand and gravel, cement, uranium ore.

MISCELLANEOUS

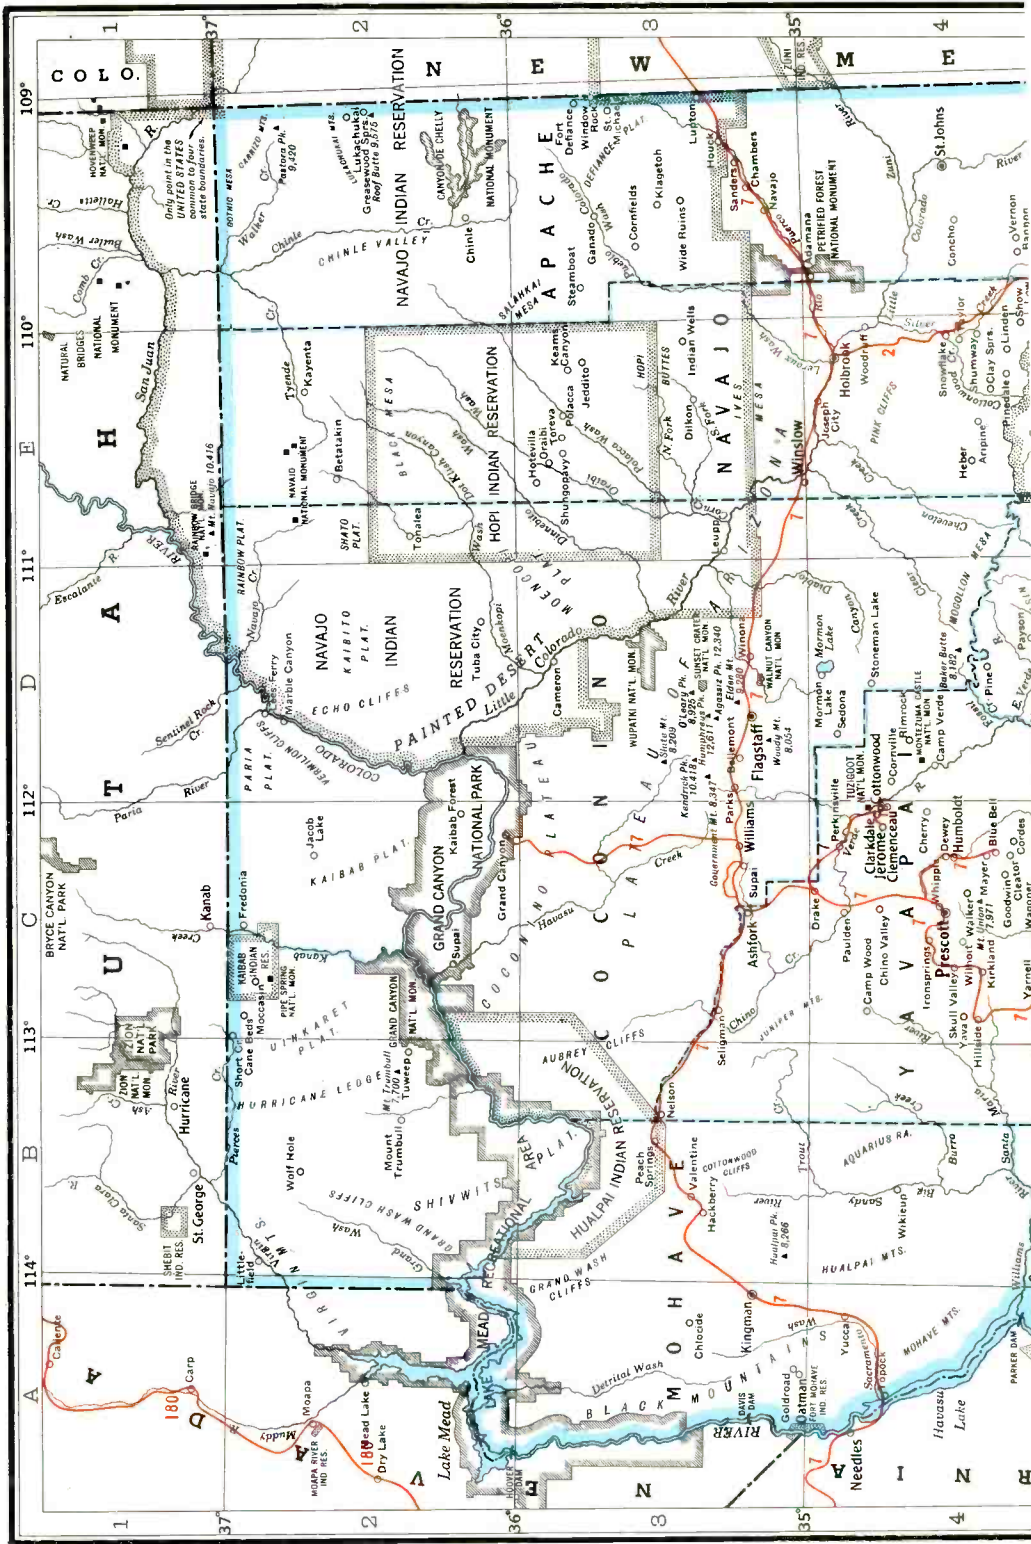

Number of telephones (1-1-61), 452,500. Motor vehicles registered (Sept. 1961, est.), 657,000. Number of post offices (1960), 242. Number of retail stores (1958), 11,465; sales, $1,412,375,000.

CALIFORNIA

Population 15,717,204 (U. S. Census, 1960)

State Capital, SACRAMENTO

California is bounded on the north by Oregon, east by Nevada and Arizona, south by Lower California, west by the Pacific Ocean. Its length is approximately 770 miles; its breadth 230 miles; land area, 156,740 square miles; rank, in area, third.

The state has a coast line of 1,000 miles indented by many bays, among them Humboldt, San Francisco, of Golden Gate fame, and San Diego. Crossing these waterways are the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge and the Golden Gate Bridge, both of which have attracted wide attention as feats of engineering. Two mountain ranges traverse it, the Sierra Nevada in the east and the Coast Range in the west. Between them lie the beautiful and fertile Sacramento and San Joaquin Valleys. Peaks of the Coast Range rise to 8,000 feet; in the Sierras altitudes exceed 10,000 feet. Mt. Whitney is 14,501 feet above sea level and the highest point in the United States. Only 70 miles from it, in the same county, is the lowest point in the entire country, Death Valley, a depression that is 276 feet below sea level.

The northern part of the state is an elevated mountain region, noted for timber, minerals and fruits. The central and southern portions, except in the mountainous districts, have soils of unexcelled fertility. The southwestern part is valuable for minerals, contains some fertile valleys and also arid, barren deserts.

Like the topography, the climate is extremely varied, ranging from the temperatures of snow-capped mountains to those of the tropics. And its rainfall varies from 75 inches in the wet season in the north to about two inches in the desert regions. The Weather Bureau at Fresno gives the temperature (annual monthly mean) as 63.3; highest temperature recorded as 115; lowest as 17; total annual precipitation as 9.50 inches.

There are large forests in the state, especially on the North Coast Range. In several of the national parks, among them celebrated Yosemite, are to be seen the giant Sequoias. The University of California, one of the largest universities in the country, is located at Berkeley with a branch in Los Angeles. Two other noted universities are Leland Stanford at Palo Alto and University of Southern California at Los Angeles. Lick Observatory is located at Mt. Hamilton. Near San Diego is the Palomar Mountain Observatory, housing the largest reflecting telescope ever made. Hollywood, a suburb of Los Angeles, is the center of the motion picture industry.

COLORADO

Population, 1,753,947 (U. S. Census, 1960)

State Capital, DENVER

Colorado is bounded on the north by Nebraska and Wyoming, east by Nebraska and Kansas, south by Oklahoma and New Mexico, and west by Utah. Its breadth from east to west, is 380 miles; length, 280 miles. The total land area is 103,922 square miles; rank in area, eighth.

The state, justly famous for its scenery, is intersected near the center by the main range of the Rocky Mountains, known as the "Continental Divide," and includes its highest points. Among them are Mounts Elbert and Massive, the 2nd and 3rd highest peaks in the country, and famed Pike's Peak. The mountains enclose wonderful valleys or basins, known as parks. Many are small but several are nearly 2,000 square miles in area. These parks are well timbered, and abound with beautiful scenery, being diversified with low hills and ridges. All the great rivers which rise in the state have their sources in these hills. The average altitude of this state is over 6,800 feet above sea level, and the lowest altitude, along the Arkansas River, in Browsers county, is 3,350 feet. There are forty peaks towering to an altitude of 14,000 feet or more. In crossing the mountains the height reached by railroads is 10,856 feet. Timber is found in many places in Colorado at a height of 11,000 feet, and the snow line in summer is nearly 14,000 feet, while in the European Alps but little arboreal growth is found at over 6,000 feet, and the line of perpetual snow is between 9,000 and 10,000 feet. Wheat and oats have attained maturity at 7,000 to 8,000 feet, barley at over 10,000 feet and apples, pears, plums, cherries and small fruits between 7,000 and 8,000 feet. There are many mineral springs, some reputed to have medicinal value. Everywhere is unusual conformation and coloration. The eastern part of Colorado is an immense plain which was for many years devoted to cattle raising, but is now being rapidly developed into one of the finest agricultural districts in the country. The climate is warm in summer and cold in winter, but dry and healthful. It is especially attractive to persons desiring relief from tuberculosis. The Weather Bureau at Denver gives the temperature (annual monthly mean) at 50.4; highest on record, 105; lowest on record, -29. Total annual precipitation is 14.01 inches.

The state is amply supplied with railway facilities, and freight tonnage and tourist travel are heavy. The Moffat railroad tunnel, 32,150 feet long, under James Peak, completed in 1928, opened up an important territory west of the Continental Divide. The University of Colorado is located at Boulder, the Colorado School of Mines at Golden.

CONNECTICUT

Population 2,535,234 (U. S. Census, 1960)

State Capital, HARTFORD

Connecticut is bounded on the north by Massachusetts, east by Rhode Island, south by Long Island Sound and west by New York. The average breadth from east to west is 86 miles; average length, 55 miles. The total land area is 4,899 square miles.

The eastern part of the state has many ridges of low hills with fertile valleys. The Connecticut River valley, at a distance from the Sound, is very fertile. In the south the land is broken and the soil sandy, but when well fertilized yields good crops. The valleys of the Connecticut and Housatonic Rivers are immensely productive, the former especially so in cigar leaf tobacco. In the west the surface is rough and the hills are abrupt, rising to an altitude of nearly 2,000 feet. The state has an unusual water supply for industrial uses. The Weather Bureau at Hartford gives the temperature (annual monthly mean) as 49.7; highest on record, 101; lowest on record, —18. Total annual precipitation, 44.90 inches.

The State of Connecticut is noted for its manufacturing industries. Its capital city, Hartford, is noted for the extent and variety of its insurance interests. There are hundreds of beautiful country homes of New York and other city people in the state, especially in the western part. The state has many fine educational institutions, including Yale University at New Haven, founded in 1701. The Connecticut River is open to navigation from its mouth to Hartford.

DELAWARE

Population 446,292 (U. S. Census, 1960)

State Capital, DOVER

Delaware is bounded on the north by Pennsylvania, east by the Delaware River and Bay and the Atlantic Ocean, south by Maryland, and west by Maryland and Pennsylvania. Its length from north to south is 110 miles; its breadth varies from about 9 miles to 36 miles. The total land area is 1,978 square miles; second smallest state in area.

The surface in the north is somewhat hilly, and southward the land is rolling, with fringes of marshes and swamp tracts along the indentations of Delaware Bay. The southern portion is a sandy region, but by skillful farming has been made highly productive. The soil of the interior is light and easily cultivated. The Weather Bureau at Wilmington gives the temperature (annual monthly mean) at 54.3; highest on record, 107; lowest, —12; total annual precipitation, 43.88 inches.

The manufacturing center of the state is Wilmington, a port on the Delaware River. It is close to the Delaware and Chesapeake Canal, a waterway which crosses the state and connects the two bays of the same names, greatly facilitating shipping between Philadelphia and Baltimore and other ports in Maryland and Virginia. Other harbors are Lewes and New Castle. The University of Delaware is located at Newark.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

Population 763,956 (U. S. Census, 1960)

(For map see Maryland)

The District of Columbia, is enclosed by the state of Maryland and is bounded on the west by the Potomac River, which separates it from the state of Virginia. Its land area is 62 square miles.

It is the seat of the Federal Government of the United States and most of its activities center around the departments of the Government. These divisions are housed in spacious and attractive buildings that give the city distinction, invite the inspection of an enormous number of visitors, and add to the beauty of a place which abounds in trees, flowers and natural scenery as well as charm of layout. Across the Potomac there are additional sights that draw the attention of those who visit the District: Arlington, the National Cemetery, and the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, Mt. Vernon and Alexandria, all rich in national and historical interest. Industrial activity has been primarily for local consumption.

The Potomac, which flows into Chesapeake Bay, is navigable and wide and deep enough to accommodate large vessels. Washington is the chief railway stopping point en route between North and South. The Weather Bureau gives the temperature (annual monthly mean) of the city as 55.8; highest on record as 106; lowest, —15; total annual precipitation as 41.11 inches.

POPULATION

Rank among the states (1960), fortieth. In 1960, of the 763,956 total population, 345,263 were white; 418,693 were non-white.

MANUFACTURES

Statistics for 1958: value added by manufacture, $197,642,000. Leading industry groups: printing and publishing, food and kindred products, stone, clay and glass products. Total expenditures for new plant and new equipment, $14,207,000.

Final figures for value added by manufacture in each of the leading industry groups are available through Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C.

MISCELLANEOUS

Number of telephones (1-1-61), 644,700. Motor vehicles registered (Sept. 1961, est.), 210,000. One post office (1960). Number of retail stores (1958), 6,325; sales, $1,304,135,000.

FLORIDA

Population 4,951,560 (U. S. Census, 1960)
State Capital, TALLAHASSEE

Florida is bounded on the north by Alabama and Georgia, on the east by the Atlantic Ocean, on the west by the Gulf of Mexico. A 50-mile stretch of the Perdido River on the northwest edge completes the circuit. These boundaries enclose a land area of 54,861 square miles and 3,805 square miles of water—a total area of 58,666 square miles. The general coastline measures 1,197 miles around the state. The extreme distance from east to west across Florida measures 467 miles, while the extreme length from the 31st parallel to the southernmost keys is about 444 miles.

Of the 34,727,680 acres of land, 66% remains in forests while only about 1/10th of the farmland is planted to crops. In general, Florida vegetation is divided among seven distinct areas: The flatwoods, scrub lands, grassy swamps, savannas, salt marshes, hammocks and high pinelands. While Florida contains more varieties of native trees than any other region in America, only five are the true natives: Oak, pine, cypress, palm and mangrove trees. The pine, from the stunted sand pine to the stately open-crown longleaf variety, is the most common tree in Florida.

Over 30,000 lakes and bays dot the state, headed by mammoth Lake Okeechobee, 730 square miles of shallow fresh water, roughly triangular in shape and 25 to 31 miles across. Okeechobee overflows today through great levees and flood gates into canals and into the sea. For centuries, the lake simply overflowed its banks into the beginning of the Indian-named "River of Grass," the Everglades. Altogether 858,500 acres of land and 370,000 acres of water and swamps compose the Everglades National Park.

There are no high elevations in the state. The area in Walton County near De Funiak Springs in the northwest corner of the state is listed as the highest at 345 feet. Iron Mountain, 325 feet, is the highest point in peninsular Florida.

Climate is semi-tropical, but temperatures do not reach extremes. The weather bureau at Miami lists the average monthly mean temperature at 75.3; the highest 95 in July, of 1942; the lowest 27 in February, 1917.

Florida's economy is based on agriculture, industry and tourism. The citrus growing and processing activities in Florida outrank all other U. S. citrus production. Industrially, in 1956, a total of 441 new plants and major expansions cover a multitude of manufacturing, mining, engineering and research organizations.

The tourist industry is a major factor in Florida economy. In 1960 there were 10,794,842 visitors. The estimated income from tourism was $1,855,417,443.

The larger educational institutions include the University of Florida (Gainesville); Florida State University (Tallahassee); and University of Miami (Coral Gables).

GEORGIA

Population 3,943,116 (U. S. Census, 1960)

State Capital, ATLANTA

Georgia is bounded on the north by Tennessee and North Carolina, northeast by South Carolina, southeast by the Atlantic Ocean, south by Florida, and west by Alabama. Extreme length from north to south is 315 miles, extreme breadth, 250 miles. Total land area is 58,518 square miles.

The surface is varied. Along the coast it is intersected by numerous rivers and sounds; and the country for miles inland is a succession of ridges of pines and live oaks and swamps of cypress. The great Okefinokee swamp is in the southeast. Back from the coast is a stretch of sandy land, mostly pine barrens yielding quantities of timber and naval stores. A series of terraces bring the region in the middle of the state to about 575 feet above tidewater, from which elevation it rises toward the north more rapidly, until it becomes mountainous, being there crossed by spurs of the Appalachians. Georgia's forest acreage, largest of any state east of the Mississippi, supports an industry that does an annual business in excess of $600,000,000. The Weather Bureau at Atlanta gives the temperature (annual monthly mean) as 61.4; highest on record, 103; lowest on record, —8. The total annual precipitation is 49.75 inches.

Savannah is one of the chief south Atlantic seaports and has an important foreign and domestic commerce. In 1954 the value of exports shipped from Savannah amounted to $77,900,000. The new State Port at Savannah, opened late in 1952, gives Georgia one of the most modern and efficient docking and cargo-handling facilities in the world. Atlanta is accounted one of the progressive cities of the South and nationally rates high in banking strength. There are numerous mineral springs in Georgia, of which the Indian Spring in Butts county and Bowden Lithia, or Salt Spring, in Douglas county, are among the best known. At Warm Springs there is a sanitarium for the treatment of sufferers from infantile paralysis. The University of Georgia, located at Athens, the Georgia School of Technology, Atlanta and Georgia State College of Business Administration, Atlanta are the largest institutions of higher education in the state.

HAWAII

Population 632,772 (U. S. Census, 1960)

State Capital, HONOLULU

The Hawaiian Islands are situated in the North Pacific Ocean about 2,100 nautical miles southwest of San Francisco. There are 20 islands. The combined area of the eight principal islands is 6,435 square miles (about the size of Connecticut). The Island of Hawaii is the largest (4,030 square miles), but the concentration of population is on Oahu.

The Islands are mountainous and volcanic in origin. The average medium elevation of all of the islands is about 2,000 feet. Notable exceptions are Mauna Kea, the highest peak (13,784 feet—dormant), Mauna Loa (13,679 feet—active), Haleakala (10,025 feet). Mount Waialeale, Kauai Island, has more rain than any place in the world with a 28-year annual average of 489 inches.

Hawaii, with its abundant rainfall and prevailing northeast trade winds, has a mild, uniform climate with a mean average temperature of 75.1° (the highest on record is 90°, the lowest, 52°). The City of Honolulu has 286 days of sunshine and 79 cloudy days during the average year and less than 24 inches of rainfall.

Honolulu, the capital city located on the Island of Oahu, is the commercial center and seat of government in the island state. The University of Hawaii is located in Honolulu as is the world-famous Waikiki Beach. Also situated in Honolulu is one of the world's largest army posts (Schofield Barracks) and the nation's largest naval base and shipyard installation (Pearl Harbor). This capital city has one of the highest per capita incomes in the United States.

Rank among the states (1960), forty-fourth Urban population (1960), 76.5%. In 1960, of the 632,772 total population, 202,230 were white, 430,542 were non-white.

There were (1950) 189 public schools, 108 private schools, and 59 school centers for adult education, serving over 105,000 children and adults. As of January, 1959, public school enrollment alone had increased to 135,088.

Luxuriant tropical vegetation clothes these Islands. The soil is very fertile, and all tropical fruits and vegetables are grown. In 1950, farms numbered 5,887, valued at $195,277,121; contained 2,914,420 acres. The total land area in cultivated crops in Hawaii in 1956 was 310,577 acres, or 7.5% of the total land area. Much rangeland is used for beef cattle production.

The chief agricultural products are sugar, pineapples, coffee, fruits and vegetables. Sugar production is the chief industry of the Islands. The crop takes from 18 to 24 months to mature and only a part of it can be harvested each season. In 1958, 221,700 acres were in sugar cane, which provided employment for about 20,000 persons on plantations and in the mills. Sugar produced in 1958 amounted to 764,953 tons, valued at $105,000,000.

The second largest industry is the growing and canning of pineapples, one of the canneries being the largest fruit preserving plant in the world. In 1958, about 74,800 acres were in pineapples, providing year-round and seasonal employment for about 22,000 persons on plantations and in the canneries. The total pineapple pack for the fiscal year ending (6-31-59), amounted to 27,270,000 cases, total marketings, $124,000,000; which included products packed in prior years.

IMPORTS AND EXPORTS

Almost all of the trade of Hawaii is with the Mainland. Imports in 1958 totaled $460,000,000, while exports totaled $251,000,000.

Chief of the exports in 1958 were sugar, pineapples (fresh, canned, juice), and coffee.

FISHERIES

The commercial fish landings for the state during the fiscal year 1959 totaled 16,570,000 lbs., valued at $3,179,000 to the fishermen. Among important species caught are big-eyed tuna, black swordfish, striped swordfish and aku.

SHIPPING

During the fiscal year ending June 30, 1959, a total of 1,243 overseas vessels entered Honolulu harbor. Cargo for this port alone totaled 3,001,725 tons incoming and 1,000,057 outgoing. The Honolulu International Airport is the center of air transportation in the Pacific and the fourth busiest in the nation.

MISCELLANEOUS

Tourism, Hawaii's third basic industry, has increased by 11-fold since 1940. Visitors in 1960 staying overnight or longer total approximately 296,517, spent approximately $131,000,000.

Hawaii has over 2,200 miles of roads, of which about 1,600 miles are paved. Motor vehicles registered (Sept. 1961, est.), 246,000. The Islands are well served by boat and air transportation. On 6-30-59, there were 70 banks, including branches, with total assets of $666,137,935. The principal banks and their branches have both commercial and savings departments. Number of post offices (1960), 83. The number of telephones (1-1-61), 240,900. Number of retail stores (1958), 4,760; sales, $521,877,000.

Value of mineral production (1958), $6,298,000. Principal minerals in order of value: stone, sand and gravel, pumice, lime.

IOWA

Population 2,757,537 (U. S. Census, 1960)

State Capital, DES MOINES

Iowa is bounded on the north by Minnesota, east by the Mississippi River which separates it from Wisconsin and Illinois, south by Missouri and west by the Missouri and Little Sioux Rivers which separate it from Nebraska and South Dakota. Its extreme length from north to south is 300 miles; its breadth 300 miles; total land area 56,045 square miles.

The distinguishing feature of Iowa is its fertile prairies. Nearly all parts of the state are gently rolling, without mountains or very high hills, but with frequent bluffs along the streams. In richness of soil and in the percentage of land subject to cultivation, it is probably unsurpassed by any other state. The valleys of the Red Cedar, Iowa and Des Moines Rivers are particularly productive. Transportation is highly developed with numerous railways and a large volume of traffic on the Mississippi and Missouri. The climate is one of extremes of heat and cold, and of dry winters and wet summers. The Weather Bureau at Des Moines gives the temperature (annual monthly mean) at 49.5; highest degree on record 110; lowest —30; total annual precipitation, 32.04 inches.

Along educational lines Iowa is one of the country's leading states. Some of its many colleges are: The University of Iowa, located at Iowa City; Iowa State Teachers' College, at Cedar Falls. The College of Agriculture at Ames is noted in its field, being recognized especially for its scientific investigation and original research.

KANSAS

Population 2,178,611 (U. S. Census, 1960)

State Capital, TOPEKA

Kansas is bounded on the north by Nebraska, east by Missouri, south by Oklahoma, and west by Colorado and is in almost the exact geographical center of the United States mainland. Its breadth from east to west is 410 miles, and from north to south, 207 miles. Its total area is 82,108 square miles.

Topography of Kansas is widely varied ranging from 686 feet above sea level to 4,135 feet near the Colorado border in a combination of hills, valleys and plains. The Flint Hills area and the Smoky Hills Upland are two of the fine grazing areas in the United States. There are about 50,000 streams large enough to be named and about 90 man-made reservoirs and lakes ranging up to 6,600 acres in size. The climate is warm in summer and severe in winter. The extremes are constantly modified by the winds. The Weather Bureau at Wichita gives the temperature (annual monthly mean) as 56.6; highest on record, 114; lowest on record, -22. Total annual precipitation is 30.26 inches.

The livestock market, and meat-packing industry, at Kansas City, Kansas, is the second largest in the world, being exceeded only by that of Chicago, Illinois. Kansas is one of the greatest cattle producing states in the Union, and nearly half the cattle received at its stockyards come from the state. It produces as much as half the nation's supply of hard winter wheat some seasons. There are about 45 colleges including two state universities: University of Kansas at Lawrence; State College of Agriculture at Manhattan.

KENTUCKY

Population 3,038,156 (U. S. Census 1960)

State Capital, FRANKFORT

Kentucky is bounded on the north by Ohio and Indiana, northwest by Illinois, east by West Virginia and Virginia, south by Tennessee and west by Missouri. Its greatest breadth from east to west is 409 miles; greatest length, 178 miles; land area, 39,864 square miles.

The Appalachian Mountains cross the eastern end of the state and many hills dot the rich and fertile tablelands. Northwest of this section, and in the center of the state, is the famous and productive blue grass region, with a gently undulating upland surface and deep valleys at the rivers. Between the Green and Cumberland Rivers the surface is level and known as the "Barrens," from the scarcity of heavy timber. The western part is generally level, with slight undulations. The soil of the whole state is remarkably fertile; that part between Lexington and the Ohio River is known as the "Garden of Kentucky." More than 800 miles of Kentucky soil borders on the Ohio and Mississippi Rivers, and there are other navigable rivers in the state. The Weather Bureau at Louisville gives the temperature (annual monthly mean) as 57.0; highest on record, 107; lowest on record, -20. Total annual precipitation is 42.49 inches.

Kentucky has long been famed for its horses, its thoroughbreds being excelled nowhere. It is especially noted, too, for its underground passages and caves. Most celebrated of these is Mammoth Cave, which has about 150 miles of connecting passages. It is now a National Park.

The largest of the state's many institutions of higher education is The University of Kentucky, located in Lexington. The University of Louisville, in Louisville, is the oldest municipal university in the United States.

LOUISIANA

Population 3,257,022 (U. S. Census, 1960)

State Capital, BATON ROUGE

Louisiana is bounded on the north by Arkansas and Mississippi, east by Mississippi and the Gulf of Mexico, south by the Gulf of Mexico, and west by Texas. Its extreme breadth from east to west is about 300 miles; length, 240 miles; total land area, 45,162 square miles.

The surface is generally low and level. There are low hills in the north and northwest, from which the land slopes gradually to the Mississippi and the Gulf. Much of the land along the river is below the water level during the spring freshets, and is protected from overflow by levees, which are built on both banks below Baton Rouge, and on the west bank, throughout the state. Many of the principal rivers and bayous are protected in like manner so that but a small portion of the land is subject to overflow. The soil of the river bottoms is exceedingly fertile and is almost entirely silt brought down by the Mississippi River. It yields large crops of cotton, sugar cane and rice. The prairies are productive and afford good pasture in places. The hilly section yields good cotton crops, but about half is covered with pine barrens. The climate is semi-tropical, very warm and moist in summer with little cold weather in winter. The Weather Bureau at New Orleans gives the temperature (annual monthly mean) as 69.6; highest on record, 102; lowest on record, 7. Total annual precipitation averages more than 56 inches.

On account of the great extent of navigable waters, of which the state has 4,800 miles, and the network of railroads penetrating every part of the state, the products of Louisiana's fields, mines, factories and fisheries are readily and rapidly moved, and none of the state's resources need be neglected for lack of transportation facilities. New Orleans is the leading city and an important port. This city is famous as a winter resort and has many historical attractions as well as picturesqueness. Tulane University is located in New Orleans. Louisiana State University, Baton Rouge, is the state's largest institution of higher learning.

MAINE

Population 969,265 (U. S. Census, 1960)

State Capital, AUGUSTA

Maine, largest of the New England states, is bounded on the north by Quebec and New Brunswick, Canada, east by New Brunswick, south by the Atlantic Ocean, and west by New Hampshire and Quebec. Its extreme length is 301 miles; its width varies greatly because of the many shore indentations. The total land area is 31,040 square miles.

The northern part is mainly a wilderness of forest land with coniferous trees and mountainous elevation, thinly peopled, except in the fertile tracts of Aroostook county. In the northeast, on the St. John River, are several French Canadian settlements. The southern part is varied, the surface seldom much broken. It has tracts of great fertility, and others, especially in the southeast, that are only moderately productive. The climate is cold in winter; mild in summer. The Weather Bureau at Eastport gives the temperature (annual monthly mean) as 41.8; highest degree on record, 93; lowest, —23. Total annual precipitation is 43.24 inches.

Maine is a fishing, hunting and summer resort of great popularity. Portland, the chief port, has a large steamer tourist traffic in addition to its extensive trade in freight. The state has about 1,300 wooded islands. On one of them, Mt. Desert, are Acadia National Park, and a notable summer colony. Higher education is provided by eight colleges, four teachers colleges, a theological seminary and a Maritime academy. The University of Maine, the largest, is located at Orono.

MARYLAND

State Capital, ANNAPOLIS

Maryland is bounded on the north by Pennsylvania, east and southeast by Delaware and the Atlantic Ocean, west by West Virginia, and south and southwest by Virginia, West Virginia and the District of Columbia. The Chesapeake Bay divides the greater portion of it into two unequal parts, known as the Eastern and Western Shores. Its extreme width from east to west on its northern border is 198 miles, and, following the course of the Potomac River, varies from 3 or 4 miles, to about 129 miles. Its land area is 9,881 square miles.

The surface of the Eastern Shore is mostly level, in parts low and swampy, but towards the north, rocky and broken. The Western Shore, between the Potomac River and Chesapeake Bay, presents mainly the same general features. The northwest is very mountainous; five or six ridges of the Alleghenies, principally the Blue and Laurel, traversing it. In the extreme west are the beautiful elevated valleys, or "glades." The mountain slopes are thickly wooded. The soil of the Eastern Shore and Southern Maryland is alluvial, classed as silt and sandy loam, while the soils of the central and northern parts are made up for the most part of loams and silt loams. The Weather Bureau at Baltimore gives the temperature (annual monthly mean) as 55.4; highest on record, 105; lowest on record, —7. Total annual precipitation is 42.56 inches.

Water and rail transportation are highly developed. Maryland's commerce is confined chiefly to Baltimore, one of the principal ports of the country, and one whose trade is extremely heavy. The Potomac River and Chesapeake Bay are navigable for large vessels, and many smaller rivers and bays are accessible for vessels of light draft. The United States Naval Academy is located at Annapolis; the University of Maryland at College Park. Johns Hopkins University at Baltimore is internationally famous, and its hospital receives patients from all over the world.

MASSACHUSETTS

Population 5,148,578 (U. S. Census, 1960)

State Capital, BOSTON

Massachusetts is bounded on the north by Vermont and New Hampshire, east by the Atlantic Ocean, south by the Atlantic Ocean and by Rhode Island and Connecticut and west by New York. Its extreme breadth is 160 miles, its length from 47 to 90 miles; land area, 7,867 square miles.

The surface is greatly diversified: mountainous in the extreme west, hilly and broken in the east and northeast, and in the southeast, mainly low and sandy. Toward the west is the fertile valley of the Connecticut River. The mountains are the Taconic and the Hoosac (continuations of the Green Mountain ranges of Vermont) with detached members of the White Mountains. The Weather Bureau at Boston gives the temperature (annual monthly mean) as 50.7; highest on record, 104; lowest on record, —18. Total annual precipitation is 38.76 inches.

The state has abundant rail and coastwise shipping facilities. The Cape Cod Canal, an eight-mile cut, 25 feet deep, between Buzzards Bay and Sandwich, enables coasting vessels to avoid the long trip around Cape Cod peninsula and shortens the distance between Boston and New York by over 70 miles. The North Shore above Boston, Cape Cod and the "hill towns" west of the Connecticut River are popular summer resorts, the valley of the Housatonic, in Berkshire county, having hundreds of summer residences belonging to wealthy citizens of New York, Boston and other large cities. Massachusetts is the third densest populated state in the Union, having 545.9 persons to the square mile. It is a leading center of the American shoe, leather, wool and paper trades. Boston, Quincy, Newburyport and Salem lead in shipbuilding interests. Boston is one of the greatest fishing ports in the country.

There are a great many colleges in the state, including some of the country's most famous, for both men and women. Harvard University, the oldest in the country, is located at Cambridge, as is the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Nearly all of Massachusetts is rich in historical interest. At Provincetown, in 1620, the Mayflower made the first landing, going from there to Plymouth.

MINNESOTA

Population 3,413,864 (U. S. Census, 1960)

State Capital, ST. PAUL

Minnesota is bounded on the north by Ontario and Manitoba, Canada, east by Wisconsin and Lake Superior, south by Iowa, and west by North and South Dakota. Its extreme length from north to south is 380 miles, its breadth varies from 183 miles, in the center, to 262 on the south and 330 on the north borders. Its land area is 80,009 square miles. It is a state of wide natural resources and rapidly developing wealth.

The surface is generally undulating and diversified with plains, timber belts and extensive prairies dotted with lakes and groves. The northeast is generally hilly, has great deposits of iron ore, and was formerly entirely covered with immense forests. Much of the salable pine has been cut, but there is a vast quantity of valuable timber, both pine and hardwood, still standing. This region also contains innumerable lakes, abounding in fish and affording popular summer resorts. In the southeast there is a beautiful rolling region, heavily wooded, and from it the surface rises gradually to the Hauteur de Terres or Heights of Land in the northwest. The climate is particularly healthful, and extremely favorable to the growth of vegetation, especially grain crops. The Weather Bureau of Minneapolis gives the temperature (annual monthly mean) as 44.5; highest degree on record as 108; lowest —34. Total annual precipitation is 27.66 inches.

The state's shipping, both by water and rail, is immense. The Great Lakes, with Duluth as an advantageously located port, provide an excellent waterway to the Atlantic, and railroads branch in every direction. Minneapolis is the largest cash grain market in the world and second only to Chicago as a grain future market. There is in operation a very efficient school system. The University of Minnesota, is one of the great universities of the country. It is located at Minneapolis.

MISSISSIPPI

Population 2,178,141 (U. S. Census, 1960)

State Capital, JACKSON

Mississippi is bounded on the north by Tennessee, east by Alabama, south by the Gulf of Mexico and Louisiana and west by the Mississippi River, which separates it from Louisiana and Arkansas. Its extreme length from north to south is 332 miles; average breadth, 142 miles. Its land area is 47,248 square miles.

The surface is generally hilly except in the Mississippi delta area, from Vicksburg to the Tennessee line and between the Mississippi and Yazoo Rivers, where there is some of the most fertile soil in the world, particularly suited to growing cotton, rice and other agricultural products. Below Vicksburg the surface for some miles inland is hilly and known as the "cane hills" or "bluffs" and has a generally productive soil. There is another particularly fertile prairie region in the northeast where one of the chief products, alfalfa, produces from three to five heavy crops each year. The southern part is chiefly a level pine region and furnishes good pasturage and quantities of timber and tar and turpentine. The soil of this tract, although sandy, is with fertilization, particularly adapted to truck farming. The forest wealth of the state is extensive and it ranks third among the states as a producer of cotton. The climate and production are subtropical. The Weather Bureau at Vicksburg gives the temperature (annual monthly mean) as 65.6; highest degree on record, 104; lowest, —1. Total annual precipitation, 51.93 inches.

Plantation life in this primarily agricultural state is being changed by industrial development. Transportation is supplied by rail lines and the Mississippi River. The largest institutions of higher education are the University of Mississippi, in University; Mississippi State University, in State College, and Mississippi Southern College, in Hattiesburg.

MISSOURI

State Capital, JEFFERSON CITY

Missouri is bounded on the north by Iowa, east by Illinois, Kentucky and Tennessee, south by Arkansas, west by Oklahoma, Kansas and Nebraska. Its length, north to south, is 277 miles; its average breadth about 244 miles, ranging from 208 miles in the north to 312 miles in the south. Its land area is 69,226 square miles.

The Missouri River flows across the state from west to east just north of the center. The surface north of the river is generally level, while that south of it is undulating, becoming rougher as it approaches the Ozark Mountains. There are also open, treeless plains, an extension of those in Kansas; and in the southeast, bordering on the Mississippi River, there is an extensive marshy tract called the "Sunk County," the result of the earthquake of 1811-12. Plans have been made to reclaim the lands along the Mississippi and Missouri Rivers and their tributaries by levees along the great rivers by drainage canals in the valleys of the smaller ones. The climate varies from north temperate to sub-tropical. The Weather Bureau at St. Louis, gives the temperature (annual monthly mean) as 56.2; highest degree on record, 110; lowest, —22. Total annual precipitation, 38.98 inches.

With about 500 miles of waterfront on the Mississippi and with the Missouri traversing it from west to east, the state has fully 1,000 miles of navigable waterways. St. Louis is a center for travel and for extensive freight traffic carried on by air, rail and by river, the famous bridge across the Mississippi accommodating more freight cars than any other span in the world. Eighteen trunk lines afford rail transportation. The city is the gateway for north and south tourist travel as well as freight traffic. The stock yards and meat-packing plants at Kansas City have gained world-wide fame. The Bagnell Dam across the Osage River in the Ozarks forms one of the largest artificial lakes in the world and floods about 60,000 acres. It is part of an enormous hydro-electrical development designed to supply power to St. Louis, Kansas City and elsewhere.

Educationally the state ranks exceedingly high. In addition to the University of Missouri, at Columbia, it has many colleges and universities, besides many professional and technological schools and teachers' colleges.

Montana is bounded on the north by Saskatchewan and Alberta, Canada, east by North and South Dakota, south by Wyoming and Idaho and West by Idaho. Its breadth, east to west is about 540 miles; length, about 280 miles; land area, 145,878 square miles, including 240 square miles of Yellowstone National Park, rank in area, fourth.

The Rocky Mountains occupy the western two-fifths of the state's area; east of them the country forms part of the "Great Plains." The Missouri River is navigable for boats as far as Fort Benton. The Yellowstone River is navigable during high water. The lowest altitude is 1,800 feet about sea level, while Granite Peak in Carbon County reaches a height of 12,350 feet. The climate is dry, healthful and invigorating. The Weather Bureau at Helena gives the temperature (annual monthly mean) as 41.5; highest on record, 103; lowest on record, -42; total annual precipitation as 11.55 inches. Irrigation has been highly developed, and immense reservoirs on the Madison and Missouri Rivers are sources of water supply. As a result, standard fruits of the Temperate Zone have been produced in large quantities.

Montana, with its vast expanse of mountain country, its 500 lakes and fishing streams, its thousands of miles of winding mountain roads, its national forests, dude ranches, mountain hotels and tourist camp resorts, affords unequalled recreational advantages. Glacier National Park, extending to the Canadian border line, is one of the most wonderful public parks in the world. Montana State University is located at Missoula.
